A majority of the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING APPOINTMENT OF COMMISSION TO INQUIRE INTO THE LAWS RELATING TO COAL MINING IN ENGLAND, FRANCE AND BELGIUM AND TO RECOMMEND NEEDED LEGISLATION RELATING THERETO.

He also presented extracts from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which were twice read, as follows, and referred to the Committee on Mines and Mining.

In the House of Representatives, May 8, 1911.

Whereas, The State of Pennsylvania is the oldest in coal production of any of the coal producing States in the American Union and prides herself on her laws for the protection of human life under ground, which has been proved lax and inefficient in many instances involving great loss of life as was the case in the Irwin shaft and many other disasters, including the late tragedy at the Pancoast mine near Throop, Pa., and

Whereas, Statistics show that in Belgium, France, England and other European countries, their coal is mined under greater disadvantages including deeper shafts thinner veins of coal, more gas and older workings, the loss of life is not so great and

Whereas, An applicant for the position of mine or assistant mine boss is compelled by law to undergo an examination and secure a State certificate ere he can be employed in such positions under the law whilst his superior, the General Manager, as Superintendent, who directs the management of the mine is not obliged to submit to an examination of any kind is one of those omissions of the law for which a thinking man cannot offer any adequate reason and inasmuch as the position of mine inspector in many instances is regarded by thinking men as a sort of a political asset that might be more properly termed a Bureau of Inquest, rather than a Bureau of Mines, and

Whereas, It is apparent to thoughtful men that our mining laws are sadly out of "gear" and need revision and amendment such as will secure a greater degree of safety to the man who toils under ground,

Therefore, be it resolved, the Senate concurring, that His Excellency, the Governor, be hereby authorized to name and appoint a commission consisting of five members who are known as practical coal men of well known reputation to inquire into the laws relating to coal mining in England, France and Belgium, and after fair comparisons have been mads as the laws and methods in vogue there and here to recommend such needed legislation as in their judgment they may deem wise and expedient and that said contemplated members of such commission shall in no way be interested or affiliated in any way with coal producing companies

And that for and in consideration of the services to be rendered by said commission the sum of $6,000 is herewith appropriated, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

ARTICLE XIX

Definition and Repeal

Section 1 The term "cities of the third class" shall include only

First All cities of the proper population which have been incorporated under the provisions of an Act of Assembly entitled "An Act dividing cities of this State into three classes regulating the passage of ordinances providing for contracts for supplies and work for said cities authorizing the increase of indebtedness and the creation of a sinking fund to redeem the same defining and providing certain offenses in all of said cities and providing for the incorporation and government of the cities of third class" approved the twenty-third day of May one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four which may hereafter be incorporated under the provisions of this Act

Second All cities of the proper population which have accepted the provisions of said Act of the twenty-third day of May one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four in the manner prescribed in the fifty-seventh section thereof

Third All other cities of the proper population only from and after the date of their acceptance of the provisions of the said Act of twenty-third day of May one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four in the manner prescribed in the fifth section thereof

Section 2 No right or interest which has become vested under acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith or supplied by the provisions shall be destroyed or impaired by the operation of this Act or by the exercise of any power granted therein All officers of each of said cities of the third class in office at the date of approval shall except where otherwise herein provided continue to hold their offices for the term for which they were respectively elected but all ordinances of any of said cities heretofore legally passed not inconsistent with such provisions are hereby made valid and shall be and remain in full force and virtue until altered or repealed

Section 3 It shall be the duty of the council of every city of the third class forthwith to pass such ordinances in accordance with the provisions of this Act as may be necessary to carry into effect the requirements thereof

Section 4 All Acts of Assembly or parts of Acts relating to cities of the third class not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act shall be and remain in full force and all Acts and parts of Acts general special or local appertaining to the subject matter covered by this Act so far as they are inconsistent with the provisions thereof be and the same are hereby repealed except that nothing in this Act shall be interpreted to repeal abridge or in any way effect the provisions of an act approved the twenty-second day of April Anno Domini nineteen hundred and five entitled "An Act to preserve the purity of the water of the State for the protection of the public health"

And said bill having been read at length the third time and agreed to

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HERBST. Mr. President, I would request that the Senator who introduced this bill briefly state the gist of the bill. As far as I can understand it, it provides for the commission form of government for cities of the third class, and I think, Mr. President, that the Senator from Erie, Mr. Clark, who introduced this bill, should briefly explain it. There are quite a number of Senators from third class cities who would like to vote intelligently.

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, the Senator has asked for some explanation of this bill. The bill has been in cold storage since February 3d, and has been before this body three or four times. It has been carefully considered, reported out, recommitted and re-reported. It originally provided more than it now contains. In the first place it provided for the initiative and referendum and recall and the non-partisan ballot. All that is left of the bill is the body of the municipal law that is now upon the statute book, amended so that the commission form of government may be engrafted into the body of the law. There have not been any changes of any essential effect in the body of the law, excepting to have the commission form of government adopted.

Briefly, this bill has been drawn up with a great deal of care by the best legal talent of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Every single section of it has been carefully considered and all that is sought to be done by the bill now is to put the transaction of business in the municipalities upon a business basis by the reduction of the number of councilmen to five; the elimination of the wards by electing them at large. The provision of continuous service and a recommendation of, I think it is the Scriptural passage, "that the workman is worthy of his hire," putting them upon a salary, so that it will enable men to go to the body known as the council and have their complaints attended to without a great deal of delay. It has been tried in many states of this country—some twenty-five different states—and something like one hundred and fifty different cities, and wherever it has been tried it has never been abolished. I am speaking for those who have entrusted me with this bill.

I have read it very carefully. I spent some four days in the library to see that the acts of Assembly as now on the statute books were not mutilated, and that they were included here. I found some of the passages in the statutes that were not here. We amended the bill so that those statutes might be pertinent.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Less than a majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. WEINGARTNER. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 626, on third reading, entitled:

An act amending and supplementing article fourteen of an act entitled "An act for the government of cities of the second class" approved the seventh day of March Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and one as the same was amended and supplemented by an act approved the twentieth day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and one by providing for abolishing the present select and common councils and creating a new body to be known as the council fixing the terms of office and providing for the selection of members of the council and prescribing the qualifications of members thereof and the powers and duties of the council and fixing their salaries be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary Special.

Mr. JARRETT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HUNTER. Mr. President, I sincerely trust that this motion will not prevail. I would be very much displeased not to see a vote taken upon the bill to-night, and I don't know any reason why it should be recommitted.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, it seems to me that if the Senator from Lawrence, Mr. Weingartner, asks that this bill be recommitted for the purpose of further consideration, we ought to extend the usual courtesy to the Se ator.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consid eration of Senate Bill No. 626, entitled:

An act amending and supplementing article fourteen of an act e titled "An act for the government of cities of the second class" a proved the seventh day of March Anno Domini one thousand nine hu dred and one as the same was amended and supplemented by an a approved the twentieth day of June Anno Domini one thousand nin hundred and one by providing for abolishing the present select an common councils and creating a new body to be known as the counc fixing the terms of office and providing for the selection of membe of the council and prescribing the qualifications of members thereof an the powers and duties of the council and fixing their salaries

And said bill having been read at length the third time and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINGARTNER. Mr. President, I had hoped tha this bill might go back to committee or might go over i order that the Senators and I myself might familiariz ourselves with some of the provisions of this act. To me Mr. President, this is one of the most important measure that will be enacted or that we will act upon at this sessi of the Legislature. It is proposed in this measure, Mr President, to practically change the system of govern ment of the second largest city of this Commonwealth not with little or immaterial changes, but to practicall revolutionize the system of government of cities of th second class. This bill has only been before this body i committee for a short time. We have other measures pend ing along this same line. There is no question, Mr. Presi dent, that the city of that class in the western end of th State needs some kind of a remedial legislation. What i is, I don't know. Being reasonably close to that city, naturally take some interest in their affairs. Whether thi bill will better their condition. I know not. Pittsburg Mr. President, I take it, has been greatly maligned, b not only the press but the people of the country, but I d not think the Legislature of Pennsylvania ought to say t the City of Pittsburg that you cannot govern yourself, an that, Mr. President, is what we propose to do in this mea sure. This measure proposes, Mr. President, to abolish th councils and establish a commission form of government to which under certain conditions, I would not object; bu I think, Mr. President, that the citizens of the City o Pittsburg, if they desire a commission form of governmen are amply qualified and able, even with all the abuse tha has been heaped upon that city, to elect that commissio from among their constituents; but it is proposed her that for more than two and a half years—for more tha two and a half years—that the citizens of Pittsburg sha have no say in the levying of the taxes in that city no in the expenditure of their money, for the legislative bod for second class cities is by the provisions of this ac to be appointed by the Governor of the Commonwealt and to serve for a period of more than two years and half. Therefore, Mr. President, I had hoped that thi measure might go over, and that the citizens backing othe forms of government, the Pittsburg people backing othe plans, the people might get together and tha this session of the Legislature might give to cities o the second class some character of legislation that woul enable them to properly govern themselves, and get wha they want. So, Mr. President, there is no alternative fo me under this proposition but to vote against the bill.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, I heartily concur in a that the Senator from Lawrence, Mr. Weingartner, has sai and I wish to say that I am necessarily opposed to thi bill, not because it is particularly vicious legislation, i other than the appointive feature, but it is very unwise an foolish to pass this bill at this time. It is the old case o the child crying for bread and trying to give him a ston or the Hebrew starving for meat and giving him pork. I will not satisfy anybody.

Mr. HUNTER. Mr. President, I can fully agree wit the Senator from Lawrence, Mr. Weingartner, that th City of Pittsburg has been much maligned, but it is un necessary to go into details on that question at this time but I may say that for that very reason it has becom necessary to introduce legislation of this character at thi me, and it really surprises me to think that there would be member of this body from the vicinity of Pittsburg that ould oppose this legislation except it be for political rea-ons. I am free to say to the gentleman of the Senate, r. President, that if this bill becomes a law that the ap-pintments to be made by the Governor will in twelve or fteen months assure the citizens of Pittsburg, yes and the alance of this State, that this legislation was of the ost wise character. In other words, it seems to be the ly means by which we can certainly and surely cure the ils that now exist in our city, and I trust that this bill ill pass.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, I am opposed to this bill r political reasons. These political reasons are that the eople in my district, the district that I represent inside f the City of Pittsburg, the Eleventh, Twelfth, Thirteenth nd Fourteenth Wards, over seventy-five per cent. of them re opposed to this measure, and are in favor of the Pitts-urg Charter plan. I have in my desk now five thousand quests to vote for the Charter plan, and I consider the quests, and I have yet to find one of those people who is favor of this measure, and therefore my reasons are the est political reasons possible. I am here representing ose four wards, and I am opposed to the measure.

Mr. WILBERT. Mr. President, I did not intend to say nything on this measure, but when I hear my colleagues lking of Pittsburg being a corrupt city, I am really sur-rised at my colleagues. I must say that the City of Pitts-urg is one of the best governed cities in the country to-ay, and I defy contradiction. We have one A Leo Weil, ho came before the Legislature here, and I want to say hat the remarks made by that gentleman were unbecoming ny man, and I might say that there are people in my earing affiliated with the crowd that are with him that ave been instrumental in giving Pittsburg the name it has een given and I could mention names if necessary and go ack a few years. I do not propose to do anything of that ind. I am not here to vilify anybody, but I do not pro-ose to vote for this legislation, but I will uphold the rec-rd of my city in spite of all.

An act providing for the purchase by this Commonwealth of the land upon which Fort Washington Cumberland county was constructed and its preservation by this Commonwealth as a memorial of the high water-mark of the war between the States and making an appropriation therefor

Whereas The Confederate forces under General Robert E Lee in the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three made a raid into the State of Pennsylvania and the skirmishers of his army reached a point within three miles of the city of Harrisburg and were driven back which skirmish was the high-water mark of the War of the Rebellion

And whereas hastily constructed intrenchments were thrown up on a bluff on the opposite side of the Susquehanna river from the city of Harrisburg in Cumberland county called Fort Washington and troops were rushed there to repel the invader and save the Capital City of the State from possible capture and destruction which happily was accomplished and the invasion culminated in the battle of Gettysburg a few weeks later

And whereas after the flight of nearly fifty years these intrenchments are practically intact and are a silent reminder of the cannon that once crowned them and the brave men who rallied to the defense of the Capitol of the State when it was in grave peril

And whereas to the end that the land upon which this fort was located may be preserved for all time as a historic spot and destined in the years to come to occupy a place in the annals of this Commonwealth Therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the Governor is hereby authorized and directed to appoint a Commission who shall serve without compensation to be composed of three citizens of this Commonwealth one of whom shall be a resident of Dauphin County and one a resident of Cumberland County whose duty it shall be to purchase in the name of this Commonwealth the land in Cumberland County opposite the City of Harrisburg upon which during the War between the States Fort Washington was constructed and to take such steps from time to time as shall be necessary to preserve said Fort Washington as a memorial of the high-water mark of the said war Upon any vacancy occurring in such commission from any cause the Governor may fill such vacancy subject to the conditions aforesaid In the event of the neglect or refusal of any such member to perform any duty herein prescribed such member may be removed by the Governor and the vacancy thus caused shall be filled as aforesaid

Section 2 To carry out the purposes of this act the sum of twenty thousand dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated All payments made hereunder shall be upon warrant of the Auditor General under such conditions as to title of the land and method of payment therefor as he may prescribe.

RESOLUTION.

RELATIVE TO APPOINTMENT OF COMMISSION TO INVEST COAL MINING CONDITIONS IN EUROPE.

Whereas The State of Pennsylvania is the oldest in coal p tion of any of the coal producing states in the American Unio prides herself on her laws for the protection of human life under which has been proven lax and inefficient in many instances inv great loss of life as was the case in the Irwin shaft and many disasters including the late tragedy at the Pancost mine near Pennsylvania and

Whereas Statistics show that in Belgium France England and European countries their coal is mined under greater disadvanta cluding deeper shafts thinner veins of coal more gas and older ings the loss of life is not so great and

Whereas An applicant for the position of mine or assistant boss is compelled by law to undergo an examination and se state certificate ere he can be employed in such positions und law whilst his superior the General Manager as Superintenden directs the management of the mine is not obliged to submit examination of any kind is one of those omissions of the law for a thinking man cannot offer any adequate reason and inasmuch position of mine inspector in many instances is regarded by th men as a sort of a political asset that might be more properly a Bureau of Inquest rather than a Bureau of Mines and

Whereas It is apparent to thoughtful men that our mining la sadly out of "gear" and need revision and amendment such secure a greater degree of safety to the man who toils undergro

Therefore be it resolved the Senate concurring that His Exce the Governor be hereby authorized to name and appoint a comr consisting of five members who are known as practical coal men of well known reputation to inquire into the laws relating to coal mining in England France and Belgium and after fair comparisons have been made as the laws and methods in vogue there and here to recommend such needed legislation as in their judgment they may deem wise and expedient and that said contemplated members of such commission shall in no way be interested or affiliated in any way with coal producing companies

And that for and in consideration of the services to be rendered by said commission the sum of six thousand dollars, is herewith appropriated or so much thereof as may be necessary

Mr. HOBBS. Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentlemna from Lackawanna, Mr. Hobbs.

Mr. HOBBS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer a motion.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the motion.

The Clerk read the motion as follows:

MOTION TO PLACE BILL ON CALENDAR.

Moved that House Bill No. 814 file folio 4599 entitled

An act fixing the maximum amount of campaign expenses of any candidate for a salaried office in this Commonwealth at any election and the preceding primary be placed on the calendar notwithstanding the negative recommendation of the Committee

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. HOBBS. Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Hobbs.

Mr. HOBBS. Mr. Speaker and fellow members of the House: It is my desire to speak briefly upon this subject. First, because I have been informed that the reason why this bill was reported with a negative recommendation was because it does not contain any penalty clause or section. This does not appeal to me as being a reasonable excuse, as a committee has power to amend a bill if they think best, and, in many instances, do so, and if they do not, it is a very easy matter to amend on second reading if a majority of the members are agreeable. If this bill is placed upon the calendar, as I sincerely believe it should be, it is my intention to offer an amendment by adding section two, which will include a penalty clause. Now, if this be the reason why the committee did not report favorably upon this bill, and seeing how the defect may be remedied, they will not oppose having it placed upon the calendar.

Secondly, and more important, I want to touch upon the merits of the proposition. There is no one thing that has caused more trouble, created more corruption, and interfered more seriously with the progress of good government than has the excessive use of money in political campaigns. In fact, I believe it is at the foundation of all political corruption, for "the love of money is the root of all evil." The very principles upon which our government was founded would exclude the use of money as a means to obtain political office, for it was the intention of our forefathers that the people should select their public officials without any undue influence or inducements. But it is too true that these principles have been grossly ignored in many instances, through anxiety to be elected and dishonest motives to hold office. Without any restrictions as to the amount of money that may be used in political campaigns, wealthy individuals and corporations have the unfair advantage over the majority of the people and individuals of moderate means, and in some localities the poor man stands no show whatever of success, notwithstanding the fact that he may be just as well, or better, qualified for the position. Without casting any reflection upon the man of wealth, it is my opinion that as a rule the interests of our state and the welfare of our people will be better conserved and protected by the man who comes from the mines, the shop or the farm, than by the man of wealth and leisure. Please do not misunderstand me, for there are no doubt many individuals of means who are all right and worthy, but let them gain position by merit, rather than by the use of money. Let us adhere to the doctrine of "Equal privileges for all and special favors for none." There was just one instance which took place in this state at the June primary of last year, which ought to convince every man in this House of the necessity for a law of this kind, when one Joseph Sibley spent over forty-two thousand dollars to secure the nomination for Congress, and later had to withdraw his name from the ticket because of failing health. Gentlemen, this is not a matter of one political party, but applies to different parties, for I know of one man who was elected State Senator, and a Democrat at that, whose expense account amounted to over five thousand dollars. Think of it, five thousand dollars for a three thousand dollar office. While there are probably rare exceptions when a rich man desires to round out the career of his life by being elevated to a high political position, that his name may go down in history and to posterity as a great man in behalf of his country, who has spent a large amount of money to accomplish his purpose. Yet I sincerely believe that as a rule the man who buys his way into public office will steal his way out if he has an opportunity, and we are told that they sometimes have the opportunity. Gentlemen of the House, this is one of the much-needed reforms connected with our political system. Many a man has been ruined and has brought disgrace and poverty upon himself and family by putting his last dollar into the campaign and even borrowing money for the same purpose, only to go down to defeat on election day, and soon after to be visited by the sheriff, and you know the rest. It would not be so serious if the candidate were the only one to suffer, but the innocent ones, the wife and children are included. Where the competition is close, which is true in many districts, there is an incentive to put just a little more money in, and the fellow on the other side feels the same way, so they put their hands deeper into their pockets and hand out the stuff. There are always a lot of ward heelers and suckers hanging around headquarters ready to give information to candidates as to what is needed and how it can be arranged to increase the vote from certain localities, but in order to accomplish results, they must have a little cash. Now, if for no other reason, would it not be a good thing for the candidate or his manager to be able to say that under the law he is limited and therefore cannot comply with the request. In conclusion, Mr. Speaker and gentleman of the House, I desire to say that a negative vote on this proposition would be in favor of extravagance, dishonesty, bribery and corruption, consequently, bad government. A vote to place this bill on the calendar will put this honorable body on record as standing for economy, honesty, patriotism, a square deal and good government. Not only should this bill be placed on the calendar, but it should pass both branches of this State Legislature and receive the signature of his excellency, the Governor, to become effective at once before another campaign shall take place, and thereby help to remedy one of the greatest evils connected with our political system.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to.

MOTION TO PLACE BILL ON CALENDAR.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Lawrence, Mr. Wallace.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up a motion made by me on last Monday night to place upon the calendar civil service bill, entitled:

An act to regulate and improve the Civil Service of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and of the Counties therein having a population of one hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants or more and of the cities of the third class therein providing that the act shall take effect at once in so far as it relates to the Civil Service of the Commonwealth and that it shall take effect in so far as it relates to the Civil Service of any such county or city upon its acceptance by a vote of the people of such county or city making any violation of its provisions a misdemeanor and providing penalties for any violations thereof and that the Committee on Municipal Corporations be discharged from further consideration of the bill and that it be placed on the calendar notwithstanding the negative recommendation of the committee.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Lawrence, Mr. Wallace.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, this is the civil service bill which I believe is well known to most of the gentlemen of this House, who are more or less familiar with it. This bill has been in the hands of the Committee on Municipal Corporations since January 31st, and has been reported with a negative recommendation. You have before you a resolution asking to put this bill on the calendar notwithstanding the negative recommendation. I take exception to the gentleman from Philadelphia, and wish to state, notwithstanding the action of the committee, this is a matter of important legislation that a great many of the States have adopted. It has been in force in the United States for more than a half a century and while I would like very much to agree with your committee I feel that it is of such importance that it should be placed on our calendar notwithstanding the negative recommendation. Some of the greatest minds in this Federal Government, as well as in the State of Pennsylvania have considered this principle and they have gone on record as favoring the question of civil service reform as being one of the most needed things to advance good legislation and to put good men in public office. Gentlemen of this House, civil service is nothing more or less than good common sense exercised in the conduct of public matters. Away back in the time of Abraham Lincoln, when he was President of the United States, he found that it was necessary to advocate some kind of legislation like this, and only here in this House, as late as 1906, we find our fellow-member, Mr. Daniel J. Shern, standing on the floor of this House and pleading with his customary eloquence for the enactment of just such legislation as this. We have such legislation as this to-day that applies to first and second class cities. The great State of New York has a bill of this kind on its calendar, and has extended this kind of legislation to almost every municipality in that great State, and we have here in our adjoining little State of New Jersey such legislation as this. The great State of Massachusetts, as well as the great State of Illinois, have adopted civil service rules and have put this law on their statute books. I believe that this is legislation that is entitled to serious consideration. It is demanded by a great many people in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and it is of such importance that we should accord to it a place on our calendar and give it a fair and square hearing. I thank you kindly for your very courteous attention.

Mr. FAHEY. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Lawrence permit himself to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman allow himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALLACE. Yes, sir.

Mr. FAHEY. I would like to ask the gentleman from Lawrence if this bill has not been heard before the Municipal Corporations Committee on three or four different occasions, and on the first occasion when this hearing was held it lasted for some three hours?

Mr. WALLACE. That is true. We had a very eminent gentleman from the city of Washington here who spoke in favor of this measure, but I never knew of the committee considering any part of that bill or of any action that they took beyond the reading of the title on the two or three different occasions when they met.

Mr. FAHEY. The title of the bill was read with the full knowledge of the author of the bill.

Mr. WALLACE. The title of the bill was read; yes, sir.

Mr. FAHEY. We gave a three-hour hearing to this bill, and perhaps three more at other times to consider this bill. I will further state to the gentleman that the bill was taken up and given a full hearing and impartial hearing and then a subcommittee was appointed to whom it was referred. I will ask the gentleman if that is correct?

Mr. WALLACE. Yes, sir; there was a subcommittee appointed.

Mr. FAHEY. And there was another hearing?

Mr. WALLACE. Yes, sir.

Mr. KEISTER. I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. KEISTER. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that the gentleman is out of order when he states what has occurred in committee.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is not well taken.

Mr. FAHEY. Mr. Speaker, a third meeting was held on this bill and a subcommittee was appointed and they reported to the standing committee that in their judgment they urged postponement—indefinite postponement—to the standing committee, which was put to a motion and carried unanimously and the father of the bill raised no objection. Is not that correct?

Mr. WALLACE. That is correct.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman allow himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FAHEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to save the time of the House as much as possible

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

BILL ON SECOND READING.

Mr. E. E. JONES asked for and received unanimous consent to consider House Bill No. 265, file folio 5319, on page 50 of to-day's calendar, bills on second reading.

Agreeably to order.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 265, entitled:

An Act providing for the election and appointment of road supervisors in the several townships of the second class of this Commonwealth defining their duties authorizing them to make repairs and maintain roads and bridges let contracts for the same levy and collect taxes employ labor divide townships into districts appoint road masters and treasurer purchase road making implements and machines prescribing penalties for violation of this act and requiring the road supervisors to report to township auditors and to the State Highway Commissioner from time to time and for the payment of a percantage of road tax to townships abolishing work tax and for the repeal of all laws general local or special inconsistent herewith or supplied hereby and making an appropriation therefor

The first, second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth, tenth, eleventh, twelfth, thirteenth, fourteenth, fifteenth, sixteenth, seventeenth sections of the bill were separately read and agreed to as follows:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber,
Harrisburg, Pa., April 12, 1911
To the Honorable the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth
of Pennsylvania

Gentlemen I have the honor to advise you that I have this day approved and signed Concurrent Resolution from the Senate and House of Representatives recalling from the Governor for the purpose of amendment House bill number seventy-seven entitled "An Act relating to the adoption of adult persons as heirs"

JOHN K TENER

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 77.

Mr. MARVIN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill (House No. 77) passed finally be reconsidered.

Mr. DEARDEN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. MARVIN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. GRAYBILL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. MARVIN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend House bill seventy-seven file folio four thousand two hundred and thirty-three by striking out all of line two section two and inserting in lieu thereof the following "adoption shall make a decree that thenceforth such adult per-" also section three by striking out all of line two and inserting in lieu thereof the following "adopted shall be taken and deemed in law to be a child"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to insert the amendment as read? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

The bill as amended was then agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 292.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber,
Harrisburg, Pa., May 5, 1911
To the Honorable the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth
of Pennsylvania

Gentlemen I return herewith without my approval House Bill No. 292 entitled "A joint resolution to provide for the granting of brevet rank to surviving officers of Pennsylvania troops of the Civil War"

This bill provides that all surviving officers below the grade of lieutenant-colonel be presented with an appropriately executed commission of a complimentary or brevet rank two grades above the highest rank held by them during active service and all officers above the grade of lieutenant-colonel be breveted one grade above that held during active service

It is difficult to understand what the purpose to be accomplished by this resolution is as commissioned under its provisions would possess little or no value for the officers who should hold them Aside from this objection the resolution is defective for the reason that it excludes inadvertently evidently all commissioned officers of the grade of lieutenant-colonel and it further provides that the officers above the grade of lieutenant-colonel be breveted one grade above that held during active service The only grade above lieutenant-colonel is that of colonel and to advance a colonel one grade would be to confer the grade of brigadier general which can only be conferred in the regular army or volunteer forces of the United States by the President

For this reason the bill is not approved

JOHN K TENER

On the question,

Shall the bill become a law the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

VOTE OF HOUSE BILL NO. 46.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber,
Harrisburg, Pa., May 6, 1911

To the Honorable the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

Gentlemen I return herewith without my approval House Bill No. 46 entitled "An Act authorizing the erection and control of workhouses jointly by two or more counties of this Commonwealth and providing for commitments

The subject of this bill does not appear to be clearly expressed in its title as required by Article three section three of the Constitution The title of the bill refers to the erection and control of workhouses A perusal of the bill shows that it is intended to provide not only workhouses but for the setting apart a portion of the buildings for use as asylums for the insane and feeble-minded Aside from this objection the bill is defective for the reason that section five provides that the superintendent of the proposed workhouse may under the direction of the joint board or county commissioners remove any inmate to a lunatic asylum This language in effect would authorize the removal of an alleged insane person committed to a workhouse to an insane asylum without the necessary and proper investigation concerning the question of his sanity as now required by law

For this reason the bill is not approved

Mr. SHERN. Mr. Speaker, I desire at this time to call up House Bill No. 191 on page 8 of to-night's calendar, bills on final passage postponed for the present.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 191, entitled:

An act amending the seventh section of an act approved the twenty-sixth day of April Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five entitled "An act relating to corporations and to estates held for corporate religious and charitable uses" as amended by the first section of an act approved the second day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven entitled "An act supplementary to an act entitled 'An act relating to corporations and to estates held for corporate religious and charitable uses' approved April twenty-sixth Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five as amended by the first section of an act approved the first day of May Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and seven entitled "An act to amend the seventh section of the act entitled 'An act relating to corporations and estates held for corporate religious and charitable uses' approved the twenty-sixth day of April Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five as amended by the supplement to said act approved the second day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven by striking out the requirement that the control of the property of such corporations by the lay members thereof shall appear in the charters of the corporations included in the provisions of the said act validating the charters of all such corporations heretofore granted which do not contain such provision by providing for the management control and direction of the funds and affairs of religious bodies in accordance with the rules canons and discipline thereof

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, much of the legislation which we pass here is of current interest, but this bill brings up one of these great questions which has agitated States ever since the beginning of the present era. It is a question of the proper attitude which the State should take toward the holding of property by ecclesiastical organizations. This question was one of those things which brought on the French revolution. This question is the question which agitated England in the time of Henry VIII, but our freer constitution has declared that there shall be no union between church and State.

Now, this question of the holding of property is one of those practical occasions when this great question comes up, and the experience of the State of Pennsylvania has taught it, as embodied in the Act of 1855, which you are now proposing to amend, that the title to the property of all churches—I speak absolutely without reference to any particular denomination—that the title of the property of churches ought to be controlled by the lay members of those churches. Now, the reason for that is very apparent. The ecclestiastical members of the churches are those who have a peculiar and a special interest in the revenues of the church, because by these revenues, they are supported and maintained, and kept in existence. Since the revenues are contributed by the lay members, it has been declared to be the policy in the State of Pennsylvania that these lay members should control the disposition of the property.

Now, we come to another proposition laid before us that this long established policy in the State of Pennsylvania shall be modified. The change in the bill is found in the underscored words on page 6 of the bill, file folio 783 of the House: "And provided that notwithstanding anything herein contained the receipt and disposition of the funds of every church congregation and religious society shall be controlled and directed and its affairs and business shall be conducted subject to and in accordance with the rules, regulations, usages, canons, disclipine and requirements of the religious body or organization to which such church congregation or religious society belongs."

If this bill passes it will only be necessary for any denomination—I care not which—to make a canon, or rule, or disclipine by which the ecclestiastics should have the control of the property, and if they should pass a rule or regulation, then the present policy of the State of Pennsylvania would be turned upside down.

Now, I desire to call your attention for a moment to the provisions of Senate Bill No. 17, which we passed not very long ago. This also is a bill which treats somewhat on the same question, but it is very careful to preserve intact the salutory provisions of the Act of 1855. We find that at the end of section 1 of Senate Bill 17, "Provided however That the said constitution, canons or ecclesiastical laws, doctrines, disclipine and worship be not inconsistent with the constitution or laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and that they do not conflict with the control of the property of said corporation by the lay members of said corporation."

Now, gentlemen, that is the law which you have enacted within two weeks. Now this proposition which is laid before us absolutely annuls that and to pass a law which would make it possible for the control of the property to be taken out of the hands of the lay members. I say, gentlemen, that you must give this the most careful consideration. It is a bill upon which you will hear from home. It is a matter of no political import and no party lines should have anything to do with this vote to-night; but it is a question of broad, sane patriotism in the light of history.

Mr. HECHT in the Chair.

Mr. SHERN. Mr. Speaker, I thoroughly agree with many of the sentiments expressed by my colleague from Philadelphia, Mr. S. B. Scott. He has stated very frankly and very truthfully that neither party or religious lines should be taken into consideration in voting for or against this bill. But what should be taken into consideration, gentlemen of this House, is that the provisions of this bill are for the express purpose of more securely cementing and binding together an organization in religion which has existed for years in this country and abroad. I believe that every man in this House desires that religion shall be practical and upheld in this State of Pennsylvania, and I believe that they believe that it should be practiced according to the dictates of the consciences of the different people in Pennsylvania.

Before I left Philadelphia to-day I took it upon myself to call up the Arch episcopal residence at the corner of Eighteenth and Wood streets to ascertain how many churches of Roman Catholic denomination there were in Pennsylvania, and how many adherents. I was informed that there are 1151 churches in Pennsylvania and 1,727,239 communicants of that particular denomination. For years, yes, from the time of its establishment, its property has been held intact by its clergy, and to-day it is the only denomination of its kind in which is recognized by its communicants and by its adherents that the property should remain within ecclesiastical control. My friend has stated that it would be possible for any organization of any religion to do the same as the Catholic church has done in holding its property intact if you pass this bill. Yes, my friends, if the laity who now control the affairs of all other denominations, irrespective of this one, desire to put their property into ecclesiastical control, they can do it under the provisions of this bill. But what laity are going to do it if they have not done it in the past. And this particular denomination for the purpose of holding its people together, for the purpose of holding that property together, 1151 edifices in the State of Pennsylvania and 1,727,239 communicants, I ask of you to recognize that this great mass of population in Pennsylvania, and say that they should have this bill enacted for the purpose of cementing and holding together that great strong army which recognizes that its property should be in ecclesiastical control. That is all this bill provides for. I take it, and it cannot be denied that it aims to confine itself to the Catholic church and not to any other denomination, nor can any other denomination come under the provisions of this bill, unless the laity who control the church affairs desire that it should be so. And if the great laity of any other denomination desires that they should rid themselves of control of vested property, of course this bill would give them that power. I say, my friends, and gentlemen of this House, vote for the provisions of this bill and support the great army who desire to have their affairs bound by law under ecclesiastical control.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, itseems to me that there is but one little question in this bill, and the question as it comes to my mind is this: Suppose that you and I, a dozen of us, form a religious society, and we are obliged to put in our charter the fact that the property of that corporation—it is a corporation, known as a corporation of the first class—that that property shall be subject to the control of the lay members of that church. It belongs to you and I who are the lay members or stockholders. If this bill is enacted into law it simply puts control in the higher body above, takes it out of our hands and away from our control. Now, I do not believe that the people of the State of Pennsylvania wish such a condition to exist in this State. I do not believe that the members of this House, when you stop and think back to your constitutents who are adherents of any church and go back and say to them that you voted for the bill to place the control of their church property, their society, and their funds, as this bill says, in a body higher than they, that you will be pleasing them, or that you would be doing what they would ask you to do. It seems to me that this bill ought to receive the same vote that it did when we defeated it before. That is all in this bill, the question whether you take the property out of the conrtol of the lay members and put it in the control of the higher authority above.

Mr. DERSHEM. I had hoped that this bill would not be called up again for the reason that if it were enacted into law it certainly would work a hardship on some religious organizations in our State. The church to which I belong had an experience of this kind and we do not care to have another one. The church laws of our State are founded, builded and strengthened on the State law of 1855, and now, then when you tear this law down you tear it to tatters. It will be necessary for us to again reorganize our church laws and this would lead to endless trouble and confusion, and I trust that the House will not pass this measure. As has been truly said here to-night, this is a good bill to leave alone.

Mr. HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say that we should not feel that this bill only applies to one church. In the country districts above the town where I live is a Wesleyian Methodist church. It is now under the control of the Wesleyian Methodist church. It wass originally built by lumbermen for a union church, but the Wesleyian Methodist church now has control of it. The Wesleyian Methodist church in that district is controlled by the Synod in York State. York State Synod sends a minister there and takes him away when it pleases, and if this bill was passed that Synod, with headquarters in York State, could refuse to the people in that little church the right to count their own money, the right to ever get back that church property, or to vote in any other kind of ministers than their ministers or have any minister unless the Synod of New York State wanted to let them have it.

I wish to say that it is all right to brag of your own church. I am not afraid of the church to which I belong being crowded out, and I think we are all not afraid of our own church, and we ought to stand up for it. We admire the gentleman to say that he is not afraid of his own church, but Mr. Speaker, I am opposed to the power of this legislature being used to compel any kind of religious services or determine the tenets of any denomination. I am opposed to the power of this legislature being used to compel the people to surrender the rights of the people if they don't want to. I am opposed to this act which would take away the right of any denomination or congregation to count their own money.

Mr. SHERN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Cameron.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Howard, allow himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOWARD. Certainly, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SHERN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman explain to the members of this House how the Methodist Church conducts its business.

Mr. HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I really do not know, I do not belong to that denomination.

Mr. SHERN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask what denomination the gentleman belongs to.

Mr. HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I belong to the Episcopal Church

Mr. SHERN. Mr. Speaker, let me ask the gentleman how they conduct their business.

Mr. HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, which part of their business.

Mr. SHERN. Mr. Speaker, their financial business, their church property and funds.

Mr. HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, as I understand it, the Episcopal church have their hand out, they are controlled by a board of vestrymen, two of whom are called wardens, and the two men called wardens are supposed to collect all the money and count the money and report to the rest of the vestrymen, how much is collected and the purposes for which that money is disbursed.

Mr. SHERN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if he has read this bill, this amendment?

Mr. HOWARD. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SHERN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if he believes that this amendment will provide that vestrymen who control the church property will be eliminated, and the property be put into the hands of the ecclesiastical heads of the church. Is that your opinion or interpretation of this bill?

Mr. HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I believe if the Episcopal church would change her canons so that the warden and not the power to count their money; if they should change their canons they could do it. This amendment alone would not give them power to do it.

Mr. SHERN. Mr. Speaker, who would have the power to change the canons?

Mr. HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, the church to which I belong; the diocesan convention.

Mr. SHERN. Mr. Speaker, that is composed of laymen and clergymen.

Mr. HOWARD. Composed of laymen and clergy?

Mr. SHERN. So that this bill would not put that power in the hands of the ecclesiastics. It would have to be voted on by the diocesan convention.

Mr. HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, this bill would not put the power in the hands of clergy of the Episcopal church until the diocesan convention voted on it.

Mr. SHERN. Mr Speaker, suppose the members of the diocesan convention voted irrespective of the provisions of this bill, would it not get into the hands of the clergy anyway.

Mr HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I stated once before that I knew another denomination which had the power already. I also stated that I was not afraid of our diocesan convention voting this power to the ministers in our church.

Mr. SHERN. Mr. Speaker, then in your opinion, Mr. Howard, this bill would not put the property of the Episcopal church in the possession of the ecclesiastics.

Mr. HOWARD. It would not without the action of the convention, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JAMES C. JOHNSTON. Mr. Speaker, there is a phase of this bill that has not been touched upon. I cannot consistently vote for it in the affirmative if it takes the phase of church and state mingling, nor can I vote for it consistently if it takes the phase of voting simply for one ecclesiastical body. I can readily vote for the bill that all charters are granted by the State, and that the State in order to operate and make its charters effective sustains the body whom it charters for carrying on its business. I can see nothing in this bill which would violate that which I hold near and dear, the principle of separating the church from the State. I can see nothing in this bill that works a hardship on any laity in its operation. It merely means that if we belong to a denomination, it means that our particular church in which we are associated, is but a part or unit of the great body, and if we are in the right spirit in our worship it is not so much the spirit of controlling as it is a spirit of co-operation. Thus I can see that to eliminate those unfortunate experiences that come into all church life, that as they come into life it drives out the spirit which should actuate its action and hence hinder its work. I believe the bill has indeed a good purpose. I see nothing in it that prevents the furtherance of the work and can conscientiously vote for it.

Mr. FREEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I have listened with a great deal of interest to the colloquy between the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shern and the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Howard. I happen to belong to the same denomination as the gentleman from Cameron, and I am at a loss to understand why he fears that the property will probably be vested in the ecclesiastics by a diocesan convention without the desire of the entire body, for this reason that at that convention there are usually about four delegates who are lay delegates to one of the clergy, and therefore the property could not be placed in the hands of the ecclesiastics without the consent of laity, and if the laity so desire I see no reason why it should be done. Therefore, I am in favor of this bill.

Mr. HOBBS. Mr. Speaker, I do not desire to enter into the discussion of this question. I simply wish to make a statement, that I have received a great many letters from Lackawanna County and also petitions, signed by two or three hundred lay members of the Churches of Lackawanna County in opposition to this bill, therefore I am going to vote against it.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I have listened to what has been said here to-night, and while I do not have the distinction or honor of belonging to the same church as the sponsor of the bill, I fail to see where there is anything that might be detrimental to any religious organization, if I can read aright. As I understand it, the only amendment that has been made to the law as it stands upon the books now is contained in the last seven lines, which read as follows:

> "And provided That notwithstanding anything herein contained the receipts and disposition of the funds of every church congregation and religious society shall be controlled and directed and its affairs and business shall be conducted subject to and in accordance with the rules regulations usages canons discipline and requirements of the religious body or organizations to which such church congregation or religious society belongs"

It seems to me that the members who have a fear in relation to the purposes of this bill, in what it might result, have but little confidence in the head of their particular church. The ruling body, the body which governs and controls, as has been stated by the gentleman from Lebanon, Mr. Freeman, is in almost every case composed of from three to four laymen to one of the class. It seems to me that if we are fearful that the heads of our church, or the ministerial representatives, together with laymen from the various organizations delegated to the legislative body, will take advantage of the congregation, we have but little confidence in the head of the organization, and particularly in the ministers. I fail to see anything that will be detrimental in any way to any particular religion, but I do see something that will be vastly beneficial to one great church. I see no reason why this bill should not pass just as it stands, and I shall give it my hearty support.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I think we are making a mistake when we look at this thing from a point of view of denomination, or membership in any denomination. We are here representing the State, the Commonwealth, and what we are voting on is the policy of the Commonwealth. We have heard that every man who belongs to a church has the utmost confidence in the particular powers that control that church. That is just what the State of Pennsylvania is afraid of. It is the confidence which the lay members have in their clergymen which brings them, even upon their dying bed, to place this property in the control of the church. That is what the State of Pennsylvania, from its long experience, is afraid of, and while each of us is not afraid that our denomination will do any such thing, I think as representatives of the State of Pennsylvania we have a right to believe that some denomination will, because in times past, in England, I believe that fully one-third of the whole property was under the control of the church.

Mr. HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shern.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shern, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHERN. I will.

Mr. HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia if he knows that in the Episcopal Church we have what we call "communion alms," and that no one counts them except the minister?

Mr SHERN. I am not familiar with that, Mr. Howard.

Mr. HOWARD. I would like to ask, if this bill pass, if any denomination could appeal to the court to have the right to count any of the money?

Mr. SHERN. I don't understand the question.

Mr. HOWARD. What I would like to know is this: If the lay members could appeal to the court for the right to count the money collected in their church?

Mr. SHERN. Outside of one denomination, they could appeal to the court. As far as this particular denomination is concerned, they could not, as I interpret the bill.

Mr. HOWARD. This bill would then remove the power to appeal to courts, if it passes?

Mr. SHERN. No, sir, it does not. You are governed by a diocesan body. That has the right to make rules and regulations for the church and faith in general.

Mr. HOWARD. But in this other denomination it would take away the power of appeal?

Mr. SHERN. In this other denomination they only want to be bound by law in that which is the practice today.

Mr. HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, this bill would remove the right of lay members to appeal to the court and get an accounting of the amount of money taken in.

The question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. KURTZ. Mr. President, this appears to be a very important bill. It appears to me as being a grab for water companies giving them the right of eminent domain and repealing all former laws.

Mr. McNICHOLS. Mr. President, I have listened to the Senator's objection as to the provisions of this bill concerning eminent domain. I was very much interested for the reason that I have a bill similar to this bill in committee. Being interested, it was my privilege to investigate this very thoroughly. The objection was made at the time that this might by implication carry into it the right of eminent domain. I have inquired from eminent lawyers, both in the Senate and in the departments and they have assured me that this carries no eminent domain rights with it. It is a bill to bring under common control some eight or nine water companies that are incorporated under the clause 18 of the act of 1874, section two. The Supreme Court by a recent decision that those companies or private water companies come under no control of the Water Service Commission. This act gives the commission the right to supervise their affairs. We believe that this bill is right, and as I have said, I have investigated very thoroughly, and I think that unless we pass this amendment to the act of 1874, before you can pass a restrictive measure in two years we will have no water rights that will not be gobbled up by monopolies and water companies. I hope the Senate will view this thing in the right light and pass this bill.

Mr. HALL. Mr. President, I understand the situation that the gentleman refers to, and if this bill only does what they say it does, I will vote for the bill, but I fear it does more and repeals the act of 1905, although it is not a repealing act. I would like to have a little more time to talk to some legal gentleman and see what the situation is. I may vote for this bill. I do not like to retard the passage of this bill, but it is a House bill and can easily pass. I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the bill, be postponed for the present.

Mr. KURTZ. Mr. President, I second the motion.

Mr. McNICHOLS. Mr. President, I hope this motion will not carry. The matter has been before the Senate nigh onto two weeks. At the solicitation of numerous Senators I have delayed and allowed it to be postponed time and again. Last night it went over for the purpose of looking into this clause and I was sure the members were prepared to vote upon it to-day, and I am sure I cannot see any reason for the delay and the matter should go to a vote and be decided.

Mr. KURTZ. Mr. President, as far as I am personally concerned I am willing to take a vote on it now, if the Senator from Elk, Mr. Hall, will withdraw his motion. I have taken advice from several eminent attorneys, as the Senator states he has, and they advise me that it is not a proper measure to go through this body at this time.

Mr. McNICHOLS. Mr. President, I think this bill, c be looked upon without the severe criticism it has receive and the explanation that has been given to me as to a reasons and whys and wherefores of this bill, is one th should appeal to every Senator. It is not the question as the right of eminent domain. It is the question of the peop in the county, men who are clamoring for water at vario periods of the year, and notably during the last two three years. It is almost impossible for a human bei to obtain water in any vicinity from the people who ha been conserving the water sheds of this State, and this all this bill provides, that these people shall by this act directed to supply it to the inhabitants. If the City Philadelphia were in the position of having her water su ply exhausted and there was in the immediate vicinity the Counties of Bucks, Montgomery or Chester a watersh containing a sufficient supply of water, there is not o Senator who would vote against the people of Philadelph taking that supply of water, and they should have t right. There is no question about it to my mind, and has been fully explained to the Senator that the prop authority has told him the right of eminent domain is on a misnomer as applied to this act, and I think out of h manity to the human race, the Senate should vote to gi the people of this State the right, if such a conditi arises to use the water of the State.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, I feel exactly like t Senator who has just spoken in regard to this matter. had my own views regarding the matter at first and to the trouble to look carefully into the matter and t principal changes it makes, so far as the present law concerned, is that it preserves the rights of the public porcure the water that is taken up under the provisio of the water law, that is a community has the right to supplied under this bill and it makes that a prerequisite the condemnation or in the taking of water. I think t bill is greatly in the interest of the people and I am goi to vote for it.

Mr. FOX. Mr. President, I have examined this bi with some care. It is an amendment to the act of 187 and the only change in the law that this bill will make found in line fifty-four, these words "provided that su last named corporations heretofore or hereafter incorporat shall be compelled to furnish such power for public pu poses." That is the only change that is made in the bi The Senator from Bucks, Mr. Hall, rather thinks fro a conversation I had with him, that this would r peal the act of 1905 taking from water companies t right of eminent domain. I cannot agree with that concl sion. I do not think that it by implication or otherwi repeals that act. It is an amendment to an amendment a prior act but there is nothing in the amendment exce to broaden the provisions to the public, "provided that su last named corporations heretofore or hereafter incorpo ated shall be compelled to furnish such power for publ purposes." That is all there is in this. That is all th we vote on. It amends the act so as to give the publ the right to use of that power, that is, power locked up a dam somewhere owned by a water company, and probab some little borough or city near it wants to utilize th water, and the owner says "No you cannot have out power This bill simply says "You can have the power." That all the bill does.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, I thoroughly agree wi all that has been said by the Senator from Philadelphi Mr. McNichol, and the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Fo and I was in favor of this bill if a certain amendment w put into it until this question, whether it repealed the ac came up and the Senator from Warren asked the propose of the bill if they would object to an amendment bei inserted providing that it should not be considered as r pealing the act of 1905 and they objected, and in th case I immediately changed my opinion of the bill and wi be compelled to vote no unless that amendment is insert If it does not do what the Senator says it does not d there is no reason why an amendment should not be insert specifically saying that this legislation does not repe the act of 1905, which is a good act, and if this amen ment is made to the bill I think there would be no objectio to it whatever, and I cannot see why, as the bill has alread been amended and must be sent back to the House for co currence, there is any objection to this amendment bei inserted so as to protect the interests of the constituen of Mr. Kurtz and others that are interested.

Mr. FOX. Mr. President, I for myself, and for any one e, have no objection to the amendment, but I do not beve it is necessary. I do not think it repeals the act 1905 and I have not been shown any authority that it es. I do not believe that it does. That is the reason I do t believe such an amendment is necessary, although I ould not object to it.

Mr. HALL. Mr. President, I have learned something t of this discussion that I desired to know from lawyers good reputation. I wish to withdraw my motion.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Jefferson, r. Kurtz, withdraw his second to the motion?

Mr. KURTZ. Mr. President, I will.

The motion was withdrawn.

Mr. KNAPP. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the te by which this bill passed third reading.

Mr. KURTZ. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. KNAPP. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent amend the bill by adding a new section as follows:

"Section 2. Provided, That this act shall not be construed repealing an act entitled 'An Act providing that the right eminent domain as respects the appropriations of streams, vers or waters, or the land covered thereby, shall not be ercised by water companies incorporated under law,' approved April 13, A. D. 1905."

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears one.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as nended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use the Senate.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE.

Mr. TUSTIN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears one.

Mr. TUSTIN, from the Committee on Judiciary General, ported with favorable recommendation all of the nominations made by His Excellency, the Governor of the ommonwealth, at to-day's session, which were laid upon e table.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED FOR THE PRESENT.

Mr. WERTZ. Mr. President, I move that the Senate resume the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 413, on third reading, postponed for the present, entitled:

An act to amend section three of an act entitled "An Act to provide for the appointment of game commissioners for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania defining their duties and empowering them to appoint game protectors" approved the twenty-fifth day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five providing for an increase in the number of game protectors as authorized by said section and authorizing the publication of reports and bulletins at public expense

Mr. ADAMS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WERTZ. Mr. President, this bill was introduced at the request of the Secretary of the Board of Game Commissioners. It provides for the appointment of twenty additional game protectors and unless the general appropriation bill covers the necessary expenses it cannot be done.

Mr. WILBERT. Mr. President, I think this a very good bill, but I don't think the general appropriation bill will have any thing to do with it. If we pass the Bottlers' License Bill it will create enough revenue to pay for it.

HOUSE MESSAGE.

The Clerk of the House of Representatives, being int duced, presented communication from the House of Rep sentatives, informing the Senate that the House has c curred in resolution from the Senate as follows:

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION PROVIDING FOR THE APPOINTMENT F A COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE THE DIFFERENT SYSTEMS F RECORDING DEEDS, MORTGAGES AND INSURANCE OF TIT S NOW IN EFFECT IN THE SEVERAL STATES, AND REPORT T A SUBSEQUENT SESSION OF THE LEGISLATURE SUCH ACT R ACTS, AND CHANGES IN THE STATE CONSTITUTION THAT M Y BE NECESSARY TO IMPROVE THE PRESENT SYSTEM IN PEN- SYLVANIA AND TO AUTHORIZE COUNTIES TO INSURE P - CHASERS OF REAL ESTATE AGAINST DEFECTIVE TITLES, A D PROVIDING FOR THE ASSISTANCE AND CO-OPERATION OF T E LEGISLATIVE REFERENCE BUREAU.

Whereas, The present system of recording transfers of l d and mortgages on real estate in Pennsylvania has been n existence for more than two hundred years and has beco e antiquated and otherwise unsatisfactory because of the de y and expense it imposes upon purchasers and mortgagors f real estate; and

Whereas, The records in which are set forth the chan s of ownership of the different parcels of land and the incumbrances against them, if any, are increasing at such a r e particularly in the large and populous counties of the St e that at the present time it is a matter of serious conc n for the officials in charge to provide room for them, with t limiting their availability to those who even now have o spend much time and labor in order to trace a title b k to the original owner, involving a delay and an expense o purchasers and mortgagors, which imposes an unnecess y burden upon owners of small properties; and

Whereas, This system has been changed in several Sta s, notably New York, Massachusetts, Illinois, Washington a d Oregon, and one adopted which will provide facility, che - ness and security in land transfers and beneficial to the - terests of the people; therefore, be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) That e Governor of the Commonwealth be and he is hereby auth - ized to appoint a Commission, consisting of five citizens f Pennsylvania, whose duty it shall be to investigate and - amine the various laws now in effect in the different Sta s relating to the recording of deeds and mortgages, the tra - fer of lands, the insurance of titles and the practical ope - tion of such laws, and report to the next session of e Legislature such act or acts and changes in the Consti - tion, if necessary, which, in the opinion of the Commissi n, will materially improve the present system of governing e recording of deeds and mortgages in the several counties f this State with a special view of recommending a w authorizing the counties of the State to assume the - sponsibility of insuring purchasers of real estate against pe - niary damage by reason of defective titles

The Legislative Reference Bureau is hereby authorized a d ected to co-operate with the said Commission and render h assistance, and do any and all acts which may be required by the said Commission in the performance of its said y.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. RENO. Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Reno.

Mr. RENO. Mr. Speaker, this bill is an act regulating the operation of certain quarries providing for their inspection and fixing penalties for violation of the provisions of the act. The bill, by its terms is limited to the slate quarries of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and all of the slate quarries of any moment are situated in the county of Lehigh and in the county of Northampton. This bill undertakes to set forth certain quarries governing the operation of slate quarries in these counties and provides for the appointment of inspectors to inspect the operation of the quarries and provides penalties for violation and includes expensive machinery to carry out the provisions of the bill. In the county of Lehigh there are several thousand men engaged in the work of quarrying slate. I speak not now of the operator but of the workingman, and they have filed here in this House with my colleague, the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Leh, who directly represents the district in the county in which are situated the slate quarries, and as a man they have protested against the passage of this act. They allege, and I think the facts are true, that while these rules set forth in this bill might be proper for the operation of quarries in the county of Northampton they are unfit for use in the county of Lehigh where the conditions of quarrying and where the manner of working the quarries are entirely different than they are in the quarries of Northampton. I will ask the House, therefore, in behalf of the slate men of Lehigh county, who are opposed to this measure, to vote down this bill.

Mr. BENDER. Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Bender.

Mr. BENDER. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Reno, I would say that this bill provides for two inspection districts, and Northampton and Lehigh county are the two counties composing this inspection district, No. 1, and the rest of the State inspection district is No. 2. Northampton county comprises 70 per cent. of the slate industries in the State of Pennsylvania, and Lehigh county the rest of it. The people of Northampton county are almost unanimously in favor of a measure of this kind for the protection of men employed in and about the slate quarries. In Northampton county we employ a great many thousand men in quarrying slate. The State of Pennsylvania has inspectors for the anthracite coal fields and for the bituminous coal fields and in neither one of these industries is the hazard as great as the condition in the slate quarries make them in the slate mines. So far as setting up expensive machinery is concerned to carry out the objects of this bill, I think my friend from Lehigh is mistaken. It is true it will take some little money, but I think we all fully realize that we live in a commercial age and I do hope that we have not gone so far as to put property rights above human rights; that we put property rights above even life and health. This is a measure introduced in the interests of the common people. The great and lamented Abraham Lincoln at one time said "the Lord loves the common people" and if he didn't love them there would not be so many of them. As I love the common people I advocate this measure or any measure that is in the interests of the common people and the laboring men of this state. I hope every gentlemen will favor this bill, give it their very best consideration and record their votes for it. I have not asked for anything during this session and this is the only plea that I make. I am here in the interest of the common people, of the laboring classes of this great Commonwealth and I am here to say to you that this bill before us this morning has the indorsement of all the laboring organizations throughout the State of Pennsylvania, and I therefore hope that you will vote for it.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

The SPEAKER. This is the special hour for the consideration of House Bill No. 313:

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 313, entitled:

An act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the bituminous coal mines of Pennsylvania and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. FEENEY. Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Washington, Mr. Feeney.

Mr. FEENEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to make a few remarks here in reference to this mining act. The reading of this bill looks very well on the face of it, but I want to say that it is a very dangerous measure to the miners in Western Pennsylvania and that at a meeting held in Pittsburgh—or rather at a convention held in Pittsburgh—the most educated miners were selected to go over this act and in going over it they found that there were quite a number of mistakes that had crept into it, and it was really a modification of the present law and a very dangerous one at that. This convention representing fifty thousand organized and unorganized miners of Western Pennsylvania voted unanimously against this act. I want to say, Mr. Speaker, that this bill is very long in detail; it is contradicting and misleading and for that reason I want the members of this House to vote this measure down, together with many other reasons that I will give you. In the first place the mining inspectors of Western Pennsylvania, who are responsible for those terrible disasters that have occurred in our district, are opposed to this code. They held a meeting and decided that it was a bad bill. The fire bosses, who examine the places in Western Pennsylvania, also examined it and decided that it was a bad bill. So here you have the miners, and you have the mine inspectors and you have the fire bosses who are opposed to this measure, because it is very dangerous, and it seems to me that we ought to be convinced of that and that that ought to be sufficient to kill this measure. I hope that this bill will be killed. When this bill was prepared the miners were not consulted to be present. The mine inspectors who are held responsible for these disasters were not consulted. This measure was drawn up by a gentleman who is not familiar with the conditions in Western Pennsylvania. I am not here, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, for any other reason but to protect the lives and limbs of our people in Western Pennsylvania and I hope that this bill will be voted down.

Mr. PITCHFORD. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House. In view of the fact that legislation of this kind does not come before this body very often, the last General Mining Bill having been enacted in 1893, and the probability that whatever law may be enacted at this time will govern in this important industry for at least a decade, great care should be exercised that no hasty or unwise action should be taken, and that the very best measure possible should be adopted to protect the lives and health of those engaged in such hazardous employment.

I realize what a difficult problem it is to adopt a code of laws which would harmonize all the divergent views. If the adoption of such a code was left entirely to the miners, there would exist a difference of opinion amongst them as to what best suited their interests and if left entirely to the operators the same conditions would prevail, and it has been the purpose of your committee after listening very carefully to what every person had to say to adopt such a code that would do the most towards harmonizing these interests and provide the greatest degree of safety to the men employed, and also to protect and preserve the property of the employer. On the 21st day of February this bill was presented to the House and referred to the Committee on Mines and Mining, and from that date until the 24th day of April, many arguments have been presented both for and against it by men who are expert and thoroughly familiar with this business, and out of this your committee has selected what to them seemed the best, until a code of laws is now before us for consideration which will bring about the changes made necessary by the new methods of mining with the least possible friction and the minimum of expense. While some may regard certain portions of this act as radical, let us not forget that since the passage of the present act the methods of mining have been completely revolutionized by the installation of machinery and electricity, and that the proposed law is not nearly such radical departure from the former law, as the presen method of mining differs from that in vogue eighteen year ago.

Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I beg to ca your attention to some of the vital points in the propose bituminous mine code that are not covered by the presen laws, viz:

Providing for additional entries required in the openin of new mines, and, also, providing escapeways in mines a ready opened.

Providing safe travelingways for men on foot and fixin the height of the same.

Increasing the volume of air for both gaseous and non gaseous mines, and providing more stringent provisions fo conducting the air to the working places, with measure ments to be taken of the same at the face of workin places, and the stoppings used to force the air to the fac to be of incumbustible materials.

For the use of safety explosives whose use shall be per mitted by and under the direction of the Department o Mines, and blasting by shot firers in gaseous mines unde certain prescribed conditions.

For the wetting and removal of dust from mines.

For a sufficient number of assistants to mine foreman t visit each working place twice daily, for the purpose o instructing the miners to avoid accidents from carelessnes by the men themselves.

For providing for a better grade of illuminant oil, unde test of the Department of Mines.

For ambulances at mines to transport the injured.

Regulations for shaft sinking.

For the more extended use of safety lamps.

For the prevention, if possible, of blown-out shots, by th shearing of coal in entires in gaseous mines.

Legalizing the use of the electricity in gaseous mine and providing for special rules for the installation of it.

Requiring age of a boy from school records before em ployment.

For more careful supervision in the employment of me with a view to their ability to understand the condition of the mines, laws and rules.

Increasing the number of mining inspectors and districts

Providing for emergency hospitals at mines.

Providing for rescue apparatus, oxygen helmets, etc.

Providing for over winding device in mines.

The necessity for this legislation is so self-evident that most of the argument presented against it has been that o cost, and the competition met with in selling coal from othe states showed human life not be rated higher than th dollar and should we not be influenced more in our con sideration of this bill by the fact that scores of lives hav been ruthlessly sacrificed because of this self-same ques tion of cost and competition, and that the only way to lowe the percentage of lives lost is to provide such safeguard and inspection of working places that will reduce the los of life to a minimum. This has been provided for in thi bill. No better argument could be presented than that contained in the report of Chief Roderick of the Bureau o Mines for the year 1910 of the urgent necessity of suc legislation and from which I have selected the followin lists of fatal accidents from the different causes, whic proves beyond question the extremely hazardous nature of this employment and the necessity of remedial legisialton.

Causes and percentages of fatal accidents inside the bi tuminous mines during 1910:

	Total	Per cent
By falls	298	62.61
By cars	105	22.06
By electricity	30	6.30
By gas and dust	15	3.15
Total	448	94.12
By explosions of powder	4	.84
By premature blasts	6	1.26
By falling into shafts	9	1.89
By mules	1	.21
By machinery	3	.63
Miscellaneous causes	5	1.05
Total	28	5.88
Total inside	476	100.00

I do not claim that if this act is passed that it will prevent all accidents, but I do claim, that if enacted into law a enforced that it will reduce the number of accidents to a inimum and I appeal to every member of this House in he interest of humanity to vote for this code of laws as presented, and by doing so you will aid one of the gr test industries in this Commonwealth by protecting the h lth and safety of persons employed therein. I thank y , etc.

r. JAMES DUNN. Mr. Speaker, as I represent the m ing district I would like to have your attention for a fe moments to voice the sentiments of the miners in my d rict on this bill. The miners of the central field of P nsylvania, are practically a unit in favor of this bill. W regret that we have to take issue with our esteemed fr nd, Mr. Feeney, the gentleman from Washington but I ink that Mr. Feeney is full aware that the miners of th central field have practically indorsed this bill. In fact, h knows that the President, Mr. Kilday, has been down he e several times, in the interest of this bill, and we have n a committee from the central field of Pennsylvania d n here who are working the interests of this bill and th would seem to me to convey the impression that this m st be a good bill, and it is merely some difference of o nion existing between the miners of the central field and th miners of the Pittsburgh district. We would like to g everything into this bill that has been recommended b the miners of the Pittsburgh district, but the miners o the central field and their officials recognize that we c not get everything all the time. They recognize that we m st go along by degrees; we cannot impose too heavy a b den on the producers of coal for the reason that at t present time the market conditions are bad. If we c get a little now and a little again to make these imp vements we have accomplished so much. I believe that y will agree with me on this proposition, that this is a g d bill, thoroughly approved of by the miners of the c tral field, and believing that it will eliminate a great m ny disasters that have occurred in the past and that it w l help us to protect life in the future. In behalf of the m ers of the central field of Pennsylvania I hope that you w l enact this bill into a law.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, c sidered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Section 25 That all casualty insurance companies heretofore or hereafter incorporated or formed by authority of any general or special law except those companies incorporated under the provisions of the act approved April twenty-eighth one thousand nine hundred and three entitled "An Act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of corporations for the purpose of making insurance on the health of individuals and against personal injury and disablement and death therein limiting the amount for which such corporations may issue policies et cetera"

Section 26. That on and after the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and twelve no policy of insurance against loss or damage from disease or by the bodily injury by accident or both of the assured shall be issued or delivered in this State (1) until a copy of the form thereof and the table of rates or manual of risks of the company has been filed at least thirty (30) days with the Insurance Commissioner unless before the expiration of said thirty (30) days the Insurance Commissioner shall have approved the same in writing nor (2) if the Insurance Commissioner notifies the company in writing that in his opinion the form of said policy does not comply with the requirements of the laws of this State specifying the reasons for his opinion provided that upon the petition of the company the opinion of the Insurance Commissioner shall be subject to review by any court of competent jurisdiction nor (3) shall such policy be so issued or delivered unless every portion is plainly printed in type not smaller than long primer or ten point type nor (4) unless it contains in substance the following provisions

One A provision that such policy with a copy of the application therefor if any and of such other papers as may be attached to or endorsed thereon shall constitute the entire contract of insurance except as the same may be affected by any table of rates or classification of risks filed by the company with the Insurance Commissioner

Two A provision that no statement made by the applicant for insurance which statement is not incorporated in or endorsed on the policy issued to such applicant shall avoid the policy or be used in evidence and no provision of the charter constitution or by-laws shall be used in defense of any claims arising under any such policy unless such provisions are incorporated in full in the policy but this requirement shall not be deemed to apply to the table of rates or manual of classification of risks of any company filed with the Insurance Commissioner prior to the date of the occurrence of the injury or commencement of the sickness for which indemnity is claimed

Three A provision that specifies the time within which notice of accident or disability shall be given which time shall be not less than twenty days from the date of the accident nor less than ten days from the date of the beginning of the disability from sickness upon which claim is based provided however in case of accidental death immediate notice thereof may be required unless the notices herein specified may be shown not to have been reasonably possible

Four A provision that notice of a claim for indemnity shall be deemed sufficient when given to the home office or a duly authorized agent of the company

Five A provision that if a past due premium shall be accepted by the company or by a branch office or by an authorized agent of the company in the city town or county in which the insured shall reside or by the duly authorized agent of the company who accepted the last premium on the policy if so authorized at the time of the acceptance of the past due premium such acceptance shall reinstate the policy in full as to disability resulting from accidental bodily injuries thereafter sustained but shall only reinstate the policy as to disability from disease beginning more than ten days after the date of such acceptance

Six A provision that if the insured is injured or contracts disease after having changed his occupation to one classified by the company as more hazardous than that stated in the policy or while he is doing any act or thing pertaining to any occupation so classified (except ordinary duties about his residence or while engaged in recreation) the company shall pay such proportion of the indemnities provided in the policy as the premium paid would have purchased at the rate but within the limits fixed by the company for such more hazardous occupation according to the company's rates and classifications of risks filed with the Insurance Commissioner in this State prior to the occurrence of the injury or the commencement of the disease for which indemnity is claimed

Seven A provision that the company will pay the benefits promised within sixty days of the receipt by it of due proofs of death or disability

Eight A provision that the policy may be cancelled at any time by the company by written notice delivered to the insured or mailed to him at his last address as shown by the records of the company and the tender of the company's check for the unearned premium but that such cancellation shall be without prejudice to any claim arising on account of disability commencing prior to the date of which the cancellation takes effect

Nine A provision that shall not limit the time within which proofs of claims shall be furnished to the company to a period less than ninety days from the date of death dismemberment or loss of sight or from the termination of any other disability

Section 27 No such policy insuring against accidental bodily injuries or disease or death shall be issued or delivered in this State if it contains in substance any of the following provisions

One A provision limiting the time within which an action at law or in equity may be commenced to less than one year from the date when the final proof of claim is filed with the company

Two A provisio nthat no such policy shall authorize the deduction of any premium or assessment from any indemnity payable under the terms of the policy except such premium or assessment as may be due or covered by written order or note at the time of payment of the indemnity

Three A provision limiting the amount of indemnity to be paid to a sum less than the indemnity as stated in the policy and for which the premium has been paid Provided however if the assured shall carry other insurance covering the same hazard without giving written notice to the companies corporations or associations issuing the policies then and in that case each company corporation or association shall be liable for such proportionate amount of benefits as the indemnity promised bears to the total amount of indemnity in all the policies covering such hazard and for the return of such part of the premium paid as shall exceed the pro rata of the premium for the benefits paid

Section 28 No company or agent shall issue or deliver in this State any policy which conflicts with any provision of this act A policy issued in violation of this act shall be held valid and shall be construed as provided in this act and when any provision in a policy is in conflict with any provision of this act the rights duties and obligations of the company and policy holder and the beneficiary shall be governed by the provisions of this act

Section 29 The policies of insurance against accidental injury or disease of a company not organized under the laws of this State may contain any provision which the law of the State territory or district of the United States under which the company is organized prescribes shall be in such policies when issued in this State and the policies of insurance against accidental injury or disease of a company organized under the laws of this State may when issued or delivered in any other State or territory district or country contain any provision required by the laws of the State territory district or country in which the same are issued anything in this act to the contrary notwithstanding

Section 30 Nothing in this act however shall apply to or affect any general or blanket policy of insurance issued to any municipal corporation or department thereof or to any corporation copartnership association or individual employer police or fire department underwriter's corps salvage bureau or like associations or organizations where the officers members or employes or classes or departments thereof are insured against specified accidental bodily injuries or disease while exposed to the hazards of the occupation or otherwise for a premium intended to cover the risks of all the persons insured under such policy nor shall anything in this act apply to or affect contracts of life insurance or contracts supplemental thereto which shall contain provisions intended to safeguard such life insurance against lapse or that shall provide a special surrender value therefor in the event that the insured thereunder shall by reason of accidental bodily injury or disease be unable to continue the premium payments thereon

Section 31 Any company corporation or association to which this act applies or any officer thereof which issues or delivers in this State or to any citizen thereof any accident or health policy or contract in wilful violation of the provisions of this act shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars ($500) for each offense and the Insurance Commissioner may revoke the license of any foreign company or agent thereof which violates any provision of this act

Section 32 No person partnership or association shall issue sign or seal or in any manner execute any policy of insurance contracts of guaranty against loss by any of the casualties provided for in this act without authority expressly conferred by a charter of incorporation given according to law provided nothing herein contained shall prevent any one from becoming and being accepted as personal surety or guarantor Any person offending against the provisions of this section or any person who shall make execute or issue any policy of insurance contract or guaranty against loss by sickness accident or other casualty without being so authorized by law shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall pay a fine not exceeding two hundred dollars to the Commonwealth and the costs of prosecution

Section 33 This act shall not apply to assessment associations nor to fraternal benefit societies transacting business through the lodge system with ritualistic work and a representative government nor to beneficial and relief associations formed by churches societies firms or corporations with or without ritualistic work the membership in which is confined to the members of such churches or societies and to members and employes of such firms or corporations

Section 34 The act of May first eighteen hundred and seventy-six entitled a supplement to an act entitled an act to establish an Insurance Department in so far as it applies to the incorporation and regulation of casualty insurance companies whose incorporation and regulation are provided for herein. The act of July ninth eighteen hundred and ninety-seven entitled an act to amend an act entitled a supplement to an act entitled an act to establish an Insurance Department the act of June fifth eighteen hundred and eighty-three entitled an act to further provide for the incorporation and regulation of mutual assessment corporations and the amendment thereto of June third eighteen hundred and eighty-seven and all other acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. TOWNSEND. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read as follows:

Amend section 25, line 3, by inserting after the word "thereof" a bracket and in line 4 after the word "act" by striking out the bracket.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to insert the amendment? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

The bill as amended was then agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be prepared for final passage.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. KEISTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 448, file folio 2707, on page 45 of today's calendar, bills on final passage postponed for the present.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 448, entitled:

An act authorizing and empowering the Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings to rent offices and rooms outside of the Capitol buildings when necessary for the accommodation of any department board or commission of the State Government

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. KEISTER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, when this bill was defeated on final passage last week, I had no intimation that the House had any objection to the bill. I found that when the vote was taken there were more votes needed for the passage of the bill than it got. I want to say that this bill simply means this: At the esent time it is the practice of the Departments to go t and rent quarters at their own convenience outside of e Capitol Building, as it becomes necessary, and this ll simply puts the matter in the hands of the Commisoner of Grounds and Buildings to rent buildings. There absolutely nothing wrong about the bill and it appears me good housekeeping to allow the Board of Commisioners of Grounds and Buildings to determine when a oom is absolutely necessary outside of the Capitol. At the resent time there are departments outside of the building; r instance, the Insurance Department with offices in hiladelphia, the Public Charities Department, with offices Philadelphia, and the State Highway Department with ix or eight offices scattered throughout the Commonwealth, nd these rooms are all rented now and paid for out of he contingency expenses of the various departments. This ondition of affairs is deemed unwise by the Board of ommissioners of Grounds and Buildings, which consists f the Governor, Auditor General and the State Treasurer, nd I believe that the Legislature of Pennsylvania could eave it fairly in their hands to transact the business of he Commonwealth and make contracts for these quarters, f they deem it necessary. I, therefore, ask that the House ass this bill. I think it is a wise measure, and should reeive your favorable consideration.

The question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas nd nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Mr. EHRHARDT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time from the unfinished business calendar, House Bill No. 663, file folio 5701, on page 9 of to-day's calendar.

Agreably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 663, as follows:

An act entitled an act supplementary to an act for the government of cities of the second class approved the seventh day of March Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and one

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That on and after the first day of December Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven the councils of all cities of the second class shall consist of one body composed of not less than five members and an additional member for each seventy-five thousand inhabitants over two hundred thousand as shown by the last preceding United States decennial census up to five hundred thousand who shall be elected at large as hereinafter provided The terms of all councilmen in office prior to said date shall cease and determine thereon

Section 2 Members of council shall have been residents of the city for at least five years before their election They shall reside in the city during their term of office and shall not hold any other office position or employment under the government of the United States nor of said city or the county in which it is situated nor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania during the term for which they were elected except notary public or commissioner of deeds They shall not hold any office position or employment nor have any interest in any corporation holding or applying for franchises from the city or owning or operating any public utility in said city nor in any corporation limited partnership firm or business which shall during their terms sell to or contract with the city for any materials supplies or services of any kind whatsoever Any councilman violating any of the provisions of this section shall thereby forfeit his office

Section 3 Said councilmen shall receive for their services during their term of service annual salaries to be fixed by ordinance payable in monthly installments Provided however that councils shall by the ordinance fixing said salaries provide for the asssessment and retention therefrom of reasonable fines for absence from regular or special meetings of councils or councilmanic committees

And provided further that for the first term and until thereafter changed by ordinance the salary of each councilman shall be one thousand dollars per annum with an additional five hundred dollars per annum for each thirty thousand inhabitants over two hundred thousand as shown by the last preceding United States decennial census

Section 4 At the general municipal election in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven in each city of the second class now existing and at the first municipal election occurring at least sixty days after any other city shall have entered said class there shall be elected the full number of councilmen to which the city shall be entitled to serve from the first Monday of December following Said councilmen shall meet and organize on said date and immediately thereafter divide themselves by lot into two classes the odd numbers to serve for two years and the even numbers for four years thereafter At each general election thereafter there shall be elected at large the number of councilmen required to fill the places of those whose terms are about to expire to serve for four years and also to fill any vacancies caused by death resignation or removal occuring more than sixty days before such election to serve for the balance of the term The terms of those elected shall begin on the first Monday of December following

On the first Monday of December following each general municipal election the councils shall organize by electing a president and city clerk who will serve as clerk of councils to serve for two years from said date

They shall have power to authorize by ordinance the employment of such additional employes as may be necessary for the proper discharge of the business of councils and fix the duties and salaries thereof

They shall also provide by general rules for regular mettings and for the calling of special meetings when required and prescribe general rules not inconsistent with law for the conduct of business

Seotion 5 Councils shall have power to fix from time to time the salaries of all city officials and employes including councilmen Provided however that the salary of an elective officer shall not be changed after his election during the term for which he has been elected

Section 6 The court of common pleas of the county on complaint of petition of any citizen charging any councilman with violation of any of the provisions of section two of this act shall summon said councilman to appear and answer within ten days and after hearing the parties and their evidence find and determine the facts and if it find the charge to be true shall declare and decree that such councilman has forfeited his office such decree to take effect forthwith Any vacancy so caused shall be filled as herein provided Such hearing shall have precedence and in case it shall be shown to the court that for any reason personal notice cannot be served on the councilman complained of it shall direct service of notice by delivery at his last place of residence or by publication in two daily newspapers published in the city

Section 7 In the event of any vacancy occurring in said councils by death resignation or otherwise the mayor the city controller and the president of councils shall by a majority vote select and appoint a person eligible to election as councilman to fill said vacancy until the first Monday of December following the general municipal election at which an election to fill said vacancy could be held as herein provided

Section 8 Ordinances shall be introduced only at regular meetings and may be passed finally at any subsequent regular meeting Provided That before final action on any ordinance it shall be printed and a copy furnished to each member at least five days before it is called for final action and passage

If any proposed ordinance is amended it shall lie over until the next regular meeting and shall be reprinted and copies thereof furnished to the members at least five days before final action is taken thereon

Section 9 No ordinance resolution or other measure except emergency measures ordained or enacted by councils of any city of the second class in this Commonwealth shall become a law until the expiration of thirty days after its enactment An emergency measure shall be deemed to include only such measures as are immediately necessary for the temporary preservation of peace or health or for the safety of the community and shall not include more than one subject nor shall it grant or sell a franchise or license to a corporation firm or individual for a longer period than six months nor shall it include a provision for the purchase or sale by the municipality of real estate All emergency measures must be expressly stated to be such in the title and body of the measure and the facts creating the necessity shall be stated in one section of the measure and an emergency measure in order to become a law shall receive in its favor a two-thirds vote of all the members of council and shall be presented to and approved in writing by the mayor within ten days after its final passage by councils All emergency measures when passed and approved as above provided shall have full force and effect according to their provisions until amended or repealed or until disapproved on referendum as hereinafter provided

Section 10 That during the period of thirty days following the enactment of any ordinance resolution or other measure ten per centum of the registered voters of the municipality affected calculated upon the total number of votes cast for all candidates for the office of mayor at the last preceding election for that office may by referendum petition filed with the mayor demand that such ordinance measure or resolution or any part or parts thereof shall be submitted by referendum ballot to the voters of the municipality affected for final decision at the polls in the manner provided by this act and such ordinance resolution or other measure so submitted shall become a law or be effective or in case of an emergency measure remain in force and effect only in case it receives in its favor a majority of all the votes cast for and against the said measure Otherwise it shall be null and void and of no effect Provided That the portion of any measure upon which a referendum vote is not demanded shall become a law at the time measures upon which no referendum vote is demanded become laws And provided further That if the measure upon which referendum vote is pending be repealed before the day set for election no election shall be held and all proceedings shall be stayed

Section 11 Fifteen per centum of the registered voters of any city of the second class calculated upon the total number of votes cast for all candidates for the office of mayor at the last preceding election for that office may propose to the legislative authorities thereof a people's measure proposing the enactment of an ordinance resolution or other measure by initiative petition filed with the mayor who shall number the same as provided in section twenty-second of this act and shall promptly transmit three certified copies of the same to council omitting however the names and addresses of the petitioners Any peoples measure thus proposed by initiative petition to the council shall have precedence over all other measures except emergency measures and shall be finally acted upon either by its enactment without change or by the said council proposing a competing measure not later than within a period of one month from the filing of the said initiative petition with the mayor A competing measure competing with a peoples measure if proposed shall be proposed by passing the same in the manner provided by law for the enactment of other measures But no competing measure shall become a law unless it be approved by the electors at the polls in the manner provided for by this act Such competing measures shall bear the name “competing measure” and shall otherwise bear the same number and designating words as the corresponding measure proposed by initiative petition

Any peoples measure so proposed by initiative petition unless the same shall have been enacted without change within a period of one month from the filing of such petition with the mayor shall be submitted by the mayor by initiative ballot to the voters of the municipality affected together with any competing measure relating entirely to the same subject that may be proposed instead by council All such measures shall be submitted in such form that the voters can choose between the peoples measure proposed by initiative petition and the competing measure or reject both by marking a cross (x) in the square to the right of the words indicating their choice

Section 12 If a peoples measure proposed by initiative petition is enacted without change by council it shall not be submitted to the people for a referendum vote unless demanded by referendum petition as herein provided

Section 13 When there has been a competing measure proposed by council to compete with a peoples measure proposed by initiative petition at the polls the measure receiving in its favor a majority of the votes cast for and against both measures shall become a law

Section 14 Any measure on which a referendum vote of the people is demanded in accordance with section ten of this act shall be submitted to the voters of the municipality affected not later than the next succeeding municipal election provided the petition for the referendum vote shall have been filed with the mayor at least thirty days before such election and provided that the legality of the petition if contested shall have been decided finally and in favor of the petitioners at least three weeks before election day otherwise such measure shall be submitted by referendum ballot to a vote of the electors at the first general or special municipal election held thereafter

Section 15 Any people's measure proposed by initiative petition in accordance with the provisions of this act and not enacted without change within one month after the day of filing the petition with the mayor shall be submitted by initiative ballot together with any competing measure that may have been proposed by council to the voters of the municipality not later than the next succeeding municipal election provided at least sixty days intervene between the day of filing the petition with the mayor and the election day but in case sixty days would not intervene between the day of filing the petition and election day then the people's measure proposed by initiative petition and any competing measure proposed by council shall be submitted by initiativ ballot to a vote of the electors at the next succeeding genera or special municipal election held thereafter

Section 16 The mayor shall issue a proclamation such as is provided for in section twenty-five of this act and shall call a special election for the purpose of voting upon any measure as provided in this act if such special election b demanded either by a two-thirds vote of the legislative body or by the petitioners in the petitions filed otherwise the said vote shall be taken at the next general or special municipal election provided however that if at the time any ordinance resolution or other measure or portion thereof is ready for submission to the voters not more than three months will intervene until the next municipal election no specia election shall be held and provided further that no such special election shall be called except by proclamation of the mayor issued and published at least three weeks prior thereto and in accordance with the provision of section twenty-five of this act

Section 17 Ordinances resolutions or other measures or parts thereof in all such municipalities except the emergency measures provided for in section nine of this act upon which a referendum vote of the voters is not demanded as herein provided shall become and be in full force and effec at the expiration of thirty days after enactment unless the time be extended by the measures

Section 18 All ordinances resolutions or other measures submitted to a vote of the legal voters and approved by a majority of all the votes cast thereon shall become effective or become laws and be in full force and effect from and after the date of the official announcement of the vote unless otherwise provided in such ordinances resolutions or other measures All ordinances resolutions or other measures or parts thereof which have been submitted to a fina vote of the electors and not approved by a majority of all the votes cast thereon shall be null and void and of no effect

Section 19 The veto power of the mayor shall not extend to the ordinances resolutions or other measures which have been approved by the people at the polls in accordance with the provisions of this act

Section 20 The councils of any such city may enac measures expressly conditioned upon the ratification of the same by a majority of the voters voting thereon, Such measures shall be submitted as referendum measures are submitted but without requiring referendum petitions to be filed thereon

Any ordinance resolution or other measure passed by councils and intended to amend or repeal any ordinance resolution or other measure or part or parts thereof approved by the voters at the polls shall be submitted by referendum ballot to the voters for final action as referendum measures are so submitted by the provisions of this act but no referendum petition for the same shall be required and no such measure to amend or repeal such a measure shall be valid unless approved by the voters at the polls in accordance with the provisions of this act

Section 21 Referendum petitions required under section tenth of this act in case a vote on the whole measure enacted by ordinance or passed by resolution is desired shall set forth the official number of the measure and the ful title and full text of the measure In case only a portion of such ordinance resolution or other measure shall be requested to be submitted to a referendum vote the whole portion of such measure to be submitted shall be set forth in such petition together with the official number of the measure and the full title and text of the whole measure

Section 22 Initiative petitions immediately upon being filed with the mayor shall by him be numbered consecutively each municipality beginning with number one and continuing year after year without duplication of numbers Each person's measure proposed by initiative petition shall be designated in the proclamation provided for in section twenty-fifth as “people's measure number (...............)’ (giving its number) and by designating words not exceeding one hundred which may be selected by the petitioners and by the full title and text of the measure so proposed and the said people's measure shall be designated upon the officia ballots in exactly the same manner as in the proclamation except that the text of the body of the measure need not be printed upon the ballots Each competing measure proposed by council shall bear the same number and designating words as the corresponding people's measure both in the proclamation and upon the official ballots except that it shall have a suitable title and be called or named a competing measure instead of a people's measure Each measure or portion thereof upon which a vote of the electors has been requested by referendum petition shall be designated in the said proclamation as a “referendum petition or ordinance (resolution or other measure as the case may be or portion thereof as the case may be) number (...........)’ (giving the official number of the measure) together with the official title and the full text of the measure and the portion thereof to be submitted in case only a portion is to be submitted The designation of such a measure upon which a referendum vote has been requested shall be exactly the same upon the official ballots as in such proclamation except that the full text of the body of the measure need not be printed upon the official ballots

Section 23 All petitions filed with the mayor under the provisions of this act shall be public records and shall be open to inspection at all reasonable times As soon as any such petition is filed the mayor shall mark it filed with the date of filing and shall post a notice of that fact at a conspicuous place in the city hall notice to bear the date of its posting For a period of ten days after posting of such notice any registered voter or voters of the city who may wish to question the sufficiency of the said petition in any respect may do so by filing a petition in a court of commor

s of the county in which said city is situated which tion shall set forth specifically by way of exception the cts alleged If exceptions are taken to any of the signa-s such exceptions shall state specifically the names and esses of persons to whose signatures exceptions are n In case no such exceptions are filed within the said od of ten days the petition in question shall be deemed d and sufficient in every respect and shall not be further ect to question Provided however That in case exceps have been filed within the ten days they may be nded and enlarged at any time prior to the final order he exceptions but not afterwards in the discretion of the t having jurisdiction thereof ich exceptions shall be taken up and decided without y by said court and shall have precedent over all other ness Should the court find from the evidence that such umber of names should be stricken from the petition as ld reduce the number of signatures below the number ired by this act the court shall by order grant a reason-time to secure additional signatures Should exceps be taken to purely formal and technical defects in the Less than the majority required by the Constituti having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Mr. SHADRACH. Mr. Speaker, I desire at this time call up House Bill No. 533, file folio 2947, on page 40 of day's calendar, bills on third reading postponed for present.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading
House Bill No. 533, entitled:

An act authorizing and empowering cities and boroug in their corporate capacity to enact ordinances prescrib such reasonable regulations for the mining of coal bene said cities and boroughs as may tend to prevent the stling or caving in of the surface

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SHADRACH. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of House, I wish to make an explanation to the House in r-erence to the provisions of this bill. We are here seek an opportunity to relieve ourselves in the communities the anthracite region of a great and impending dang

t of the caving in of the surface of our roads or high- ys. We are asking the assembly to give us the authority regulate the mining of coal beneath our highways and lic buildings, in so far as we can, by ordinance. The estion as to whether or not we can regulate or interfere h the rights of anybody so mining coal, will be a estion to be subsequently determined by our courts, and are but asking you to assist us and to give us an op- tunity to try to do it, and I will appreciate the support the House in the matter of this bill.

The question recurring,

Vill the House agree to the bill on third reading?

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted the affirmative, the question was determined in the irmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate r concurrence.

Mr. HALFERTY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at is time House Bill No. 586, file folio 3127, on page 41 of -day's calendar, bills on third reading postponed for the esent.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of ouse Bill No. 586, entitled:

An act to amend the first second and fifth section of an t approved the twenty-ninth day of May Anno Domini e thousand nine hundred and nine entitled "An Act to ohibit the manufacture and sale of oleomargarine butterine and other similar products when colored in imitan of yellow butter to provide for license fees to be paid manufacturers wholesale and retail dealers and by proietors of hotels restaurants dining-rooms and boarding uses for the manufacture or sale of oleomargarine butterine or other similar products not colored or in imitation yellow butter and to regulate the manufacture and sale oleomargarine butterine or other similar products not lored in imtation of yellow butter and prevent and punh fraud and deception in such manufacture and sale as imitation butter and to prescribe penalties and punishent for violations of this act and the means and method procedure for its enforcement and regulate certain matters of evidence in such procedure" by further regulating the composition and sale of oleomargarine butterine or similar products regulating the licensing of manufacturers and dealers thereof and therein fixing the fees for licenses prescribing the duties of said manufacturers and dealers and repealing the fourth section of this act

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HALFERTY. Mr. Speaker, this bill is what is known as the oleomargarine bill. It provides that oleomargarine shall be sold for what it is, that is it shall be sold in packages plainly marked and with the name of the manufacturer thereon.

This bill was introduced by me at the urgent request of the labor organizations, business organizations, creamery butter dealers and jobbers, and workingmen in general from my section of the state.

A similar law was backed and passed by the grangers and butter people in the State of New York a year or so ago, without any requirement for the payment of a state license and this law in New York has been found to work absolutely satisfactorily to the butter people, consumers and oleomargarine people in general.

A similar bill has been presented in Congress at Washington and it is expected to become a law June 30th of this year. For this reason it is very important that our State law should be amended to conform with the National Law.

The objection to the present Oleomargarine Law is that no one, no matter how honest he may be, can knowingly obey or comply with the provisions of this law. The present law provides that oleomargarine can not be sold if it resembles yellow butter. The Dairy and Food Department of our state does not have jurisdiction in deciding what goods do or do not comply with the law. It is entirely a matter for the courts and juries to decide. So no dealer can tell or has no means of knowing whether the oleomargarine he is handling complies with the law or not.

For instance, a case was tried in Smethport, Pennsylvania, and another case in Pottsville, Pennsylvania, on identically the same piece of goods. In both cases it was sold as and for oleomargarine; the only point in question being that it resembled yellow butter. In Smethport the jury decided the defendant not guilty and placed the costs on the state. In Pottsville the jury found the defendant guilty and he had to pay the costs and fine. So you can see there is absolutely nothing to guide an honest dealer. At the present time a dealer to sell oleomargarine at retail must pay $100.00 per year and the very fact of his paying this license shows he is honest and intends to do a straightforward legitimate business, but as stated he cannot do this under our present law.

I have received letters and petitions galore from all sections of this state from the various labor organizations, boards of trade, granges, butter dealers, etc., urging the passage of my bill.

This is a fair, square, open and above board bill. Fair to the manufacturer, dealer, consumer and farmer.

This bill if enacted into a law will absolutely prevent all deception and fraud in the sale of oleomargarine. The people of the state want this bill and I know from my section of the state that a great hue and cry is being made against the unjust persecutions of this wholesome, healthful butter substitute. The consumers do not want to be compelled to buy white stuff, that looks like lard, and be put to the trouble of coloring it before they can put it on their tables.

If a bill should be passed by this state absolutely prohibiting the manufacture and sale of oleomargarine in this state it would not prevent manufacturers and dealers of other states from shipping into Pennsylvania oleomargarine "yellow as gold" direct to the consumers under the interstate commerce law. This being the case why should we not encourage the manufacture and sale of oleomagarine within our own state, thus using our own products such as milk, cream, butter and fats from the cattle of our own farmers, provided the necessary requirement is enforced compelling oleomargarine to be sold in original packages, as provided by my bill, so no fraud and deception can be practiced.

All I ask for is a fair consideration of this bill, as I know it is absolutely fair and right. If you want to protect the farmers and a law that will protect the workingman and the poor man vote for this bill. It is almost impossible at certain times for the working man, making the ordinary wages to pay forty-five and fifty cents a pound for butter. The price of Elgin creamery butter had advanced in the last ten years from the wholesale price of 17 cents per pound until this year, when the wholesale price has been 29 cents a pound for Elgin Creamery Butter. I hope you will give this bill an honest and fair consideration and vote for it.

Mr. AILMAN. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, I cannot allow this bill to pass without entering a most strenuous protest against it. Nothing has come before this House, and nothing will during this session, that means more to the farmers in the State of Pennsylvania than this bill, which if passed, will work a far greater injury to their interests than any other measure introduced, and if not passed, will be a move forward in the interest of justice.

In the first place, you are asking us for our support to a measure that will help one of the largest monopolies that has ever done business in the State of Pennsylvania—the Oleomargarine Trust. There are thirty-five oleomargarine manufacturers in the United States—at least so I am told on good authority—and these thirty-five oleomargarine manufacturers do not want any more manufacturers in that line of business. Complaint, no doubt, will be made about the license fee. If you will notice this particular bill, you will see that it provides for a reduction of the license of retail dealers and restaurant keepers, and users of oleomargarine, but it does not provide for a reduction of the manufacturers' license.

A large number of bills have been recently introduced in Congress, in the last preceding session, looking to the modification of the oleomargarine law, but not one of them that has been introduced has asked for a reduction in the manufacturers' license. And why is this? The reason is that they do not want any more manufacturers of oleomargarine. They are satisfied with having the business in their own hands. The manufacture of oleomargarine is not in the least an expensive business, and does not require the use of expensive machinery, and if they were allowed by law to make it without a license, the little fellow would go into the business and manufacture it, and your butcher and mine would make oleomargarine. If you want to have a cheap substitute for butter, you would be advocating this particular feature of the bill. There are those who want a reduction of the license. If you are in earnest, vote for the Keister bill, which comes upon our calendar in a few days, which gives to you that reduction without removing the defence of the farmer, as in the bill now under consideration.

If the manufacturers of oleomargarine had been honest when the law was first established, they would have put the goods on the market in exactly the shape it naturally is, and in the same condition it naturally is, and they would not have sought to deceive the public, but from the first they sought to deceive the public, and by offering a substitute composition for butter and coloring it they sought to deceive the consumer in making him believe that he was buying butter and at a better price. There are those who may get up and speak in defence of oleomargarine, who will claim that it is as good as butter, and better than most butter. If they believe that, they would be willing to sell it in such a way and in such shape as it naturally is. This bill does away with that part of the present law which prohibits the coloring of oleomargarine in an imitation of butter. "Yellow" is nature's trade mark for butter. If these people believed they were getting a substitute for butter which would stampede the butter market and cause the price of butter to fall, instantly they would have gotten it patented and would have obtained a trade mark. Consequently they are stealing the trade mark of butter. If you will take these restrictions away, down will go the butter market. You are buying your butter to-day for twenty-three cents a pound. Some people may get up and say that we cannot supply to-day the butter market in the State of Pennsylvania. But I want to say to you, gentlemen, that if you will give us a price, a fair and reasonable price, that the farmer in Pennsylvania can supply everybody with butter who wants it.

I am very much surprised at the clamor that has gone up from the laboring man in the advocacy of this bill. I am satisfied that they are being misled and imposed upon. One of the sources that surprised me the most was their journals, their labor papers. As you no doubt know, the papers come to our desks every week, at least they con to mine and I believe to yours. I may have paid more a tention to them than anyone else, but I have been surpris at the arguments used to make them think that oleomarg rine is a good substitute for butter. They say they use little milk and a little butter to color it, but they do n buy their butter in June, or the other ingredients that a in it. The laboring man in asking for this bill is simp asking that he be made to pay from five to fifteen cents pound more for oleomargarine than it is worth. There a national law which provides for a tax of ten cents pound on oleomargarine. No matter what you do here, t laboring man, if the administration at Washington has be honest, you will find that he will have to pay that t cents a pound, of course. No doubt everyone of you kno that the price of oleomargarine closely follows the pri of butter. You will not buy as cheap oleomargarine Pittsburg as you would buy in some other interior tow of the State, for the reason that butter is not the sa price. Oleomaragrine follows closely on the heels of bu ter; it always has and always will as long as you allo it to be made in imitation of butter Nowhere does t workingman benefit by this that I can see. He is simp misled and fooled by people who have an ax to grin
At the hearing that we had here a few weeks ago a gent man came down from Scranton, and appeared in defen of and spoke for the workingman. He told us that had some sixteen stores where he sold oleomargarine, a that his big profit was derived from the sale of it. That why the man was talking for the workingman and t consumer. We are not demanding to have white oleom garine. There is nobody demanding that the manufacture should make it white as the driven snow. Color it in a shade of the rainbow if you want to except yellow. Y do not object to other colors in other things that y eat. You may have ice cream at your dinner which is color a nice pink. The other day I had some which was of green shade. It was ice cream and tasted just as go as though it had been yellow ice cream and was just good to eat. A few moments ago I talked about monopoli and some persons might say that there might be a tru among the farmers. There are over two hundred thousa farmers in the State of Pennsylvania to-day, and it wou be an impossibility to so combine these farmers in such way that they would make one price for the butter a would not sell it for anything less. They never have tri to combine, and as I say, it will be impossible to do th even though they wanted to. Pass this bill and you wi drive the dairy cow out of Pennsylvania, and you are doi it if you pass this bill, in a larger measure than you thi
There are millions upon millions of these dairy cows in t
State of Pennsylvania. They mean a great deal more the State than the mere question of butter. They are t greatest preservative force in the natural fertility of t soil. If you take the dairy cow away you will deplete t soil still more, and a great deal more. Instead of doing th which will injure the fertility of the Pennsylvania far by defeating this bill, you will do that which looks to c serving and preserving them. Otherwise, instead of getti further away from the soil, in the future you will find th you will have to get closer to it. As my friend in the ba of the House said the other day, "Coal is the harvest fi or the wheat garners of the miner." That is true, but t supply will not last forever. While there are millions a millions of tons of coal, every ton that you take out lea one ton less in. My friend on the other side of the Ho the other day in talking about the tax on gas compan told us that the gas and oil operations in Pennsylvania we beginning to be a back number, and were going out of bu-ness, and you all know that you cannot replace them. I you have got somehow or other to provide for the futu and in doing this we will have to in a large measure lo to the dairy cow to help us. The farm provides your f and light very largely. You have all no doubt heard of natured alcohol. It is in its swaddling clothes yet, I aware, but a certain amount of the things necessary in production are provided for by the farm, and it is nec sary to preserve the soil in order to be able to take vantage of those productions.

The greatest economical question before the farmer day is the conserving and building up of the soil and p serving its fertility, and there has been nothing yet that serves to make the farmer a thinker and an investigat
A good friend of mine sitting in the back of the Ho

id to me the other day, "I have no acquaintance with ie farmers. I was raised in the city, but I have always zed up the farmer to compare with the laboring man and ie small merchant of the city." I want to say to you entlemen, that I will give you the biggest proposition you ver handled, and one that you may study for the next n years with profit, and if you will tell me all about it t that time, I will crown you a greater man than I have ver known before. I will give you a cubic foot of soil. ell me of what it is composed, the condition of it and the ossibilities of it, and exactly the best way to handle it r the generations now and the generations to come, and ou will have earned the applause of the nation, not to ay of all nations. By defeating this bill you could do othing more for the benefit of the generations to come or rovide a method that will help to retain the fertility of ie Pennsylvania farms, but if you should pass this bill here is nothing that you could do that would tend more o injure the farmer and drive the dairy cow out of Pennylvania. I hope, gentlemen, that you will defeat this bill.

Mr. J. N. HUNTER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the louse, in reply to the gentleman from Allegheny who talked pon this matter a few moments ago, I want to say that ome time ago I received a pamphlet through the mail in vhich I found quoted that the brotherhood of locomotive iremen were in favor of and endorsed this bill. I want o say to the members of the House that after I received his communication that I went home—the House having djourned at the end of the week—and I met the secretary f this organization on the streets of my home town, and asked him if that organization had endorsed this measure. He said, "Positively not; we took no action in this natter and gave nobody any authority to use our name."

Mr. MILLS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, oming as I do from the county which produces the most lairy product of any in the whole world, I fear I would iot be serving my constituents were I to remain seated vhile this bill is under consideration. The bill is a bad ill and should be defeated. The distinguished gentleman rom Allegheny tells you that it is aimed to sell oleomargaine for what it is. That is not the purpose of this bill, ut in reality, gentlemen of the House, the bill will allow leomargarine to be sold for what it is not. This will llow oleomargarine to be colored in imitation of butter nd put on the market. And you will find if that is pernitted that it will finally be sold as butter and thereby inure in its very foundations one of the greatest industries f the State. I refer to the farming interests, and would all your attention to the fact that the farmers in the State f Pennsylvania have millions upon millions of dollars invested in this industry. This bill will benefit nobody exept one of the largest trusts in the United States, and I efer to the "Beef Trust." By the provisions of this bill they can bring their butter to us in such shape that you or I or any pjerson cannot tell whether it is oleomargarine or butter or a similar product. This bill provides that the license for the manufacturers shall remain the same, while the licenses of the retailers is reduced from one hundred dollars to eighteen dollars, thereby increasing the opportunity for the sale of it and allowing the manufacturer to put the Oleomargarine on the market in the same shape as yellow butter. I ask you members of the House to record your votes against this measure, and thereby protect this great industry in the State of Pennsylvania.

The SPEAKER. It is near the time for adjournment. The Chair desires to say that if there is no objection the discussion of this bill will be resumed at 3.15 this afternoon The Chair hears no objections.

SENATE MESSAGE.

SENATE INSISTS ON AMENDMENTS IN HOUSE BILL NO. 312.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced informed that the Senate has insisted upon its amendments non-concurred in by the House of Representatives in House Bill numbered and entitled as follows:

House Bill No. 312:

An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 312.

Mr. CARROLL. Mr. Speaker, I move you that the House insists upon its non-concurrence in the Senate amendments, and that a committee of conference be appointed.

Mr. MARVIN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to and the Chair appointed as a committee on the part of the House Messrs. Carroll, John R. K. Scott and Allen.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to report bills from the Committee on Appropriations at this time.

I take great pleasure in announcing to the House of Representatives that the bills as presented to the House from the Committee on Appropriaions to-day are within the purview of the State's revenues for the next two years.

The committee from its inception realized that according to the fundamental law of the State it had certain prescribed duties to perform and that it was not fair to them nor to the people of this great State of ours to shirk their duty nor shift responsibility, which has been done in the past.

Great care and attention has been given each institution regardless of location or character and we have to the best of our ability tried to work out this great proposition of charity in a way that will work justice and equity to all.

I sincerely trust that the members of this great body realize to the fullest extent the great and stupenduous problem we had to work out and will show their confidence in this committee by sustaining them in their findings.

For the first time in history the chairmen of the Appropriations Committees of the Senate and House have co-operated in working out this proposition, which has not only been of vast benefit to the working out this question, but also to the many institutions of our State.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

TUESDAY, May 9, 1911.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The House met at 3.00 o'clock P. M.

The Speaker (JOHN F. COX) in the Chair.

The SPEAKER. When the House adjourned at noon day the bill under discussion was House Bill No. 586, e folio 3167.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, and members of e House, I have taken the floor to speak upon several ocsions, perhaps oftener than I should have, but had it been y option to speak only upon one matter during the session this House to try to persuade this House to look upon it I look upon it, it would have been this particular mease. My reason for that is because there is involved in is question one of the very largest industries in the State Pennsylvania. It is an industry in which there are out two million people vitally interested; a particular terest from which there are about fifty million dollars of come. Now, then an interest of that magnitude is at ake why should not this House give it careful consideraon? You perhaps all know, as well as myself, that there e constantly cropping out in this House questions of local terest. There are questions here that interest the citins of Philadelphia alone. There are questions here that terest the mining interests of this State, and that interest most alone. I am speaking of those interests being dictly affected. Now, I feel that this House ought to feel e proposition when this great interest, involving an inestment of a larger capital, or at least as much as any her interest in the State of Pennsylvania, comes before u unanimously asking for the consideration of is question from their standpoint, that you ought give them careful consideration. I understand, entlemen of the House, very well that indirectly any of the laboring classes of the people of is State feel that it is a bread and butter question with em, but the indirect benefit of this legislation to the laoring class of this State is greater to the agricultural inrests than it is to the interests of any one particular roduct put upon their table. I want to make this stateent clear to the House. There is no controversy between e agriculturists of this State and the men who manufacre oleomargarine. The agriculturists of this State are ank and plain to those who desire to manufacture oleoargarine and sell that product to the people if they will so in such form that the people may know what they e using. There is no conflict. We ask for no special gislation. We ask for no protection notwithstanding the ct that it has been the policy of this national government om the time almost from its foundation to legislate in e interests of the people by certain protective laws. You now, as well as I do, that the party which I especially epresent on the floor of this House has always believed in lacing upon the national statutes legislation which would enefit certain interests of this government. We are not sking that. You know, as well as I do, that the great rinciple of this government is protection for the citizens of the United States. We do not ask for such protection. You know that if a genius through his mind invents a mechanism that this government says we will give you a patent to protect you for seventeen years, as an encouragement to the inventive genius. We do not ask for such protection. You know, as well as I do, that public policy along all lines has been considered by our government. You know, as well as I do, that when this government was founded one of the powers conferred upon the States, was that they might engage in banking business; that each State should have reserved to itself the right to give the power to the banking business. You know, as well as I do, that the national government, after giving that power to the State, a little later on in history discovered that it was not a wise policy and then the national government says we will tax them out of existence. Thus they placed a five per cent. tax upon State banks. Why? Because it was good public policy. Now, the question at issue is, will you permit a product which from time immemorial has been recognized as one of the greatest interests of the agriculturists not only in the State of Pennsylvania, but of this great Union, are you going to deny us due consideration. By the way, using the word agriculturists, I am not a farmer, but my interests are with the farmer, and I want to tell you why I feel a kindly interest in the agriculturists. I recognize in their struggles that they have never in the way of legislation received any special benefits. I know in their business that they have been compelled to struggle along against the markets of the world. They are so situated for their mutual protection. They are not asking for anything of the kind. But this is the point at which the farmer and agriculturist comes here and says, will not the Legislature of Pennsylvania at least protect us in a way by legislation that this great product of ours cannot through imitation be foisted upon the people. Now, that is all we ask; all we ask is that when this product is put upon the market that it shall be so placed before the people that in its most minute form you can detect it as counterfeit or detect it in its natural condition. By all the legislation of all the States and the national government we have concluded and become convinced that there is but one way that you can give us this protection. How is it? From time immemorial butter has been known by a certain color. The people have been educated to that condition. They look upon the color in butter as that which we call butter yellow. It is the only trade mark we have. It is the only trade mark we have ever reaped any benefit from. Will you take that trade mark from us? You may say that is not a trade mark, but you must know that that trade mark was given to us by a high law. It was given to us by common law, because we builded it up from time immemorial, and we only ask of you to look upon it from that standpoint. It is not the result of a statute, but a something deeper and stronger than the statute. It is common law from conditions that grew up around it.

Now, those people come here and tell you on the other side that all they want is a fair field. Did you ever know of any man who asked for a fair field that wanted to put up a false flag? When the product of the oleomargarine is manufactured it is almost paper white, and if they put it upon the market in that condition and allow it to stand upon its own bottom, and drive the agricultural interests out of the markets we would take our hats off and go into some other business. From the first inception—from the first time it was put upon the market they put it upon the market so as to deceive the public and make them believe they were buying a product that they were not buying. I want to say to the members of this House and to the agricultural interests that when you come here and say to us this is the law we want: we are on the ground; we understand the mining question, and that is the law we want, we agriculturists, almost to the last man say we will take you at your word. We would take your advice and we have supported it. The great cities of this Commonwealth have come and told us the same, and almost to the last man we have taken you at your word, that you know what is best for your interests. Now, we come here as agriculturists and we say to you sincerely and honestly, this is our great interest; won't you believe us? Won't you believe us when we say to you that this is our just right, that this law gives the protection that we are entitled to? We do not ask for any legislation. All we want to-day is to prevent these people from getting the legislation to place this imitation upon the market. It is they who are asking for the condition that is not natural. It is they who are asking for the unnatural condition, and the only reason they ask for the unnatural right to color the oleomargarine is because they want to deceive the public. I do not believe there is any use in my urging this point any further on this House. I believe the House will look upon the question as we do; it is a question upon which the agricultural interests stand to the last man. It is a thing that the members ought to consider very carefully. I think all the members here, those men interested in agriculture ought to take our word for it that we are asking for something necessary and that is for our best interests, and our interest is the interest of the others, an interest which lies within the borders of our State. Why should you listen to these people who want to foist this imitation. I hope that you will not, and that you will defeat this. I know the agricultural interests have their eyes on the Legislature of Pennsylvania to see or know whether that Legislature will treat this great interest as it should be treated.

Mr. HALFERTY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Baldwin.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Baldwin, allow himself to be interrogated.

Mr. BALDWIN. Gladly, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HALFERTY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman why the grangers of the State of Pennsylvania oppose this bill when the grangers passed the same bill in New York one year ago?

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, for the simple reason that according to their very best judgment they believed that they have the right to put butter of a certain color upon the market, and knowing from twenty years' experience that if oleomargarine was permitted to be colored that it would be surreptitiously and fraudulently sold, being so convinced to the last man. If the citizens of some other portion of the United States think different, that is not the question for this Legislature. The question for this Legislature is what do the people of Pennsylvania think? What do the farmers of Pennsylvania think? And what do they want in reference to it? They speak openly and loudly. I think the Legislature should heed them, and not go following false gods in some other portion of the United States where perhaps conditions are not similar.

Mr. HALFERTY. Mr. Speaker, there is another matter that I wish to take up, and that is the point that Mr. Hunter referred to this morning, saying that petitions have been sent from his county that were not bona fide, and for that reason I want to read this affidavit:

"State of Pennsylvania
County of Dauphin } ss:

"Personally appeared before me, the subscriber, a Notary Public in the city of Harrisburg, county aforesaid, J. A. Ohl, who, being duly sworn, doth depose and say that he is a resident of the city of Pittsburg, county of Allegheny, State of Pennsylvania, and that he has in his possession in the city of Pittsburg the original signed petitions and resolutions mentioned in the attached pamphlet and also in the supplementary list attached thereto, and further that he has many other similar petitions received too late to classify, endorsing the Halferty Oleomargarine Bill now before the House of Representatives in the city of Harrisburg and is willing to produce same as quickly as same can be received from the aforesaid city of Pittsburg, and to the best of his knowledge and belief these petitions are absolutely true and authentic, and further saith not.

"Subscribed and sworn to before me this ninth day of May, A. D. 1911.

GEORGE BERGER

"J. H. OHL. (Seal)."

Notary Public.
My commission expires March 6, 1915.
(Notarial Seal).

Mr. JAMES N. HUNTER. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the affidavit just read I want to state just as I did this morning that when I received that circular after the House adjourned I met the Secretary of the Brotherhood of Firemen No. 561, of Pottsville, Robert Green, and asked him why they had passed a set of resolutions asking the members of the House of Representatives to vote for this oleomargarine bill, and he told me positively that they did not pass these resolutions, and did not authorize anybody to use their name.

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, I have been actively connected with the labor movement for thirty years, and I am still connected with, and I know of no such action on the part of a labor union that I am connected with of endorsing an oleomargarine bill. It been said on the floor here that this soap fat was workingman's butter. I wish to deny that. That is an sult in the face of my people; that the class that produ the food, the clothing and the shelter, that this soap fa that classes' butter. I hold that it is not the working c that appeals for this kind of food, that while producing food they always demand the best of food. There is an adage which says, "It was a meal fit for the king." I ways say a meal fit for the workingman. That is my st Soap fat as food for the workers because it is cheap not benefit the workingman. Any one understanding law of wages will know that the cheaper the living lower the wages also. Whenever you grind your stand of living down, you grind our class down. I voice the se ment of my class, and I tell you we do not want this s fat for our butter. We do not want it, we are oppose it, and I hope that this bill falls. I do not want it sai the face of the working man that this soap fat is the w ing man's butter. It is not.

Mr. AILMAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrog the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Halferty.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Halferty, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HALFERTY. Certainly, Mr. Speaker .

Mr. AILMAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask gentleman whether he stated that colored oleo is allo to be sold in the State of New York.

Mr. HALFERTY. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AILMAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like the gentle to tell us when that law was passed.

Mr. HALFERTY. Mr. Speaker, I am not able to say do not really know.

Mr. AILMAN. Mr. Speaker, I took the pains to send the laws of the State of New York and got them just other day. I am sorry that I do not have them in my ha here, but they state to the contrary, that colored ole not allowed to be sold. On the contrary, there is a pending, if it has not already passed before the New Y Legislature that forbids the use of anything suggestiv the dairy or of the field in connection with the sale of o margarine. That same law exists in the State of Ohio have also that in my possession, showing that these pe in our neighboring States understand the interests of agricultural people, and that New York is not dispose jeopardize its more than one and one-half dairy cows artificial butter.

Just in line with what the gentleman from Reading stated I would like to call this House's attention to t Whether you can afford to reduce the scale of living of agricultural class. We are hearing a great deal about standard of living in connection with the laborers in various lines of employment, and they have always the hearty sympathy and support of the Pennsylvania fa ers. Can you afford to make the Pennsylvania farmer on a lower scale than he lives? If not defeat this bill this afternoon.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker, I move that the ther consideration of this bill be postponed indefinitely.

Mr. KNIGHT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. SHERN. Mr. Speaker, I desire at this time to call up Senate Bill No. 296, page 44 of to-day's calendar, bills on final passage postponed for the present.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 466 (Senate No. 296), entitled:

An act providing for the merger and consolidation of street railway and motor power companies

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SHERN. Mr. Speaker, when this bill was on third reading last week there was no explanation as regards some of its provisions. Since that time I have made it my business to find out what this bill means and I desire to explain to the members of this House just what this bill means. When street railways were incorporated in Pennsylvania they were not authorized by law to equip street railways with electric power except in cities of the first, second and third class. The Act of March 22, 1877, authorized the organization of what were known as motive power companies for the purpose of equipping and operating street railways with the electric power. The motor power company did not possess the right to build street railways, but solely the right to equip and operate them by electricity. This made necessary the incorporation of a street railway company to acquire the right of way and construct the tracks and also the incorporation of motive power companies to equip the street railway with all the necessary electrical apparatus to operate the same, including overhead wires, power appliances, electric cars, etc. Motor power companies also had the right to lease street railway properties under this act, and in many instances motor power companies in this state leased connecting lines of several street railways. In such cases it necessitated the maintaining of the charters and separate organizations of the underlying companies, as well as the motor companies leasing the same. The Act of May 15, 1895, gave motor power companies the franchise to own and operate the property of underlying companies, those lines running on township roads or country roads, and the Senate bill now under consideration has been necessitated for the country street railways which are being operated by motive power companies, giving them the right to merge and consolidate the underlying street railway with the motor power company, thereby relieving such companies of the necessity of keeping alive the underlying corporations with the necessary inconvenience and expense of maintaining the same, including the officers and maintenance of the properties to accomplish results which could be accomplished by one organization. Railway companies are authorized to merge and consolidate for this purpose. Street railway companies are authorized to merge and consolidate for this purpose, and as street railway companies have been given the right to operate the lines by electricity under Acts of Assembly and under decisions of the Supreme Court the necessity for keeping alive motor power companies does not exist so far as street railway companies are concerned, and where the motor power companies own and operate the street railway companies, and do not want to maintain separate organizations, in order to give them the right to merge or consolidate under the same conditions as the railway companies have, this bill is proposed, and the street railway companies now have the right to merge and consolidate. It simply applies to the country or township trolley roads.

Mr. ALTER. Mr. Speaker, when this bill was voted upon the other day, I voted against it as a matter of precaution because I did not have an opportunity to examine it. Since it was then voted upon I have made some examination on my own account, and have reached the same conclusions stated by my friend, the gentleman from Philadelphia. It seems quite clear to me that under this bill there can be no organization which would be detrimental to the interests of the public. Therefore it seems to me the bill ought to pass.

Mr. AILMAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have a little further information before I am prepared to vote on this bill, if the gentleman from Philadelphia, or the gentleman from Allegheny will give it.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shern, allow himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHERN. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AILMAN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to know whether this law authorizes the merging of competing lines?

Mr. SHERN. Mr. Speaker, there is nothing, as I take it, which would authorize the merging of competing lines, nothing in this bill. This bill simply provides for the merging of motor power companies that were formerly organized under the Act of 1887 to equip street railway companies. Motor power companies the bill calls for, and trolley companies. In other words, they now have the right under the decisions of the Supreme Court to merge in the cities, but they have not received the right in the country and townships. That is my explanation of the bill as far as I can give it.

Mr. AILMAN. Mr. Speaker, if that is so, I have no objection to the bill.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Jefferson, Mr. Wilson.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, before this bill goes to a vote I desire to take just a few minutes of your time to give a brief explanation. I have introduced three bills relating to forestry—this bill, No. 193, and House Bill No. 338 and House Bill No. 339. This bill, No. 193, is known as the Department bill. The others relate to auxiliary reserve. When this bill was on final passage before there appeared on the calendar the title as it was originally and it took in the right of eminent domain. If you will remember it was objected to when that provision was in the bill, by the gentleman from Juniata and also by the gentleman from Cameron. After a great deal of difficulty it was amended to meet the objection. As the bill now stands it amends the general act creating the department of forestry, which was passed in 1901 in four parts—in section 1 to section 3. The first part is that it changed the old law as to advertising. Whenever the Forestry Commission let a contract or had anything to do that required advertising in the newspapers, they were required under the old law to advertise for four weeks in succession. It is the desire of this bill to reduce that advertising from four to three weeks and in connection therewith if a bond is necessary it shall be given to the State for the faithful performance and execution of any contract to be entered into by any individual with the Forestry Commission that bonds now is to be approved by the local court, and under this bill it would be approved by the Governor the same as bonds of notaries public. The second amendment is that under the old law there was conferred no right or privilege of this Forestry Commission or department of granting rights of way to people who have lands back of the forestry preserve. This bill changes it so that they would have the right when it shall appear that no damage will result to the forestry preserve and the interests of the Commonwealth will be permitted to grant the right of way to people who may have lands back of the forestry reserves. The third change that is under the law as it stands now it is provided that they may make reports to the public. This amended bill would give the right to publish bulletins financially or otherwise relating to work or subject to what the department may care to bring to the attention of the public. These three provisions are not seriously objected to by any man who has objected to this bill at any time in so far as I know.

But the fourth amendment, the fourth provision, which takes away the limit of the price per acre which the Forestry Commission and the Governor and the Auditor General, who approve it, and if they should make up their minds that it would be desirable to purchase a certain property to take off the limit of five dollars per acre to be paid for forestry land. This provision, this intended amendment, is very much opposed by the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Flynn, and by the gentleman from Cameron, Mr Howard. It is upon this particular point that I wish for just a few moments to speak and to which I wish to call your attention. I have investigated the reasons why this should be done and I think the time is here when the limit of the price per acre to be paid for forestry reservation lands should be taken off. As it now stands not a single acre can be acquired by this State that costs more than five dollars per acre. In round numbers the Legislature appropriated every two years the sum of three hundred thousand dollars for the purchase of forestry land. As it now stands all lands must be limited to a price of five dollars an acre. The Forestry Commission has been much hampered by reason of that provision. Time and time again they have desired to acquire lands that are contiguous to the lands that they already have, but owing to this provision to purchase at the required limit they were prevented from so doing because the price would be more than five dollars an acre. Any one who has taken pains to go into the Forestry Department of this Commonwealth to examine their maps will find them full of white places where they were unable to make purchase of land and where they were surrounded by these reserves. Some people will argue that as long as cheap lands can be had in this State that are adapted to forestry purpose that not an acre that would cost more than five dollars should be purchased. I say that that is not good argument. It has been the experience that they have been obliged to buy lands at less than five dollars an acre, and in many instances when it was worth perhaps twenty dollars an acre it could not be secured when it would have been good policy to have secured that land. In one instance in Adams County there was a piece of land, just last summer, surrounding the land of an individual upon which there was a second growth of timber valued at far more than five dollars an acre. It was desired by the department that they should acquire it and it would have been a most desirable thing for the department to have acquired it, but this limit prevented them from doing so, and the owner of the land had a fire in this tract and it burned all over the reserves belonging to the state, and therefore there was a loss here that might have been prevented. It will be argued that it will open the door for fraud, and that the commission will spend money for expensive land and allow the cheap lands to go unbought. I desire to say to you, Mr Speaker and gentlemen of the House, that if you take off the limit of land you will put the responsibility on these people by bond, and have protection to that extent. The people who compose the Forestry Commission will be responsible. You will in addition put the responsibility upon the Governor and upon the Auditor General, who is pledged to approve every purchase. Again, if there is to be fraud, is it not much easier to accomplish it in low priced lands than in high priced lands? It has been the experience of the Department that it is hard to negotiate with people who have lands to sell and get it at the right price They will argue, you are permitted to pay five dollars an acre, and why not get it. They have made a record showing that the average price paid for land per acre in this State has been $2.24 per acre. There seems to have been an effort made to put the Forestry Commission into disrepute. It is not within my province to defend the Forestry Department, but as an individual member I wish to say to this House that I have investigated this department and in so far as I have been able to look into the work of the Forestry Department I want to say to you, gentlemen, that in my humble judgment their work has been well done. But we may say, for the sake of argument, that it has not been well done Suppose it has not been well done, and supposing there is something personal between the gentlemen who oppose this bill and the members who compose the Forestry Commission, is that any reason why the State should be deprived of the privilege of buying lands if it has the right to buy in any place where it costs more than five dollars an acre, and in support of that proposition I wish to say this. For example, and not for any personal reason and not to be personal, because the gentlemen who oppose this bill have my highest esteem; they have a right to oppose the measure, and I have an equal right to stand here and appeal to this House to give my county a chance to dispose of land in my county to the State at a fair value, and for the sake of an example I wish to refer to the little county of Cameron, which has sold to the State of Pennsylvania for forestry reservation the great aggregate of sixty-seven thousand acres of land. The County of Jefferson unfortunately is on the western slope of a water shed and has not sold one acre of forest reservation to this State. Is that fair? I can tell you why it is. It is because you cannot buy lands in Jefferson County in large quantities for forestry reservation at the price of five dollars an acre. These gentlemen may have some personal interest or they may not; I don't know; it is barely possible, however, that these gentlemen are interested. Of course I don't know that, but they could be interested in the lands and in the sale of the lands in some of the counties, and if they are all right let them do it; let them argue, and let them appeal, but I want to say this to the gentlemen of the House, why are the lands—all forestry lands that are sold to the State in counties where the lands are poor; where the rocks are plenty and where rattlesnakes and rabbits abound and where they are on the mountain. Those lands will never be of any more value than they are now. If ever the western part of Pennsylvania is to have any forest preservation the time is now. All desirable lands are having but little of a scant growth and are being cut away to the last stick. I say it is unfair to spend three hundred thousand dollars a year upon it and to put it all into cheap lands. I don't want to be understood for a moment as standing here advocating the purchase of expensive lands, as a general principle. My c tention is that the State buy such of the cheap lands as particularly adapted to forestry purposes, but where it practicable and where it is necessary and where it wo connect up the forestry reserves, one with another secti that then they ought to acquire land where such land wo be available and where it would be well to consider a n preserve I say it is wise, and I will be conservative in statement when I say that it would be a good principle go over there and spend at least a little of this money more desirable lands.

The time is coming in Pennsylvania when forestry is go to be one of the leading questions before us. We are h in this House and we sit supinely by passing bill after on appropriations and with appropriations on all sides them, but are we calculating how much the forestry reser of Pennsylvania are considered. Pennsylvania oil is be exhausted. The time is also coming when the coal is going be limited in the western end of the State and then wh will be left in Pennsylvania? You will have agricultu water power and forestry. The time is not far dista when we will have to adopt water power to make electrici to turn the wheels of our mills and for locomotion rat than steam, and if that is not so I am badly mistaken. would like to call your attention to a very strong editor which was written in favor of this bill. It has not be just altogether fair to have a bill of this kind opposed, a with all due respect to my esteemed friends who are posed to this measure I want to say to you gentlemen rig here that the people who can stand here and vote for wh we have voted, and that the people who can unload bi upon the Senate as we have done it seems to me that it in very poor taste to oppose a measure of this kind that w give some of our western counties a chance to furn land to the Forestry Department. Gentlemen, I know th I have spoken with a little more feeling than perhaps ma of you think I ought to show, but I want to g you—as I am giving you—evidence of good faith, and wh I am giving you, I wish to say, is evidence of this kind an stand here advocating a principle that is vital to the terests of the State of Pennsylvania. Can you by any m ner of thinking vote against this bill? Can you bring your conscience in any manner, in all fairness to this b vote against it and overthrow what is involved in this b Can you bring it to your conscience to help somebody in t interest of what is involved? I make it as earnest as know how and I ask you to support this measure, no matt what interest may be brought against it, and I want to s in clonsusion that I would not have spoken this way i had not been informed that the very highest interests wou be brought against it. I want to say to you if you wh vote for this bill you are not making a mistake and will fully appreciate the favor.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to state my positi on this measure briefly and concisely notwithstanding t argument, the very eloquent argument of the gentleman fr Jefferson. There is just one thing that I see in this b which causes me to believe that it should be voted do and that is the matter of removing the price limit which to be paid for lands purchased by the Forestry Departme The original intent in creating the Forestry Departm was for the purpose of purchasing what are known as str ped lands, so that they might be held by the Commonweal and protected from fires until such time as in the course nature they would become more valuable. But what we find the situation to be to-day? We find that the Co missioner of Forestry has gone into the lumber busine that he has erected sawmills with which he is manufact ing or producing the product of timber, which the gent man from Jefferson is so concerned about. He comes here with a report in which he shows in three years ope tion in such a plant the returns were the magnificent pr of less than eleven hundred dollars, without charging a thing against stumpage. I tell you, Mr. Speaker and gent men of the House, that this proposition that we are against in this bill is just that. It is not because he wa to conserve, but he wants the price limit removed so th he can purchase any strip lands and forestry lands and c tinue in the manufacture of lumber. I find at the he of this very profitable enterprise which he is conducti one of his own sons; I find that it is in his charge. I ha heard quite a number of men that are employed in o way or another in connection with this work, and I wi say for the information of the members of this House t there are hundreds of thousands of acres of land ughout this Commonwealth such as were contemplated the originators of this department to be purchased by State for forestry purposes that can be had at much than five dollars per acre. Neither myself nor any of friends that I know of have any lands to sell to the te, neither am I interested in any way, personally, but I say this, that I know as a matter of fact that there are y thousand acres of land available for this purpose, it has been proven by the report of the Commissioner t the average price paid thus far has been less than $2.50 acre. Why, therefore, should he come here at this time ask that this five dollar limit be removed. I hope that members of the House will vote down this bill.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I have voted persis- tly against this bill but after a very careful examination it in its present form I am thoroughly convinced that is wise legislation. I appreciate that the great State Pennsylvania has a very large amount of territory that vailable for forestry purpose and I appreciate that there many, many different conditions that exist. I reciate that there may probably be places where the t possible interests of this State can be served by en- ging the power of this particular branch of our govern- it. The fact that has impressed me most is the honesty h which this department has been conducted along the s that are in the interest of this State. It is a fact t the limit has been five dollars an acre. As a matter of t it appears that over one million of acres have been ight at an average price of a little over $2.00—$2.24 acre. It is a matter of fact that those who have man d that department must have managed it as honestly we can expect a man to manage affairs of this kind. I 't believe that we are doing a dangerous thing in en- ging the power of this department. We have had pres- ed to us reports from that department and a statement facts that certain conditions do exist. I think it would in the interest of public policy to enlarge the powers of s department and I think we ought to take a step for- rd.

Mr. KNIGHT. Mr. Speaker, I have followed this mat- t very carefully and I believe that it is for the best in- est of the State, for the present time, to permit the law w in existence to stand, as it is sufficient for the forestry partment. I don't think there is any call for any fur- r legislation at this time and I think this bill should be eated.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Mr. HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up House Bill No. 524, page 40 from to-day's calendar, bills on third reading postponed for the present.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 524, entitled:

An act to provide increased revenue by providing that corporations limited partnerships and joint stock associations shall annually pay a tax of four mills on each dollar of the value of all their bonds mortgages and other securities whether owned by them in their own right or not unless such assets or the proceeds thereof in case of dissolution would be divided among the individual stockholders of such corporation as stockholders thereof in proportion to the number of shares of stock held by each of them or among the members of such limited partnership or joint stock association as members thereof in proportion to their individual subscriptions to the capital thereof

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading.

Mr. HOWARD. Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Howard.

Mr. HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, this bill does not increase the taxes whatever. It was held up last week at the request of a party that wanted a hearing on it. They told me last night that he didn't care to have the hearing and for that reason it is now called up. It provides for a four-mill tax on all investment companies who have bonds.

Mr. FREEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cameron.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Howard, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOWARD. Yes, sir.

Mr. FREEMAN. The gentleman says this bill does not increase the taxes. I would like to know why it is entitled "an act to increase revenue by providing a four-mill tax."

Mr. HOWARD. All tax bills are headed that way. I believe this bill is more particularly intended to cover the Provident Life and Trust Company of Philadelphia, who have a capital stock on which there is paid a five-mill tax. They also have bonds which they own and which they invest as trustee. The four-mill tax is to cover those bonds.

Mr. FREEMAN. It does not in any way increase the taxation at the present time?

Mr. HOWARD. That would be hard to answer. It does not increase the regular tax. The question is whether the Provident Trust Company have bonds upon which they are not paying taxes to-day. I cannot tell whether they have such bonds or not and on that account I cannot say whether it would increase their taxation or not.

Mr. FREEMAN. It seems to me that this is dangerous legislation to put upon the statute books a law the effect of which cannot be told until it is enacted into a law. I would like to know what its effect would be.

Mr. DEARDEN. If the gentleman from Cameron, who is the sponsor for this bill don't know what it provides for how shall we know, who have not examined the bill in detail, know what its effect will be.

Mr. HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I do know what it provides—it provides for four-mill tax on all bonds.

Mr. DEARDEN. In answer to my question the gentleman said he could not state and that it would be hard to answer. What is he driving at, and if he does not know how shall we know.

Mr. HOWARD. I know what it provides for; it is a four-mill tax on any bonds anybody owns. There is a certain trust company in Philadelphia which they believe has bonds on which they are not paying any tax, and whether they have or not or how large they are I don't know. I do know that this bill will make them pay that tax if they have those bonds.

Mr. DEARDEN. This State does not need that revenue. As I have stated on various occasions, we are running to riotous extremes in this direction, imposing unnecessary taxes for revenue. In my opinion this State does not need this revenue, and this bill is wholly unjustifiable. I hope the House will vote it down.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—1.

Kelly, M.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE.

Mr. GANS asked and obtained unanimous consent to re-report a bill from the committee at this time.

Mr. GANS, from the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation, re-reported as amended House Bill No. 777 (Senate No. 261), entitled:

An act relating to the right to practice medicine and surgery in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and providing a Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure as a sub-department of the Department of Public Instruction and means and methods whereby the right to practice medicine and surgery and any of its collateral and minor branches may be obtained and exemptions therefrom and providing for an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act and providing for revocation or suspension of licenses given by said bureau and providing for penalties for violation thereof

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. SCHOFIELD. Mr. Speaker, I desire at this time to call up House Bill No. 432 (Senate Bill No. 222), file folio 2493, on page 44 of to-day's calendar, bills on final passage.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 432 (Senate No. 222), entitled:

An act authorizing road supervisors in townships of the second class to aid in the construction of sidewalks along public highways through towns and villages in said townships

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. HOBBS. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point.

Mr. HOBBS. Mr. Speaker, I do not think this bill has been reconsidered since it was defeated. This bill was defeated on April 25 by a vote of 59 to 54.

The SPEAKER. The point of order raised by the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Hobbs, is not well taken. This bill was reconsidered on May 2nd and placed on the postponed calendar, but because it is mislaid at this time we will pass it for the present.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT.

Mr. SHERN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to recommit at this time House Bill No. 891 (Senate No. 298), entitled:

An act authorizing and empowering cities and boroughs in their corporate capacity to enact ordinances prescribing such reasonable regulations for the mining of coal beneath said cities and boroughs as may tend to prevent the settling or caving in of the surface on page 55 of to-day's calendar for the purpose of a hearing.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent? Is there any objection?

Mr. SHANNON. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objections.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. SHOEMAKER. Mr. Speaker, I desire at this time to call up House Bill No. 584 (Senate No. 49), file folio 4781, page 43 of to-day's calendar, bills on final passage.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 584 (Senate No. 409), as follows:

An act to authorize the publication of the report of the late Doctor Leonard Pearson upon the discovery and suppression of the outbreak of foot and mouth disease among cattle in Pennsylvania during the fall of one thousand nine hundred and eight as a bulletin of the Department of Agriculture and providing for the distribution of the same

Whereas the report of the late Doctor Leonard Pearson upon the discovery and suppression of the outbreak of foot and mouth disease among cattle in Pennsylvania during the fall of one thousand nine hundred and eight was published in the annual report of the Department of Agriculture for the year one thousand nine hundred and nine and whereas this report contains much valuable information concerning the disease named of special interest to the breeders and owners of live stock in the State of Pennsylvania and whereas the number of copies of the annual report of the Department of Agriculture is much less than would be required to put a copy into the hands of everyone desiring it and on account of its bulk its distribution would be expensive therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the Secretary of Agriculture be authorized to have printed eleven thousand five hundred copies of the report of the late Doctor Leonard Pearson upon the discovery and suppression of the outbreak of foot and mouth disease among cattle in Pennsylvania during the fall of one thousand nine hundred and eight as a bulletin of the Department of Agriculture of which five hundred copies shall be furnished to the Senate one thousand copies to the House of Representatives and the remainder distributed by the Department of Agriculture and the sum of eleven hundred dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. KEISTER. Mr. Speaker I desire to call the attention to the fact that this is a bill calling for the publication of bulletins to be issued by the Agriculuture Department. The Governor of the Commonwealth in his message to the Legislature stated that he would positively approve no bills unless they carried with them a specific appropriation. Along those lines he has already vetoed a couple of bills passed by this House, and I would suggest to the gentleman having this bill in charge that he take this matter up and have an appropriation inserted in this bill in order to have it meet with the approval of the Governor. I believe it would be foolishness for this House to pass this bill in this shape.

Mr. REEL. Mr. Speaker, this bill was amended last night and calls for the sum of eleven hundred dollars or as much thereof as is necessary.

The question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—1.

Bossert

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Chair calls up Senate Bill No. 222 on page 44 of to-day's calendar which was passed a few moments ago.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 432 (Senate No. 222), entitled:

An act authorizing road supervisors in townships of the second class to aid in the construction of sidewalks along public highways through towns and villages in said townships.

The question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HOBBS. Mr. Speaker, I am sorry that I was mistaken in my statement to the effect that this bill had not been reconsidered, but I think I am worthy of a pardon because of the amount of noise there always is in this end of the House. There is a great deal done that we do not hear of. But, gentlemen, I will have to take the same stand as I did on the vote before. I do not think this bill is worthy of passage for the reason that it provides that ten per cent. of the taxes for road purposes may be used for the construction of sidewalks in villages in townships of the second class. There are many townships which are very large, and a small village in such a township would constitute only a very small portion of the value of the real estate in that township and for the supervisors to have the opportunity of using ten per cent. of that for the construction of sidewalks in those small villages in the large townships would be unfair; every dollar of the road tax in the large townships is needed for work in the middle of the road, and let the people in the villages construct their own sidewalks as they see fit, and leave the matter for the supervisors and road commissioners to build and construct the highways as they have in the past. This bill should be defeated.

Mr. SCHOFIELD. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I think the fears of the gentleman who has just spoken are not well founded. This is simply an enabling act to enable township commissioners to take a certain proportion up to ten per cent. or any sum less than that to be used properly and in conjunction with the property holders to construct sidewalks in front of the property. As the matter stands now, nearly all of the townships of the State of Pennsylvania are townships of the second class. There are very few townships of the first class. In a great many of these townships, one especially in our county, we have the circumstance where one or two villages comprise four-fifths of all the taxable property in the township; that is, four-fifths in valuation. The only way to construct sidewalks is for the people who own the land to construct them themselves, but it is a hodge podge affair at this, because some are made of stone and some of brick and some of wood and the township is liable for damages in any case brought about by a defective sidewalk. This simply enables the township commissioners to make contract with the owners of the property under the supervision of the supervisors for the construction of sidewalks and compel them to be kept in repair. I consider it a harmless piece of legislation for those who love good roads and very meritorious from any standpoint.

Mr. HENRY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Warren. Mr. Schofield, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SCHOFIELD. Yes, sir.

Mr. HENRY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if this bill includes incorporated boroughs?

Mr. SCHOFIELD. No, only the villages.

The question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Mr. BENTLEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire at this time to l up House Bill No. 147, file folio 615, on page 36 of to-y's calendar, bills on third reading postponed for the sent.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading House Bill No. 147, entitled:

n act to require electric railway companies operating urban or interurban railways to provide suitable wait- rooms at terminal stations and equip all cars with lets or water closets and providing penalties for viola-n of this act

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BENTLEY. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous con-t to insert amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the rk.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

mend section 1, in line 5, by striking out the word "ten more," and substituting in lieu thereof the word venty;" by inserting in line 7, page 1, after the word sed" and before the word "in" the word "regularly;" in e 10, page 1, by inserting after the word "however," the rds "that cars not so equipped may be operated for tra service such as trippers, trailers, holidays, picnics, special occasions or in place of regular interurban cars case the latter are disabled or damaged and in need of justment or repairs; and provided further;" and still ther by inserting in section 2, line 2, page 1, after the rd "act" the words "within ten days after receiving itten notice at its general office from the burgess of any rough or the mayor of any city through which said inter-ban cars are operated."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent insert the amendments as read? Is there any objection? e Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted accordance with the instructions of the House.

The bill as amended was then agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be prepared for final ssage.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 638 (Senate No. 292), entitled:

An act authorizing the purchase of William Penn's own copy of the map which fixed the boundaries of the State of Pennsylvania in one thousand six hundred and eighty-five and making an appropriation therefor

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with the information that the House has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 639, entitled:

An act authorizing cities of the second class to regulate the emission of smoke from chimneys and smokestacks

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SCHOFIELD. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent at this time to offer an amendment.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendment.

The amendment was then read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend by adding the following as section 2:

Section 2 No ordinance shall be passed by the council of any city under the terms of this act whereby careful proper hand stoking of furnaces shall be prohibited.

On the question,

Will the House give unanimous consent to insert the amendment as read?

Mr. McCLUNG. Mr. Speaker, I object.

Mr. SCHOFIELD. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House go into committee of the whole for the purpose of special amendment.

Mr. J. N. HUNTER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House resolve itself into committee of the

The Chair announced that the nays appeared to have it. A division having been called for, and 102 gentlemen having voted in the affirmative, and 4 in the negative, the motion was agreed to.

Whereupon,

The House resolved itself into committee of the whole. whole.

Mr. ALTER in the Chair on said bill.

The CHAIRMAN. The House having gone into committee of the whole, the Clerk will read the amendment.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend by adding the following as section 2:
Section 2. No ordinance shall be passed by the council of any city under the terms of this act whereby careful proper hand stoking of furnaces shall be prohibited.

On the question,

Will the committee agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

Mr. McCLUNG moved that the committee of the whole House now arise and report back to the House.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. HECHT in the Chair.

Mr. ALTER. Mr. Speaker, as Chairman of the committee of the whole House I beg leave to report back to the House Bill No. 639 as amended.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the report of the committee of the whole?

It was agreed to.

The bill as amended was then agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be prepared for final passage.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 647, entitled

An act to repeal an act entitled "An Act to prevent and punish prize-fights and boxing matches in the counties of Pike Schuylkill Luzerne Erie and Montgomery approved the sixteenth day of March one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SHANNON. Mr. Speaker, a slight explanation will be necessary to clear the minds of some of the members. This bill is only asking to repeal the act of 1866. In 1866 there was an act passed prohibiting boxing contests in the counties of Montgomery, Schuylkill, Luzerne, Pike and Erie. I have taken this matter up with the members from these counties, and ninety per cent. of them are perfectly satisfied. We are only asking you to repeal this act and put us under the general act of 1867, which applies to the other 61 counties of the State, and I sincerely hope that each and every member of this House will vote aye on this bill.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Less than the majority required by the Constituti having voted in the affirmative, the question was determin in the negative and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and conside- tion of House Bill No. 650, entitled:

An act to amend the third section of an act to restra and regulate the sale of vinous and spirituous malt brewed liquors or any admixture thereof approved t thirteenth day of May Anno Domini one thousand eig hundred and eighty-seven

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SCHAD. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the Hou this bill provides that where a judge in the license court fuses an applicant, who has had a license for two precedi years, that he is obliged to give a reason on the reco. The purpose of that is that if the reasons are not ju fiable that the applicant has some recourse. That will able him to take an appeal. There have been cases in legheny where the court refused an applicant for some known reason and later on it was discovered that they h made an error and admitted it. You take the man wo has been in business for years and has spent a considera e sum of money in the improvement of his property and th very suddenly his business is destroyed under the pro- sions of the Brooks law at the present time that man s no recourse, he cannot take an appeal. Now, that is this bill provides for. If the refusal is justifiable theres no judge to-day who need to be in fear of this bill. t merely gives a man an opportunity for his rights. The is no question in my mind but what a number of men wo have been refused the renewal of their licenses have ha great injustice done them, and Mr. Speaker and gentlem of the House, it does not seem to me that this is a good f bill.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of House, I would like to call your attention to the provisi s of this bill. It aims at the very vitals of the Brooks h license law. It would amend and abolish the best featu s of that present law. Now, I would like to ask the gentlem why we should require the court to give his reasons for fusing the license, and not require him for giving his r sons for granting a license. You all know as a matter f fact that no man has a right to a license for the sale of toxicating liquors. It is only a special privilege that s ranted to him by the courts. We all know further than hat that there are two parties interested in all matters of his kind, as well as in all law suits there must be two paries to a case. In this particular case the applicant is one party, and the people of the county are the other party. Why not give to the people the same right of appeal as you give to the applicant when his license is refused. If the court erroneously and through a misjudgment of the acts grants a license, why should the people not have the ight to an appeal the same as the applicant. One of the best features of the Brooks high license law is the fact that o some degree at least it puts the granting of licenses up to the county where the license is granted. A judge is going to pay more or less attention to the desires or the will of he people in the county, and he should do so because it is a pecific provision of the Brooks high license law. The Brooks high license law provides that the judge shall have lue regard for the number and character of the petitioners for and against. Now, why give the petitioners for a license the right of appeal and deny the petitioners against hat same right. Gentlemen, this aims at the very vitals, as I said before, of the Brooks high license law, and we should be careful in enacting a law that will destroy the best features of the Brooks high license law.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Schad.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Schad, allow himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SCHAD. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman if the sole discretion of the granting or refusing does not lie with the judges of the court of quarter sessions?

Mr. SCHAD. Mr. Speaker, as I understand it does.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Then Mr. Speaker, if the judge could refuse a license and simply say I refuse this license because I believe it is not necessary there would be no appeal from that.

Mr. SCHAD. Mr. Speaker, I would say there would not. That would seem to be sufficient, and it would be generally looked upon that that reason would hold good.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman.

I desire to ask the gentleman why in the last two lines of the bill he says that any case where the license has been granted for two years or more. Why does the gentleman make it two years or more? Why not make it all times.

Mr. SCHAD. Mr. Speaker, it was generally looked upon that where a new applicant applies that that would necessitate the judges of giving reasons that were not necessary, but where the man has had a license two years or more and has conducted his business according to law, and he feels satisfied that his business was conducted according to law, and he has made improvements and looked after the interests of his business, it seems that in two years' time the courts ought to know whether that man is capable, and has violated the law, and if he has violated the law that would be a very good reason, and there would be no appeal along this line.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I just want to say a word. It seems to me, Mr. Speaker, that after this House, as all of us will remember, when a certain bill was pending before this House to be put upon the calendar notwithstanding the negative recommendation of the committee, that when the gentleman from Allegheny stood and argued against putting that bill on the calendar and said that the Brooks high license law was the best law that we ever had, and the best method of granting——

Mr. SCHAD. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of privilege.

Mr. SCHAD. Mr. Speaker, I did not assert that and he is telling something on the floor of this House that is not true.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Schad allow himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SCHAD. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I might have been mistaken; I would therefore ask the gentleman, if he did not say that he was in favor of the Brooks high license law as the best method of controlling the license.

Mr. SCHAD. Mr. Speaker, I did not say that in my remarks.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, then I misunderstood the gentleman and I withdraw what I said.

It seems to me, Mr. Speaker, that there is an ulterior purpose back of this bill, which is really to throw the granting or control of the granting of licenses up into the higher courts, and it is time that we know just where we are at. The purpose of this bill which looks plausible upon its face, but it is so worded that it should not be put upon our statutes. In another place I find that the title of the bill is defective. Our constitution says the purpose must be expressed in the title. There is nothing in this title except to show that it undertakes to amend a certain section, and it should be followed up by saying how it is to be amended. It seems to me that the bill should be defeated at this time.

Mr. MATT. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I only want to take two or three minutes of your valuable time, but this bill is so drastic that I am compelled to raise my voice against its passage. The sponsor of this bill has well told you that this bill provides that when the honorable judge or judges of our courts refuse an application for license they shall give reasons why they refuse it, and Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this law has been on our statute books for twenty years or more, and has been proven satisfactory to hundreds of thousands of our citizens in this great State of ours and no man has questioned the honesty of any judge in his decisions upon the bill. Surely this is a reflection on their honesty of purpose, and Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, it is only a few weeks ago, in fact only last week, that the honorable judges were lauded to the skies for their dignity, for their integrity and honesty, and rightly so. For, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, when the people lose their confidence in the honorable court and the honorable judges where shall we look for honesty and justice. This bill to my mind puts a doubt on the decisions of judges concerning our license. Why this cloud of doubt on our honorable judges becoming corrupt. Why, I ask, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, have our judges lost their dignity, and the high honors to which they have been elected by the people? Why I ask, have our honorable judges lost, every spot of honesty and integrity in the interpretation of the law that this bill seems to intimate. Oh, yes, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I refuse to believe, and the citizens, I know a great many in this Commonwealth, refuse to believe that they have lost confidence in their respective judges; that they cannot trust them to do justice to all parties concerned in this question of granting license. But I believe this bill only is intended to defeat the will of the people, and that it is for no other purpose, and I agree with you gentlemen who believe in fair play, or believe in the people ruling, who still have confidence in our honorable judges that they have and will continue to give justice in the future as they have in the past. And now, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen, why not, as has been said ask the judges to give reasons for granting licenses when granted. The people have just as much right to show why licenses are granted as to know why they are refused. This bill provides, to my mind, in case the license has been granted the judge or the judges having granted them according to law and the evidence produced in the case and the remonstrances, and Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I repeat that this bill does cast a cloud over our honorable judges, and our honorable courts as to their interest in the execution of the law of our State, I appeal to you gentlemen to defeat this uncalled for bill, this unjust bill, this one rule bill. This law has, as I said, not been questioned for many years, and meets the approval of ninety per cent. of our people, therefore we are not justified in making this amendment at this time. Vote it down.

Mr. SCHAD. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, there is nothing in this bill which to my mind would cast any reflection upon the honesty of any judge in this State. The gentleman to my right would have you believe it does. But it does not seem to me there is one line in this bill that would intimate the dishonesty of any judge in this State. It merely provides where a man is in business, and he is conducting his business according to law, he should have some chance of recourse. Now, as the gentleman to my left has said that where there is a remonstrance against an applicant and it is shown that the gentleman had violated the law, and he is not conforming with the rules of the court, why that would be sufficient reason and that is all that this bill applies to. Where there is sufficient reason why there is no recourse. Where a man violates the law, and does not conduct his business according to law, why then where could there be any sufficient reason for taking exceptions to this bill. This bill in my mind merely gives the man who is denied the right of his business whose business has been destroyed probably not by any intent on the part of the judge to do him wrong, but simply because he may have been misinformed because the evidence or whatever might appear to him has not been presented in the proper way, and that is where the man who has a license to-day should have some recourse to bring this matter before his attention, and if there is a mistake made will give him an opportunity to correct it.

Mr. SHERN. I did not intend to participate in this discussion, but I think the purpose of this bill has not been touched upon by any of the preceeding speakers. In the case of re-Donahue, reported in fifth Superior Court, the question that there arose was this. Mr. Donahue had been a reputable saloonkeeper in the city of Philadelphia, located at the corner of Eighth and Vine streets, for a period of fifteen or eighteen years. There had been a remonstrance filed against Mr. Donahue and he had agreed with the License Court that if they would grant him the license for the succeeding year he would not reapply for that same location, but that he would apply for another location. He made that agreement in writing. Subsequently he came before the court for the same license, and one of the judges thereupon said that he was not a man of good moral character because he had violated his word in refusing to accept the stipulation that the preceding License Court had imposed upon him. The other judge composing that court—there are two judges composing the License Court in Philadelphia—argued that he was a man of good moral character, and the mere fact that he changed his mind was not sufficient. Of course, under the law if those things are not filed of record Donahue had no chance of appeal, but the two judges filed their reasons of record and Donahue's counsel took the case to the Superior Court, and the Superior Court reversed the ruling of the lower court and granted Mr. Donahue the license. That is what this bill seeks to remove. It is a just protection to men engaged in this business, especially in large cities, as I know a man located near Broad Street Station who has rented a property for twenty years at a very large expense, spending twenty thousand dollars a year, and improving that property to the extent of seventy-five thousand dollars for the benefit of the owners. If he were refused a license and if the judges would not put the reasons for it on record that man would be deprived of the seventy-five thousand dollars and deprived of a livelihood, with no chance to appeal to a higher court. It does seem to me that after a man has been granted a license and subsequently refused and the judge arbitrarily refuses to give the reason, that there should be some Act of Assembly to compel him to do so, especially if any individual in this Commonwealth has invested considerable money in this business which this Legislature and State has said to be a lawful business. I see no objection to this bill, but I do say out of justice to the individual who pays twelve hundred dollars license into the State of Pennsylvania that he should have the advantage of this act.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, the fundamental feature in this bill is that it is the entering wedge towards the recognition of a license as a piece of property. Now I think it is most vital to preserve the present status of the law that a license is not property. It is simply a permission to do a thing, and the fact that it has been granted one year is no presumption at all that it should be granted for another. The fact that a two-year clause in this bill is a step in the direction of making a license a piece of property is the reason why it ought to be defeated.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 651, entitled:

An act prohibiting minors from entering or being in any place or building where liquors are sold with intent to purchase such liquors and fixing a penalty for violation thereof.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I have some objections to offer to this bill, but in the absence of the author, Mr. Wasson, I move that further consideration be postponed for the present.

Mr. KNIGHT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was not agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer the following amendment to section 1.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, in relation to this bill—this is another bill relating to the liquor business which provides that if any minor enters into a hotel for the purpose of procuring liquor that he would be guilty of a misdemeanor. Now, if this bill becomes a law what is the effect? If a minor goes into a hotel and gets liquor and you try to prosecute the hotelkeeper the minor would come on the stand and say, I refuse to testify. Why? Because it will incriminate me. You are simply taking out of the hands of the prosecution the evidence to convict the liquor seller for selling liquor to a minor. Then, again, if you undertake to prosecute for selling to a minor, the liquor dealer can turn right around with a retaliatory measure and bring prosecution against your son or my son for entering the place. The amendment I proposed to offer was this—to include not only minors, but habitual drunkards and men of known intemperate habits and men visibly affected by the use of intoxicating liquors. If you are going to put one of them into the bill and make him guilty of going into a hotel, why not put them all in. There is no more reason for putting one in than all. That is the amendment which I proposed to offer.

Gentlemen of the House, this bill was up two years ago, it was argued out and fought fairly and squarely on the floor of this House and defeated, and I believe the membership of this House will do the same thing to this bill to-night.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Mr. BASS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up House Bill No. 256, file folio 2911, page 37 of to-day's calendar, bills on third reading postponed for the present.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 256, entitled:

An act to amend an act entitled "An Act being a further supplement to an act entitled 'An Act to provide revenue by taxation' approved the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine amending the amendment of the supplement thereto which became a law on the first day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine which amendment herein amended was approved the eighth day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one relating to the tax on capital stock" approved the eighth day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three relating to taxing bonds mortgages and other securities

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BASS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I just want to explain in a few words the meaning of this bill. It is intended to take the place of the Act of June 7, 1907 (Pamphlet Laws 430), which was declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court, because of a defective title, and thereby the State lost a large amount of tax on certain securities held by certain institutions. The title of this bill is made perfect, and will therefore, if it becomes a law, bring to the State a large amount of revenue.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—2.

Baldwin, G.
Bossert

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 294 (Senate No. 110), entitled:

An act regulating the number of employes in the Adjutant General's Department and in the State Arsenal fixing the annual salaries to be paid to each authorizing the Adjutant General to make the appointment of employes in the Adjutant General's Department and the State Arsenal and giving authority to make such assignments to duty and to change or alter such assignments as may in his judgment be necessary to subserve the interests of the Commonwealth and providing for payment of such salaries as now provided by law

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Senate Bill No. 110 by inserting the following after Section 2:

"Section 3. From and after the first day of June, nineteen hundred and eleven, the salary of the Adjutant General shall be six thousand dollars per annum."

Also amend the title by inserting after the word "commonwealth" in line 8 the following: "fixing the salary of the Adjutant General."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to insert the amendment as read? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

The bill as amended was then agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

REPORT OF COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE CARBONDALE MINE FIRE.

Mr. KLUMPP. Mr. Speaker, I wish to submit the report of the Commission to investigate the Carbondale mine fire, and accompanying bill.

The report was read by the Clerk as follows:

Harrisburg, Pa., May 9, 1911.

To the Honorable the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—The committee appointed pursuant to the provisions of a concurrent resolution introduced in the Senate February 7, 1911, a copy of which was appended to its report, dated April 17, 1911, beg to further report.

Pursuant to a suggestion made by His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, Hon. John K. Tener, your committee consulted with the officials of Lackawanna County as to whether if the State made an appropriation of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) towards putting out the fire, Lackawanna County would undertake to provide whatever additional funds might be needed to retard or extinguish it and further that the county, by proper action, would obligate itself to the Commonwealth in such sum and with such surety as shall be approved by the Attorney General.

The county officials assented to this proposition provided they were authorized on behalf of the county to enter into such an agreement.

As a result of the investigation made by your committee and such agreement, your committee respectfully recommends as follows:

1. That the fire should be checked by confining it to an area, thus permitting it to burn out, or that it should be extinguished if upon investigation this shall be found inexpedient.

2 That the determination of what should be done to this end and how it should be done be committed to the Department of Mines of this Commonwealth.

3. That the sum of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary be appropriated to the Department of Mines of this Commonwealth for the payment of such expenditures as the Chief of the said department may deem necessary and which he shall be authorized and directed to take in the protecting of property and the public health and promoting the safety of the inhabitants of this Commonwealth, residing and being in the section of the City of Carbondale, Lackawanna County, affected and likely to be affected by said "Mine Fire." Provided, however, that before any expenditures shall be made under the act providing such an appropriation, the County of Lackawanna, shall, by proper action, obligate itself to the Commonwealth in such sum, from and with such surety as shall be approved by the Attorney General of the Commonwealth. The money thus appropriated to be paid on warrant of the Auditor General of this Commonwealth on the State Treasurer in favor of and upon the requisition of the Chief of the said Department of Mines which requisition shall be itemized. That the Chief of the Department of Mines be authorized and empowered for and in the name of the Commonwealth, by his agents and employes, to enter upon and condem such land and to destroy, appropriate and use such material and property as may be required in his opinion, to carry into effect the purpose of the appropriation, compensation therefor to be made as provided by law.

4. That the Attorney General of this Commonwealth be authorized, directed and required, for and in the name of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, to sue for and recover from the property saved from loss or damage or from any individual, corporation or municipality liable, all or any of them, all or so much as may be lawfully recoverable of the expenditures made in confining the fire or extinguishing it.

Your committee has prepared and herewith submits the form of an act of the General Assembly to carry its recommendations into effect and respectfully prays that it may be discharged from further consideration of the subject referred to.

Respectfully submitted,
WALTER M'NICHOLS,
F. C. EHRHARDT,
SAMUEL W. SALUS,

HOUSE CONCURS IN SENATE BILL NO. 292.

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate communication from the House of Representatives returning to the Senate, Senate Bill No. 292, entitled:

An act authorizing the purchase of William Penn's own copy of the map which fixed the boundaries of the State of Pennsylvania in one thousand six hundred and eighty-five and making an appropriation therefor with the information that the House has passed the same without amendment.

AMENDMENT TO HOUSE BILL NO. 77 RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR.

He also laid before the Senate for concurrence bill of the House of Representatives as follows:

House Bill No. 77, entitled:

An act relating to the adoption of adult persons as heirs

Said bill having been recalled from the Governor for amendment. The vote had on final passage and third reading on said bill was reconsidered in the Senate and the bill amended in which amendments the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The amendment was twice read as follows:

By striking out the entire bill and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

An act relating to the adoption of adult persons as heirs

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That whenever any person shall desire to adopt an adult person as his or her heir or as one of his or her heirs he or she may present his or her petition to the court of common pleas of the county in which he or she resides or to a law judge of such Court at Chambers setting forth such desire and declaring that if such adoption be approved the petitioner will perform all the duties of a parent toward such adult person and shall present with such petition the written declaration of such adult person consenting to such adoption and agreeing if such adoption be approved to perform all the duties of a child toward the petitioner and also if such adult person be married the written consent of such adult person's husband or wife to such adoption

Section 2 The said court or judge if approving of such adoption shall make a decree that thenceforth such adult person shall have all the rights and be subject to all the duties of a child and heir of the petitioner and that the petitioner shall have all the rights and be subject to all the duties of a parent of such adult person as fully to all intents and purposes as if such adult person had been born the lawful child of the petitioner and also if the parties so desire that the person thus adopted shall take and be known by the surname of the petitioner and the record of said court or an exemplification thereof shall be sufficient evidence of such adoption and change of name

A majority of all the Senators having voted ''aye'' the estion was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of presentatives with information that the Senate has passed e same without amendments.

Mr. KNAPP. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill . 664 (House No. 388), entitled:

An act to regulate the use of firecrackers fireworks blank rtridges pellets tablets et cetera in any county in this mmonwealth and providing penalties for the violations ereof recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. COOPER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. TUSTIN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the nator from Warren, Mr. Knapp, the purpose for the committal of this bill. This bill was gotten up after ry careful consideration in the City of Philadelphia, takg into consideration the accidents that have happened ere on the Fourth of July. They tried to make the fireorks large enough to allow everybody to be patriotic on at day, but they have prevented the manufacture of exemely large fire crackers and explosives dangerous to man life. I would like to ask the reason that the bill ould be recommitted.

Mr. KNAPP. Mr. President, I don't object to the fire acker part, but regarding the explosive part I claim it is etty hard for a person to know what is contained in these explosives until after they have been exploded. I would like to have the bill recommitted for further consideration.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 664 (House No. 388), entitled:

An act to regulate the use of firecrackers fireworks blank cartridges pellets tablets et cetera in any county in this Commonwealth and providing penalties for the violations thereof

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted the affirmative, the question was determined in the ffirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate or concurrence.

The SPEAKER. At this hour, 10.45, the special order n third reading of House Bill No. 640, file folio 3341, rom page 1 of to-day's calendar, is in order.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideraion of House Bill No. 640, entitled:

An act creating the office of fire marshal to be attached o the department of public safety in cities of the first lass prescribing his duties and powers and providing penlties for violations of the provisions of the act and proiding for the method of appointment compensation and for he maintenance of his office

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. REYBURN. Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Reyburn.

Mr. REYBURN. Mr. Speaker, before this bill goes to a ote I desire to say a few words in explanation of it. One f the serious problems to-day is the tremendous loss of roperty occasioned by fire. If I am not misinformed, the sses by fire in the United States are by far much greater ach year than on the whole continent of Europe. Let us xamine the causes of this. I think we will all admit that t has not been due to any inefficiency on the part of any f the fire departments in our great cities. Our firemen ompare most favorably with any firemen in the world. Their ability in that direction is unsurpassed. We have got to look further, it seems to me, gentlemen of the House, for the reason of these great losses by fire and that there is a tendency in the United States to neglect measures to prevent fires. It is the old question of locking the stable door after the horse has been taken out. We don't take enough precaution to prevent fires. We devote our entire energy to fire measures after the fire has been ignited. Some years ago, and probably some of the gentlemen of the Philadelphia delegation in this House will recall the time—I think it was two or three years ago, the chief of the fire department of Budapest, Hungary, visited our city. He was on a tour of investigation of the methods employed in this country in our fire departments. The first day that he appeared at a fire he came there dressed in patent leather boots, beautiful gold laced uniform and he carried a sword and had a large chapeau on his head. He was a subject of laughter, and the people said: "What does he know about the business of firemen?" But for the man who will examine more carefully into that that carried a lesson with it. This man was not up to our standard of firemanship because they never had a necessity for it. They have no fires over there, or rather a fire is a very rare occurrence, and the reason for that is the excellent preventave, and precautionary measures which they use. This bill is in line with that. This bill is intended to place powers into the hands of a fire marshal and his assistants, whose business it is to inspect buildings, and to put in force proper laws for the safeguarding of public property.

I would like to say, further, that this is entirely a city matter; it is not a salary raiser; it will not cost the State one penny of salary. I ask you gentlemen, therefore, to vote for it as a preventive measure.

Mr. DEARDEN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Reyburn, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REYBURN. Certainly.

Mr. DEARDEN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire whether the city of Philadelphia is not already possessed of a fire marshal?

Mr. REYBURN. Mr. Speaker, the city of Philadelphia is possessed of a fire marshal, but the fire marshal of our city has no power; he is a figurehead. He can make recommendations but he has no power to enforce any fire laws for the protection of the public.

Mr. DEARDEN. Mr. Speaker, I hope this bill will pass. I wish to add a word of congratulation to our young friend, the coming Congressman, upon the comprehensive and lucid manner in which he has expounded this subject this morning. I think he understands his business, and while I want to make it very plain that I have not much sympathy for the principles of his party, I heartily congratulate him personally upon his entrance into this new political field. As a Philadelphian I wish him all success in his new field of endeavor. I want to add a word to what he said in regard to the work of the fire marshal bureau of our great cities. It is a fact demonstrated by many years of experience as published in the statistical literature of this country that the fire loss in this country alone and in Canada exceeds that of all Europe. The reason is, as Mr. Reyburn has told us, not because of any inefficiency on the part of firemen, but because of any difference in the physical hazard. The buildings there being so much more of a substantial character with the consequent effect that fires rarely occur. Right here again, as having some possible bearing upon the department of insurance, I wish to call the attention of the House to this fact, as indicating what the fire loss in this country amounts to each year by referring to what the record for the month of March said; it will surprise you to hear that; it is authentic from the official record of the fire losses in the United States alone for the month of March just passed: It is one million dollars a day. I make that statement responsibly. It is larger than the average, but it indicates, nevertheless, the enormity of the fire waste in this country, and for that very reason if for nothing else I am in favor of this bill.

Mr. MOSES. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Reyburn, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REYBURN. Yes, sir.

Mr. MOSES. Mr. Speaker, I want to know who pays the expenses of this fire marshal and his assistants in Philadelphia.

Mr. REYBURN. Mr. Speaker, the city of Philadelphia pays the expenses; there would not be a cent of expense entailed on the State of Pennsylvania by the passage of this bill.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Section 45 The act entitled "An Act to provide for the appointment of a Railroad Commission prescribing the membership of said commission the manner and term of the appointment of its members defining their powers and duties with reference to common carriers and in relation to making recommendations to the Attorney General and Secretary of Internal Affairs concerning the regulation control and management of common carriers within the Commonwealth defining what the term 'common carrier' shall include providing for the appointment of subordinate officers and the employment of expert and clerical employes by said commission fixing the salaries of the members of said commission and its subordinate officers providing for the compensation of its employes limiting the annual expense of said commission and making an appropriation for the payment thereof" approved the thirty-first day of May Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and seven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and thirty-seven) and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed

The title of the bill was read as follows:

An act defining public service companies prescribing and defining the duties of public service companies prescribing defining and limiting the powers of public service companies and regulating the creation of such companies creating and establishing a public service commission for the supervision and regulation of public service companies prescribing and defining the powers and duties of such commission and its officers and providing for the salaries and compensation of the commissioners its officers counsel and employes prescribing and regulating the practice and procedure before such commission and upon appeal and judicial review of its orders by the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County and giving such court exclusive jurisdiction of such appeals and of all injunctions mandamus or other appropriate proceedings to enforce the provisions of this act and the orders of the commission and to restrain such orders subject to an appeal from all decrees of said court to the Supreme Court prescribing penalties fines and imprisonment for the violation of such orders or of the provisions of this act and repealing the act approved May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and seven providing for the appointment of a Railroad Commission and all other legislation inconsistent with this act

On the question,

Will the House agree to the title?

Mr. ALTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer an amendment to the title of the bill.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Insert after the word "compensation of the" in line 8 of the title the words "members of the."

Strike out the word "commissioners" in line 8 of the title and substitute the word "commission."

Strike out the word "employes" in line 9 of the title and substitute the word "employes."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the title as amended?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

RESOLUTIONS FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate as follows:

TIME OF SENATE'S NEXT MEETING.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns to-day it shall reconvene on Monday evening May 15th, at 8 o'clock.

The resolution was twice read, considered and agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 665, entitled:

An act to amend section one of an act entitled "An Act authorizing the councils of incorporated boroughs to require the paving curbing and macadamizing of streets or thoroughfares or parts thereof and assess a portion of the cost of the same on the owners of property abutting thereon and providing for the collection of the same" approved April twenty-third one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine by fixing a different portion of the cost and expense which may be assessed against abutting property where the property on one side of the street or thoroughfare desired to be improved is exempt from assessment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. MATT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Alter, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ALTER. I will.

Mr. MATT. I would like to know the purpose of this bill?

Mr. ALTER. The purpose of this bill is very simple. Under the present law any boroughs that would pave streets charges it to the abutting property owners. One-third of the expense is charged to the abutting property on one side, one-third to the abutting property on the other side and the borough pays one-third, making an equitable division between the borough and the abutting property owners on either side of the street. There are streets, however, on which the abutting property owner on one side cannot be assessed. As for example, it may be property owned by the public, or as in the case of many boroughs in my district the railroad runs along the other side of the street. We have North Railroad Street and South Railroad Street, that is, streets running right along by the railroad. With abutting property on one side and the railroad right of way on the other. The railroad right-of-way cannot be assessed for the benefits of the streets. That is well known to every lawyer and to all gentlemen here who are familiar with municipal affairs. Under the present law the borough pays one-third and the abutting property owners, owning property on the other side pay two-thirds of the expense.

Of course, the railroad would have no interest in the street, but those living on that street should not have to pay two-thirds of the expense of paving the street, while on other streets the abutting property owners pay but one-third. There is no reason from a public standpoint why abutting property owners on that street should pay more than on any other street. This bill simply strives to carry out a more equitable idea with reference to this matter. This bill simply provides that in case where the property on either side of the street is non-assessable the expense thereof shall be equally divided, the borough paying one-half, and the abutting property owners on the side of the street that is assessabe, the other one-half. I submit to the House that this seems to be fair legislation, and I ask the support of the House in passing this bill.

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 675, entitled:

An act to provide for counsel fees for garnishee's attorney's taxation of the same as costs and collection and payment thereof in attachment or attachment execution of any nature or kind issued by any justice of the peace magistrate or alderman

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SCHULTZ. Mr. Speaker, I do not quite understand this bill.

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections the Chair will explain the provisions of this bill. As the law now stands in actions where a person is sued and an attachment issued against a third party in courts of record, the person upon whom the interrogatories are served has a fee which is satisfied to pay the attorney who is called in to answer these interrogatories and appear for the one upon whom they are served. In courts that are not courts of record, such as magistrates and aldermen, the law does not at the present time provide any fee, and this bill provides a fee of five dollars for the person upon whom these interrogatories are served to pay the attorney for making up these answers.

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 755.

Mr. HOOVER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 755, file folio 5207, entitled.

An act to fix the compensation and allowances for members of the General Assembly was defeated on final passage be reconsidered.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SHERN. Mr. Speaker, when the vote was taken on this bill it was early this morning, and there was a small number of members present in the House. We have been advancing the salaries of the different officers of the Commonwealth and voted on a good many salary raisers. The compensation now for the members is fifteen hundred dollars, one hundred dollars for postage and ninety-six dollars mileage and stationery. This bill makes it twenty-four hundred dollars, and cuts out the stationery and postage and some of the other incidentals. I have it from the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee that this raise will make a difference of about one hundred and fifty thousand dollars for the 206 members. We are passing additional revenue measures, and believe that the members ought to have that additional compensation.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, one thing we want to keep clear in mind in voting on this bill is the fact that we are not raising our own salaries, but that we are raising the salaries of our successors. It is not a question so much of the money we shall be paid, but a question of the worth and dignity of the office. One thing has filled me with wonder in my experience in public life, and that is the very small respect which the legislative branch of our government has in the eyes of the public. The executive branch is held in high honor. The judiciary branch has been well paid in the past and we have this session largely increased their compensation, and yet the legislative branch, that which makes the laws which the Governor enforces and which the court interpret, are held in such low esteem that they are paid but fifteen hundred dollars out of which their expenses must come. I think this is a great governmental mistake. I think that an increase in salaries would help raise the public respect in which this branch of our government is held. I think it would tend to encourage men of the kind and calibre who should be engaged in making the laws to come here.

It is a fact now that when a young professional man gets into public life and is elected to the Legislature that his clients think that when he is willing to take that work at the salary offered by the government that he must be a very small kind of a man. It reacts upon a man's standing in his community when a man is willing to accept the small compensation that the State of Pennsylvania pays for this work. Ever since I have taken the part in the public work of this kind I have been convinced that a large part of the evils which come from our system of government here is due to the low measure of respect in which the legislative branch is held. I have discussed this subject with a number of my constituents and with one voice they all agree that the salary paid tends more than anything else to keep away from the Legislature the men desired. I do not want to flatter the House, splendid as it is, but I do not hesitate to say that under this salary we will get a better House. And while some of the men voting for this salary bill might be voting themselves out of office, yet, if they do, it will be because the people at home think they can get better men to send here, and if they can, I think they ought to have the opportunity to do it.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 692, entitled:

An act regulating the pay of election officers at all elections hereafter held within this Commonwealth

On the question,

Will the House agree to bill on third reading?

Mr. KEISTER. Mr. Speaker, the bill now under consideration raises the pay of election officers in this Commonwealth from three dollars and a half a day to five dollars a day for each election, with the exception that it does not repeal the special acts and does not affect cities co-extensive with counties. I would say that heretofore four elections were heldthroughout the Commonwealth each year. Under that arrangement it cost the counties ten dollars and a half each year for each election officer. Under this bill it will cost the county ten dollars, being a saving of fifty cents a year on each election officer.

The question recurring,

Will the House agee to the bill n third reading?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON THIRD READING.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to call up at this time House Bill No. 847 (Senate No. 30) on page 34 of yesterday's calendar. The Chair asks, this being a local bill, for unanimous consent to consider it at this time.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 847 (Senate No. 30), entitled:

A joint resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania so as to consolidate the courts of common pleas of Allegheny county

On the question,

Will the House agree to bill on third reading?

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, this being a local bill, and one of the bills which affects Allegheny county alone, at the time the bill first made its appearance upon our calendar I took it upon myself to go up among our courts and ascertain the opinion of the judges in relation to what this act would do. It is not, and perhaps will not be plain, that this is a judges' bill, but I really felt that our courts, on the ground of the judges being old in the harness would appreciate what the purpose of this bill would be and what the outcome of the bill would be if it were voted into force and effect. At that time, of the tweve judges, I found nine at home—and by home I mean in the court house—on the day I went there, and I found three were away. The word of these nine, responding for the three absent ones, I took as a matter of fact and as giving the opinion of those absent. I found our courts were equally divided, that is, that the courts stood six for this bill and six against the bill. There are certain lawyers in the town, and I believe the bar association is, perhaps, agitating against the passage of this bill.

To those members who are opposed to the bill and to the courts who are opposed to the bill, I would say that it appeals to us in this way: The bill is a new and untried proposition. We have in our courts to-day four little families, so to speak, composed of three judges for each court, that is, each court having three judges, one a presiding judge and the other two associate judges. These three men understand each other from affiliation and association and other dealings with questions of law, better than the twelve judges as a whole would understand each other, and that is clearly evident to every member of this House. Three men associating and affiliated together in passing upon questions of law become much more close to each other than they would be in case this bill were to become a law. They have a greater respect for the legal opinion of each other than they would were they to be so widely separated taking the sentiment of the judges of our courts, standing, as I say, half and half on this question, taking the sentiment of the various members of the Bar, and taking into consideration that this is a new and untried proposition in Allegheny County or in any other county of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I stand here at this time in these few words to lend my voice in opposition to this bill, and I ask the support of the members of this House in that stand, and trust that the bill may fail on passage.

Mr. WM. CONNER. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, I do not agree with my colleague from Allegheny County in his statement that the courts stand six to six on this matter. If I am correctly informed it is eight to four. I think it is high time that something should be done in Allegheny County, because at the present time the courts are from three to five years back in their work. I myself have two cases on the docket, and they have been there for four years. The great trouble is that many of our judges do not work. I think this is a good act and should be put on our statute books, and I am going to ask every member to vote for it. I have a letter from the Bar Association, and they endorse this bill and ask the members to vote for it.

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ROCKWELL asked and obtained unanimous consent to re-report a bill from committee at this time.

Mr. ROCKWELL, from the Committee on Ways and Means, re-reported as amended House Bill No. 507, entitled:

An act to amend the first section of an act approved the twenty-ninth day of May Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and one entitled "An Act to amend section one of an act approved May fourteenth one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four entitled 'An Act to exempt from taxation public property used for public purposes and places of religious worship places of burial not used or held for private or corporate profit and institutions of purely public charity'" hospitals universities colleges seminaries academies associations institutions of learning and benevolence by removing the exemption from all court houses jails poor houses and certain lands therein exempted not necessary for the enjoyment of the same

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. KLUMPP asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a motion to recommit House Bill No. 837 at this time.

The SPEAKER. The motion will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the motion as follows:

"Moved to recommit to the Committee on Appropriations House Bill No. 837, file folio 5251, entitled:

An act authorizing poor districts to acquire lands supply erect and equip hospitals for the care and treatment of indigent persons afflicted with tuberculosis and providing for a per capita allowance by the State for the patients treated therein for the purpose for amendment.

The motion was twice read, considered and agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. SHERN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 530, file folio 5815, which is a bill that provides for the taxation of the gross receipts of fire insurance companies.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 530, as follows:

An act providing for taxation of the gross receipts of fire insurance companies on business done within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That in addition to other taxes imposed by law there shall be and is hereby imposed an annual tax of one mill upon the gross premium receipts from all business transacted by fire insurance companies foreign and domestic within the State of Pennsylvania which shall be collected as such taxes are now by law collectible Such tax in the case of mutual companies shall be imposed on the total premiums and assessments less dividends returned and less premiums paid out for reinsurance in companies duly licensed to conduct business in this Commonwealth and in the case of stock companies upon the total premiums less premiums paid out for reinsurance in companies duly licensed to conduct business in this Commonwealth The said tax calculated upon the above defined receipts of the year next preceding shall be due and payable in the month of March of each year and shall be paid into the State Treasury

Section 2 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

The question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SHERN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to say to the members of this House that this bill was very fully debated and failed for the want of a constitutional majority on the third of May. The tax at that time was one-fourth of one per centum. Since then it has been reduced to one mill. I hold in my hand a copy of the bill and there is inserted in it the one mill provision.

Mr. ROBISON. Mr. Speaker, when this bill was before the House before I spoke against it and voted against it by reason of the interests of the mutual fire insurance companies. I propose to vote for it now and wish to place myself on record as a reason for the change. I have been assured in the most positive way that this legislation is asked by the fire insurance companies, and that they feel assured that very great benefits will result from the passage of this bill in protecting them against incendiarism and for this reason I change my vote.

Mr. HENRY. Mr. Speaker, this is the same bill that was defeated on May 3 by a straight vote of the House. Every phase of this bill was discussed thoroughly, and there has been no change in it with the exception of reducing the tax from one-fourth of one per cent. to one mill on the premiums of mutual fire insurance companies. I do not wish to detain the House by making an extended talk. What I have to say is no doubt on record; but I would like to call the attention of the House once more to this particular phase of the bill, and that is the phase that provides that there still exists a tax upon what we have been contending as unjust and unfair on the rural mutual life insurance companies of this State, because they do not do business very proper, and do not do business through agents. They are organized simply to protect their own interests, because they have been compelled to protect them for the reason that insurance companies will not go out into the rural districts and insure the farmer's property and buildings. They are simply, as I have stated at least twice before in this House, protecting themselves and their property by mutually agreeing to assess each one a certain amount, and that amount is collected and is paid directly to the one sustaining the loss. They ought to be exempt from any tax whatsoever and I have asked the gentleman if he would not, if possible, make a provision in this bill which would exempt them, and it does not seem from the bill that he has done so.

Mr. SHERN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to say in answer that this bill has been gone over and examined by a number of lawyers, and they all declare that to make an exemption of this kind would make this bill null and void, for the reason that the legislation would not be uniform. That is my answer to the gentleman from Indiana. I hope that he does not accuse me personally of not putting that exemption clause in the bill, because it would have been done had that been possible. As I explained these departments would take from twenty-five to thirty thousand dollars to maintain. The foreign insurance companies are to be taxed along with the domestic insurance companies, and it strikes me, as far as the expense is concerned to the rural insurance companies that it will be very small. The most expense will be borne by the large companies and the domestic fire insurance companies. One mill is one-tenth of one per cent., a dollar on every thousand. As explained by the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. R. J. Baldwin, and Mr. Hess, who favored the bill at that time, to the gentlemen of this House that the expense would be exceedingly slight.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I am very sorry it becomes necessary to take up a few minutes of the time of the House to oppose this bill. When it was on final passage before I did not have the information with which I am now furnished. There are in my locality several mutual insurance companies that are composed almost entirely of farmers. They have observed this bill and have gotten busy, and as a result several letters have been forwarded to me, and I ask the right to read one to show that the gentlemen from Philadelphia who are so anxious to pass this bill, why it is that some of us in the central part of the State are voting against this proposition. I do not wish them to think there is anything personal about this. I will read one of the letters:

"Falls Creek (R. D. 1), May 5, 1911.

Hon. Henry I. Wilson.

My Dear Sir:—I am Treasurer of 'The Washington Mutual Fire & Storm Insurance Company.' It is a lot of farmers helping each other in case of fire, etc. Our territory includes a radius of ten miles from Rockdale. Includes Washington, Warsaw, Winslow, Snyder, Polk and part of Pinecreek townships. We are very desirous that the bill putting a tax on mutual fire insurance companies be defeated. We believe that we are sufficiently taxed without putting a tax on our insurance receipts. Anything you can do for us will be fully appreciated by about seven hundred of your constituents.

Sincerely yours,

W. C. SMITH."

Gentlemen, in the face of such a letter as that, and that is only one of them, it would not be fair for me, representing these people, not to raise my voice in opposition to this bill. Had I not received these letters I would have said nothing. I sincerely hope this House will not see fit to pass this bill that will include fire insurance companies, made up by the conditions in this State, where the farmers are obliged to co-operate for their own protection. I merely entered this as my protest, and let the House take the responsibility.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I suppose to the minds of some that a letter from your constituents asking you not to vote to put a tax on these companies ought to make a great deal of impression. I want to say that when I was a member of the House in 1897 that there was a great demand for the passage of a bill known as "Hamilton Good Roads Bill." They sent thousands and thousands of letters to this House asking us to pass the Good Roads Bill, when they knew that the farmer would have to pay for it. I presented a bill which called for one measly dollar tax on each bicycle, and this House became flooded with the protests against one of the most obnoxious measures ever introduced in the Pennsylvania Legislature. Now, here comes a proposition of which men of experience, the Standard Fire Insurance Company people, have made a study.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. R. J. Baldwin, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. I will.

Mr. WILSON. Is it a fact or not that you are the agent of some of these regular fire insurance companies?

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. I am very glad that the gentleman asked that question, and I will answer it, but, of course, I will answer it in my own way, but it will be plain. I think it will be apparent. I intended to make that answer the other day. The gentleman evidently belongs to that class of thinkers who believe that when you want any information on medicine that you ought to go to the blacksmith, or if you want any information about law, that you ought to go to the laborer, or the farmer. That is the idea carried out by those questions, and I am surprised that a man of such ability would ask them. The idea implied by the question is that a man cannot rise above a selfish motive or personal interest. The real question is not whether I am a blacksmith, lawyer, farmer or doctor. It is a question of whether what I say here has logic in it or not. Then it is up to the House to digest what I say. I do not ask you to believe it, but I present, or try to present, the question honestly, and I will say frankly yes, that when I am at home I am engaged in the insurance business.

Mr. WILSON. I am afraid that the gentleman has misunderstood my question. What I wished to do was to find out what his experience was among the fire insurance companies which he represents, and I wish to ask him whether he has had any experience in the farmers' insurance companies, and why the farmers' insurance companies should be included. I have nothing to say about the other insurance companies, but I desire to know why the farmers' insurance companies should be included in this bill.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. I have this to say, that the man would be a very ignorant insurance man if he did not know about the different branches. I carry part of my insurance in the Mutual Insurance Company, and have done so ever since I began business about forty years ago. The reason that I have not taken it out of their hands is because it is satisfactory.

Mr. WILSON. I would like to know whether there is any distinction between these companies formed for profit or those not formed for profit, and still bear the name "Mutual?"

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. I told you the other day when I was on the floor that I fully appreciated the fact that when I voted here to put a tax on standard fire insurance companies that I believed in putting a tax on the man carrying the policy. As formerly, I believe in putting a tax upon the policy holders and in not taxing the company in every instance, and that was the reason why I feel that this is a good thing; and all the European experience proves to us that we are certainly lacking in something because of the terrific fire losses. I do not believe in standing still. I do not know whether this will be an improvement or not, but I do know that the man making one step forward will surely accomplish something. That fact that the standard companies have the experience is evidenced by the fact that they are doing what is best for the policy holders when they say that you ought to contribute for these benefits. The expenses can be readily reduced under proper supervision, but this supervision does not exist in the State of Pennsylvania, nor in the United States. Is it true, or can it be possible, that the policy holders of the mutual companies do not know this fact or realize that it is to their interest? Do you believe that the policy holders in the mutual companies would say that the policy holders of the standard companies ought to bear this burden, or that it should be borne by both, in order to reduce the expense? That is the question. If you have no faith in the proposition, vote no. I have faith in the proposition and I am going to vote aye, and I believe that I am voting right.

Mr. WILSON. I desire to ask the gentleman if he makes any distinction between the rural companies formed and incorporated by the local courts such as I have spoken of here to-day and the one kind of mutual companies I refer to here, and the mutual companies he speaks of, the regular mutual companies organized for profit?

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. There are no mutual companies in my neighborhood but declare they are organized without any intention of profit. I realize that there are two kinds of mutual companies. One kind is purely for an assessment after the loss has been sustained. The other kind of mutual companies is that which charges a premium very similar to the standard companies. We have none in our neighborhood to-day. The last one, the Kennett, went out of existence recently. It was the kind of assessment company to which the gentleman from Jefferson refers, and provided that no charges be made unless there had been a loss. That assessment was made after the loss had been sustained. We have none of the latter in our neighborhood. But that does not matter to me in this matter of taxing the policy holders. It is a question of whether the policy holders, knowing the situation would not say yes, and I believe that every policy holder would say yes.

Mr. WILSON. I desire to thank the gentleman from Delaware for his last answer, for that is the very thing that I wanted to know.

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by Messrs. R. J. Baldwin, Bentley, Breitinger, Shern, J. R. K. Scott, Hough, Fahey, Freeman, Schad, Mailey, McClung, McInerney, Swan, Tunis, Von Tackey, Keister, Bass, Morris, Gans, and E. R. Cox.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

BILL SIGNED BY SPEAKER.

The Speaker announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bills had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

HOUSE BILL NO. 299.

An act providing that all legal notices now required by law to be published in weekly newspapers may be published in daily newspapers in counties having a population of less than one million inhabitants

Wherupon, the Speaker, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. P. W. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn.

Mr. McCLUNG. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows, viz:

House Bill No. 257:

An act authorizing boroughs to unite with boroughs or townships in constructing or acquiring and maintaining works for supplying water to such boroughs or townships

With information that the Senate has passed the same with amendment in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend the title in line two by striking out the words "sewage disposal plants or;" also in line 3, by striking out the words "or furnishing light."

Amend Section 1, line 5, by striking out the words "sewage disposal plants or" and in line 6 by striking out the words "or for the furnishing of light."

Amend Section 2 by striking out all after the figure two and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

That the construction of water works as provided for in section one of this act shall be after plans for such water works have been filed with the Commissioner of Health and a permit issued by him in accordance with the act of Assembly of April twenty-second one thousand nine hundred and five entitled "An Act to preserve the purity of the waters of the State for the protection of the public health"

On the question,

Will the House concur in the said amendments?

BILL ON THIRD READING.

The SPEAKER. This is the time fixed by special order for the consideration on third reading of Senate Bill No. 261, known as the ''One Board Medical Bil.''

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 777 (Senate No. 261), entitled:

An act relating to the right to practice medicine and surgery in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and providing a Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure as a bureau of the Department of Public Instruction and means and methods whereby the right to practice medicine and surgery and any of its collateral and minor branches may be obtained and exemptions therefrom and providing for an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act and providing for revocation or suspension of licenses given by said bureau and providing penalties for violation thereof

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 313.

Mr. SHERN. Mr. Speaker, I move to reconsider the vote by which House Bill No. 313, file folio 4071, entitled:

An act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the bituminous coal mines of Pennsylvania and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith failed on final passage yesterday.

Mr. MILLS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. PITCHFORD. Mr. Speaker, I move that the further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. JAMES DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 704, entitled:

An act amending section one of an act entitled "An Act for the safety of persons from fire or panic in certain buildings not in cities of the first and second classes by providing proper exits fire escapes fire extinguishers and other preventives of fire by vesting jurisdiction for the enforcement of this act in the Department of Factory Inspection and by providing proper penalties for any violation of the same" approved the third day of May Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and nine by limiting the application of the act to tenement houses apartment and flats to those occupied by ten or more persons

On the question,

Will the House agree to bill on third reading?

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, just a word by way of explanation. This is an act to amend an act approved May 3, 1909, with reference to protection in tenement houses and buildings more than two stories high. The change appears in section 1, line 27, from two or more families to ten or more persons, thereby giving better protection. One family consists of ten or more persons, and still not be under the present act, and have the necessary protection.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 712 as follows:

A joint resolution ratifying the sixteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States of America

Whereas both Houses of the Sixty-first Congress of the United States of America at its first session by a constitutional majority of two-thirds thereof made the following proposition to amend the Constitution of the United States of America in the following words to wit

"A joint resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the United States

"Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled (two-thirds of each House concurring therein) That the following article is proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the United States which when ratified by the Legislatures of three-fourths of the several States shall be valid to all intents and purposes as a part of the Constitution namely

"'Article XVI The Congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes on incomes from whatever source derived without apportionment among the several States and without regard to any census or enumeration'" Therefore be it

Resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Pennsylvania

Section 1 That the said proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States of America be and the same is heerby ratified by the Legislature of the State of Pennsylvania

Section 2 That certified copies of this preamble and joint resolution be forwarded by the Governor of this State to the President of the United States to the Presiding Officer of the United States Senate and to the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives and to the Secretary of State of the United States

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BENSON. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, an income tax was made a part of the revenue measure which was passed by Congress in 1894, the following year, 1895, the Supreme Court decided the income tax law to be unconstitutional, and from that time we have had a struggle to secure an amendment to the United States Constitution whereby Congress would be enabled to pass an income tax law. At the first session of the Sixty-first Congress this amendment was submitted to the various States for their ratification. It passed the Senate by a vote of 77 in favor and none against it. It passed the House of Representatives by a vote of 318 in favor and 14 against it. Since that time it has been ratified by the following States: Missouri, Indiana, Maryland, Georgia, Mississippi, North Dakota, Kansas, Colorado, Nevada, Washington, Ohio, Illinois, North Carolina, Alabama, Iowa, South Dakota, Oklahoma, Montana, California, Tennessee, Michigan, Kentucky, South Carolina, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Texas, Maine, Idaho, Arkansas and Oregon. Thirty States have up to the present time ratified this amendment, we only need five more. The greatest statesmen in our country to-day have favored an income tax. Incomes are taxed at the present in the republics of Switzerland and France, also in Germany and England. Gentlemen, I do not want to take very much of your time, but I want to ask every one of you to vote for this bill, so as to give Congress the power to make wealth bear its just proportion of the burdens of this country.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determned in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 742, entitled:

An act providing a method for enforcing orders of maintenance and support in all cases where an order has been made for the support of a husband wife parent child grandparent or grandchild defining what constitutes contempt in such cases and punishment for contempt in such cases

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, this bill has been offered in the Legislature for the purpose of supplanting a decision handed down by Judge Porter of the Superior Court in the case of Commonwealth vs. Henry Clark, handed down on the 17th of April of this year. This bill provides for that which was held by two decisions of the judges of Philadelphia as actually existing and held by Judge Porter not to exist, that it is the inherent right of the court to commit for contempt and non compliance with the order of court. As you men know, the court has power to make an order upon the father, or the husband or the son for the support of the dependent, which is known as the poor law. Under this act of 1867, and a later act of 1905, on that act the courts of Philadelphia made orders for the support of an insane wife or insane child while the child or wife was confined to a hospital, and made that order upon either the parents or the husband; and it was held in the decision of Judge Beitler, who was the first to hand down such a decision, that the inherent power to commit for contempt that existed in the court for the purpose of compelling the support of the wife or child by the husband also existed where that wife or child was in an insane asylum. The case was later taken to the Superior Court, after it had been passed upon by several of the judges in Philadelphia County, and I dare say followed throughout the State. Pursuant to this decision that was handed down last month the City Solicitor's Department of Philadelphia have sent this bill to the Legislature for the purpose of having it go through to have the sanction of what has always been held to be the law. If this bill would not pass the result in this State would be that Philadelphia County alone would likely lose from forty to fifty thousand dollars a year.

Now, this same question, gentlemen of the House, was taken up in the year 1905, when this Legislature appointed a commission of which Mr. Woodward, of Allegheny, was a member. That commission was appointed by the Legislature for the purpose of making an investigation of the inmates of the various asylums throughout this whole Commonwealth. A report of that investigation was sent to the Auditor General and the Attorney General, and that report is now in the hands of Attorney General Bell for the purpose of being disposed of. Last session it was the intention to have it disposed of and an appropriation asked for by resolution in the two Houses was vetoed by Governor Stuart on the ground that there was enough law on the statute books to allow the collection of the money. Since then this decision has been handed down. This is a department measure from the City Solicitor's Department of Philadelphia, and it is of some considerable importance.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, now that we have established a precedent of having a full, complete and lucid explanation of the bill introduced by my colleague and namesake from Philadelphia, I think that we can safely vote for this bill

Mr. ROCKWELL. I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. John R. K. Scott.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. John R. K. Scott, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. ROCKWELL. I notice in section 2 that this period of imprisonment is limited to six months. Does that discharge the man from the order of the court?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, no, that has been held in all of the ordinary contempt proceedings to be merely an enforcement of the order of the court. For instance, if the man did not comply with the order he would be committed to prison until he did comply with it. In Philadelphia County I was familiar with the proceedings because I was prosecutor in the court in which these proceedings arose for three or four years. The highest usually commited now is ninety days. At the end of ninety days the court usually discharges the prisoner in case he cannot pay. The practice in Philadelphia is to commit for contempt upon hearing and at the next sitting of the court, which is the next week in Philadelphia they are brought before the court and at the expiration of the committment discharged.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Do you think that he could be recommited again after that?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. There is no doubt about that.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 179, as follows:

An Act to provide for the making of a new ordinance book and record of the ordinances of any borough in which the ordinance book thereof has become lost destroyed or so so much worn or mutilated as to be unserviceable

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That in any borough in which the ordinance book has been lost destroyed or so much worn or mutilated as to be unserviceable the proper borough authorities may provide by an ordinance for the making and keeping a new ordinance book into which there shall be transcribed by the borough secretary or clerk all of the then valid and existing ordinances

Section 2 The secretary or clerk in transcribing the ordinances into a new ordinance book as within provided shall copy each one complete including date of enactment and approval and the names of the officers who signed same and after notice given and corrections made as herein provided he shall certify each ordinance as a true and correct copy of the original

Section 3 The ordinance providing for the transcribing of such ordinances into a new ordinance book shall be recorded in said book immediately following the ordinances so transcribed and it shall provide that the borough secretary or clerk upon the completion of the work of transcribing said ordinances shall publish once a week for four weeks in at least one newspaper of general circulation published in said borough if there be such and if not then one published within the county wherein the borough is located a notice stating that all of the then valid and existing ordinances of the borough have been transcribed into a new ordinance book that the old books and records of borough ordinances and the new ordinance book are open to public inspection verification and correction during the thirty (30) days from the date of said notice and at the end of said thirty (30) days' notice the borough secretary or clerk shall make correction of any and all errors or inaccuracies therein that may be called to his attention and shall then certify that all of said ordinances have been compared with the original ordinances and are true and correct copies

Section 4 After said ordinances are transcribed notice of said transcribing given and certificate of correctness made by the borough secretary or clerk as within provided the ordinances so transcribed shall take the place of the original record and shall be the valid and legal ordinances of such borough

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determned in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate fcr concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 339, as follows:

An act to define and establish auxiliary forest reserves and providing a penalty for the violation of the provisions thereof

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That in order to encourage the growing of such tres as will at the proper age be suitable for merchantable timber and sawed lumber whether such be of natural reproduction or from seed sown or trees planted out or all combined all surface lands which may be set apart according to the provisions of this act and exclusively used for growing such trees are hereby constituted a separate and distinct class of lands to be known as auxiliary forest reserves

Section 2 When any owner of surface land desires to have such land not exceeding five hundred acres in area placed in the class established by section one of this act such owner shall notify the State Forestry Reservation Commission of his desire in manner and form to be prescribed by said Commission Said notice shall contain a description of the land its location boundary area and character and state as far as practicable the species number and size of trees per acre growing thereon and also their condition and whether they are of natural reproduction or are from seed sown for the purpose or have been set out on said land and such other information as the Commission may require If upon receipt and consideration of this notice the Commission may deem the conditions such as to warrant action on its part to determine whether such lands should rightfully be placed in the class established by section one of this act it shall cause the same to be examined by some person learned in the principles and practices of forestry and a report made thereon and if upon receipt and consideration of such report it decides that such land should be placed in the class established by section one of this act it shall so declare and certify to the Commissioners of the county in which said land is located

Provided that no land shall be set aside for an auxiliary forest which at the last preceding assessment was assessed at ten dollars or more per acre

Section 3 Upon receipt by the county commissioners of such certificate of the Commission it shall be their duty at once to place said surface land in the class established by section one of this act and keep the same therein for a period of at least twenty years or thereafter until the trees growing thereon shall in the judgment of the Commission become sufficiently large and suitable for merchantable timber and sawed lumber or the land be devoted to other purposes provided however that the certificate of the Commission shall not become operative to place said surface land in the class established by section one of this act until the owner of said surface land has agreed in writing with the Commission to care for and treat the trees growing thereon according to the instructions and directions of the Commission and until such trees become suitable for merchantable timber and sawed lumber and if any such owner at any time fails to care for and treat the trees growing on said land as agreed with the Commission and due proof thereof is made the Commission shall remove said surface land from the class established by section one of this act The county commissioners shall on notice from the Commission proceed to recover from said owner for the use of the county and township by an appropriate action of law the difference in the amount of tax which would have been paid by the said owner at the established rates levied for the years for which recovery is sought and the rate provided for auxiliary forest reserves with costs of suit and to be recoverable from the time when such lands were placed in the class of auxiliary forest reserves

Section 4 Whenever the trees growing on said surface land have become suitable for merchantable timber and sawed lumber and the owner thereof desires to cut and market the same he shall give to the Commission at least three months' notice prior to the time when it is his desire to begin such cutting and marketing The Commission shall then make an examination of said lands and designate for the owner the kind and number of trees most suitable to be cut for the purposes for which the owner desires to place the same upon the market if in the judgment of the Commission there be any such and the cutting and removal of said trees so designated shall be in accordance with the instructions of the Commission

Section 5 If the owner of said surface land faithfully carries out the instructions of the Commission with regard to the removal and marketing of such mature or other trees as may be designated in the instructions of the said Commission and shall immediately replant other trees of valuable species for timber and sawed lumber or so protects the young growth and stool shoots that the said land may immediately become covered with young forest growth and does so in accordance with the instructions of the Commission then such surface land shall remain in said class established by section one of this act otherwise the Commission of Forestry shall notify the county commissioners that the said lands are not being maintained in accordance wiih the written agreement of the owner and the instructions of the Commission in which event the county commissioners shall immediately remove said lands from the class established by section one of this act All expenses attendant upon the examination of the said surface lands by the Commission shall be paid out of moneys appropriated for the maintenance of the Department of Forestry in like manner as other expenses for maintenance of said Department are now paid

Section 6 The owner of the said auxiliary forest reserves shall at all times have the right to remove therefrom trees which may be killed by fire thrown or broken by the wind or injured by other natural causes and shall under the direction of the Commission be privileged to make necessary thinnings or removal of undesirable species of trees in order to improve the condition of the remaining trees and under the same direction may be privileged to remove therefrom such timber from time to time as may be necessary and essential for use upon the cleared lands of the said owner for general farm purposes

Section 7 The placing of any tract of land within that class of lands to be known as Auxiliary Forest Reserves as provided for in this act shall in no wise be construed in limitation of sale or conveyance of said lands by the owner thereof and no such sale or transfer of title either by voluntary deed of conveyance assignment for the benefit of creditors by insolvency or bankruptcy proceedings or under a process of execution by reason of any judgment or decree obtained or had in any court or by devise in any will or descent under the interstate laws of this Commonwealth shall operate for the removal of said lands from that class of lands to be known as Auxiliary Forest Reserves but that such lands shall continue in said class and shall not be removed therefrom except in accordance with the provisions of this act The continuance of such tracts within that class of lands known as Auxiliary Forest Reserves shall not be construed or regarded as an incumbrance on said lands which under existing laws may be removed or discharged by judicial sale

Section 8 That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. AILMAN. Mr. Speaker, this bill and its companion bill No. 338 have been before us before, as I suppose most of you recognize, and they are not any more attractive to me now than then. It is true this particular one has been amended somewhat, and in part the bad taken out of it, but inasumch as there was not any good in it to commence with it has not been made perfect by any means. We American people are a great deal disposed to go to extremes, or as Petroleum V. Nasby one time expressed it, "to slop over." In the days of your father the question was to get rid of the forests and you will hear them tell yet about their log rolling, not the kind you have before election, but the kind they had to have before they got a piece of ground ready for cultivation, and poets sang the praises of those who subdued the forests. Now, they were wrong for cutting them down so fast. But the question with me now is whether we have not swung just about as far the other way and now we revere the forest as much as they seemed to execrate it, and we are going to the extremes, the fullest extremes, unwisely possibly in the line of rehabilitating the naked hills of Pennsylvania. Now, I want to see the naked hills of Pennsylvania reclothed with forests just as much as any man and am willing to go just as far as anybody to secure that. But this bill does not provide for anything of that kind. On the contrary it would tend to set aside lands that were more valuable for other purposes, than if left to grow up for forests and leave the naked hills still naked. Possibly it is not necessary to take your time to argue against these two bills because they go together, and because I don't think the bills will stand the test of the constitution, although I do not profess to be a constitutional lawyer. If you can set aside a piece of land and free it from taxation I do not see why you cannot do the same thing with a patch of potatoes, or corn, or wheat, and you might have it reserved for all these particular things just as well as for the trees. If the one is constitutional the other would be. And I do think we need to grow those things on which the people feed in this State, as much and as well as we do lumber. Now the relief that is sought to be given by this one dollar assessment,—you will see that the acre of land set aside is assessed at one dollar, and the tax the mere pittance is supposed to be in relief of taxation, but it does not help the farmer because if he gets a little exemption from tax on an acre of ground, if he wants trees, he will have to make it up again on the other acres of the farm. If this department or whoever is responsible for this measure has any real desire to preserve these forests or put the farmers in the position where they can afford to allow this timber to stand, they should do something that will equalize the burden of taxation and not encourage the growing of timber in order to avoid paying taxes.

I do not offer any apologies for advocating equalization of taxes. Only this morning I had thrown into my teeth on this floor, that you farmers are trying to raise a false impression that you are paying as much tax as anybody. Why, the gentleman says the corporations pay all the State taxes. We know that on seven billions of dollars they pay the magnificent sum of twenty-six million dollars, while the real estate which includes these forests and is valued at only four billions pays over seventy million dollars of tax. If you will help to equalize the burdens of taxation, the forests can take care of themselves.

Mr. ALBERT DAVIS in the Chair.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, Bills No. 338 and 339 are companion measures, so to speak, and should pass or fall together. They represent the idea of Hon. Simon B. Elliott, a former member of the Pennsylvania Legislature, and at the present time a member of the Forestry Commission, and are the result of years of study by him of the subject of forestry. The bill now under consideration has been amended limiting the quantity of land to be placed in the proposed Forestry Reserve to 500 acres by a single taxpayer or owner and all such land must be assessed at less than $10 per acre at the time it is offered to the Forestry Commission to be accepted, thus removing the objectionable features to the bill when previously considered. In the introduction of bills, if they pass and become laws, we look for certain results from them. Many times, however, we are disappointed in our expectations, for in their operation laws fail to produce the results desired, and really are only experiments. The bill we are now considering is to my mind largely experimental, and my candid opinion is that the members of the Forestry Commission will be greatly disappointed in the result should it pass and become a law, for I do not look for any great rush of real estate owners to take advantage of a law of this character. This is an age of conservation and progression and this bill is abreast of the times in this respect. It took ages for the timber to mature that formerly covered the lands of our State, and but a few years, comparatively speaking, to remove it. The forestry scheme of our State, an effort to reforest our barren hills, is building for the future, a time when a piece of wood will be valued as it is to-day in some of the denuded foreign lands. I feel we can afford to take a chance on all reasonable legislation of this kind, and that this bill should pass.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 338, entitled:

An act to provide for the taxation of auxiliary forest reserves

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, inasmuch as the House has seen fit in its wisdom to defeat the bill creating auxiliary forest reserves it would be unnecessary to go on and create a tax method for the reserves and therefore I ask that the further consideration of this bill be postponed.

Mr. ROBINSON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 412, as follows:

An act to further amend section seven of article two of an act entitled "An Act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the anthracite coal mines of Pennsylvania and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith" approved the second day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one as amended by the act approved the eighth day of June one thousand nine hundred and one and by the act approved the third day of May one thousand nine hundred and five and by the act approved the third day of May one thousand nine hundred and nine and to amend section ten of article two of said act approved the second day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one so as to increase the number of inspectors and fix their salaries

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section seven of article two of the act approved the second day of June one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one as amended by the act approved the eighth day of June one thousand nine hundred and one and by the act approved the third day of May one thousand nine hundred and five by the act approved the third day of May one thousand nine hundred and nine which reads as follows

"Section 7 The qualified electors of the several inspection districts mentioned in this act shall elect respectively the following number of qualified persons to act as mine inspectors of this Commonwealth namely

First inspection district six inspectors
Section inspection district five inspectors
Third inspection district one inspector
Fourth inspection district four inspectors
Fifth inspection district two inspectors
Sixth inspection district one inspector
Seventh inspection district one inspector

Provided That the present mine inspectors in the several inspection districts shall continue in office until the expiration of the terms for which they have been appointed or elected and the number of inspectors to be elected at the coming election shall be reduced by the number of inspectors now regularly appointed or elected and serving in said districts When the terms of the present inspectors shall expire their successors shall be elected in accordance with the provisions of this act until each inspection district shall have its full quota of elected inspectors under this act Said inspectors elected under this act shall be under the direction of the Chief of the Department of Mines who shall assign districts to the several inspectors in the respective counties in which they are elected but where an inspector has not enough work or duty to perform in his own inspection district then it shall be the right of the Chief of the Department of Mines to assign said inspector to work or duty in another adjoining district or territory wherein the services of said inspector are necessary be further amended so as to read as follows

Section 7 The qualified electors of the several inspection districts mentioned in this act shall elect respectively the following number of qualified persons to act as mine inspectors of this Commonwealth namely

First inspection district nine inspectors
Second inspection district six inspectors
Third inspection district one inspector
Fourth inspection district four inspectors
Fifth inspection district two inspectors
Sixth inspection district one inspector
Seventh inspection district one inspector

Provided That the present mine inspectors in the several inspection districts shall continue in office until the expiration of the terms for which they have been appointed or elected and the number of inspectors to be elected at the coming election shall be reduced by the number of inspectors now regularly appointed or elected and serving in said districts When the terms of the present inspectors shall expire their successors shall be elected in accordance with the provisions of this act until each inspection district shall have its full quota of elected inspectors under this act Said inspectors elected under this act shall be under the direction of the Chief of the Department of Mines who shall assign districts to several inspectors in the respective counties in which they are elected but where an inspector has not enough work or duty to perform in his own inspection district then it shall be the right f the Chief of the Department of Mines to assign said inpector to work or duty in another adjoining district or terriory wherein the services of said inspector are necessary

Section 2 That section ten of article two of the said act pproved the second day of June one thousand eight hundred nd ninety-one which reads as follows

"Section 10 The salary of each of the said inspectors shall e three thousand dollars per annum which salary together vith the expenses incurred in carrying into effect the proisions of this act shall be paid by the State Treasurer out of be Treasury of the Commonwealth upon the warrant of the uditor General" be amended so as to read as follows

Section 10 The salary of the said inspectors shall be three housand five hundred dollars a year which salary together vith the expenses incurred in carrying into effect the proisions of this act shall be paid quarterly by the State Treasrer on warrant of the Auditor General issued upon the preentation of vouchers approved by the Chief of the Departnent of Mines

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SCHULTZ. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, I think we should not pass this bill at this time. At the present time the mine inspectors in the anthracite district are receiving $3,000 a year. The contingent funds that have been adding up for every year according to the Auditor General's Department is $770.84 on the average, making a total salary of $3,770. If this bill was passed and became a law it would add to the pay roll of the mine inspectors in the anthracite region between twenty-eight and thirty thousand dollars. Now, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I am from the hard coal region and meet the mine inspectors most every day I am home. There is not one mine inspector in my region that is dissatisfied with his position and he does not ask for a raise of wages. He is not overworked. He always puts up a great fight to get the job. He never has any opposition because the Examining Board of Mine Inspectors does not issue any more certificates than there are vacancies; therefore, we have no choice to elect mine inspectors. Now, Mr. Speaker, I think it is a very unnecessary measure, and if the gentlemen of this House will look over this bill I think they will vote this bill down.

The other day I was accused of making a false statement on this floor when the bill was on second reading. To make sure I went to the Auditor General's Department, and Mr. Speaker and gentlemen, if I have made any false statement in this House the Auditor General's records are responsible for the false report.

Mr. SHADRACH. Mr. Speaker, we are not here from the anthracite region asking from you anything but that which I know the gentlemen of this House will concede, because we are asking for protection. We are asking for an increase in the number of mine inspectors in Luzerne and Lackawanna counties. Instead of four inspectors we want six men up there.

There is no occupation known to commerce wherein the life cost of the operatives is so great as that of anthracite coal mining. In the coal operations of the twenty-six States in the Union mining coal in 1909, there were 2,412 persons killed, out of this number nearly one-half of them were killed in Pennsylvania, nearly one-fourth, or 567 of them, were killed in the anthracite mines of Pennsylvania.

The State of Pennsylvania, expends annually about $2,000,000 for the protection and care of a large number of unfortunates who have, by reason of physical and mental defects, ceased to be not only non-productive and a menace to society, but a menace to their own existence as well, which is commendable, indeed.

This work on the part of our grand old State emphasizes in no unmistakable terms the fact that Pennsylvania, true to the principles of her founder, leads the world in the application of practical philanthropy—and gentlemen, in granting us this means of protection which we are now asking, you will but supplement in a small degree the good work so nobly carried on by this Commonwealth.

We are here to-day asking this Legislature to grant us, in the anthracite coal region, this feature of protective legislation, involving to the State the expenditure of $24,000 annually and whereby protection may be extended to the preservation of the lives and limbs of a 100,000 sane, active, wealth-producing, tax-paying, home-building and home-protecting people, every one of whom is as a commercial asset, worth to the community in which he has his being, the State in which he lives and the nation to which he has sworn allegiance $1,700 per annum, each one of them a very potent asset in the general wealth of our State and nation.

The State as the parent of its people, is charged with the duty of caring for and protecting the health and life of the people even though, in the exercise of this duty, some of the people may be not only unduly burdened, but may also have their liberties somewhat curtailed.

By reason of a lax and indifferent enforcement of the laws already enacted for the protection of the lives and limbs of those engaged in anthracite coal mining, a large number of persons, wholly unfamiliar with and entirely incompetent for such an occupation, are permitted to work in those mines at their own risk, if killed and at the risk of the community and State if they are injured.

The State by legislation, has gone so far as to take from those, who under the common law, would be charged with the responsibility of protecting the lives of their workmen and thus have caused these persons, i. e., the coal operators to be indifferent as to the selection of those whom they may engage to mine their coal, although the loss of a human life in their operation is by them deplored, yet under the law that loss entails upon them no pecuniary loss.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

We ask you to give us this additional means of availing ourselves of the law of inspection and thereby enable us to charge the Department of Mines with the strict enforcement of Section 17 of the Act of June 8, 1901, in other words, make the chief of the Department of Mines and the inspectors under him inspect the mines in the spirit of the section of the act referred to—had that been done the Pancoast mine disaster would not have happened.

During the period of twenty-five years, from 1885 to 1909, the toll of lives lost in the mining of anthracite was 11,491, and those seriously injured were 23,970; think of this body of wealth producers; think of the anguish and misery visited upon the widows and orphans left by a large number of these victims; think of that vast body of injured; 17 per cent. of whom are among us to-day, moving in our communities legless, armless, sightless, all of them enumerated as cripples, and you will agree with us that every interest in the State, should unite to secure for the men working in the anthracite coal mines, a greater degree of protection of their lives and limbs, even if that protection should be a more rigid discipline of the conduct of the mine workers themselves on the principle that the State has a right to protect the citizens from self-destruction.

Mr. BRENNAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask Mr. Shadrack if in his honest opinion we have not a sufficient number of mine inspectors now?

Mr. SHADRACH. Mr. Speaker, I would state to the gentleman that I would not be here if I had any other than an honest opinion. I am here because I have an honest opinion that we do need these men in Luzerne and Lackawanna counties.

Mr. BRENNAN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to say a few words on this bill, realizing the fact that in the State of Pennsylvania an attempt is being made to increase the number of mine inspectors while we already have twenty mine inspectors in the anthracite coal region. Back in 1885 we had six mine inspectors in the whole anthracite coal region, and we had as good results from these six as we ever had or get from the twenty now. I have been in the mines all that time and up to a few days before coming to this House. I meet the mine inspectors—not often in the mines. I meet them on the outside of the mines, and while the title of this bill says for the protection and safety of the men in and about the anthracite coal mines, I wish to say that we have a sufficient number of mine inspectors, and will try and show that this is so. Our present mine inspectors, when the fishing season is in, they can take three or four weeks for fishing, and when the hunting season is in they can take three, four or five weeks away hunting, and when the summer season is in they can take three, four or five weeks at a summer resort. I know they attend baseball matches, also the foot races and pigeon shooting matches. Now, I want to say to the members of the House that during this absence there is no substitute to take care of the large numbers of men in the mines and the men in the mines must take care of themselves, and I wish to say to the members of this House, without fear of contradiction, that in my estimation—and I am a miner—the position of mine inspector under the present system is a sinecure. There is no one to compel them to do their work, and if the district to-day is too large up in Luzerne County you have a Department of Mines and Mining here, with a chief of the department, Mr. Roderick. Let him re-district the district if some of them are too large in the estimation of his friends here; let him re-district the districts, and I think they will have plenty of mine inspectors to take care of all the work.

Mr. SHADRACH. Mr. Speaker, I wish to say a word in explanation of some of the remarks of the gentleman who has just preceded me. In the mine inspection districts in which he lives the mine inspector has charge of about seven thousand people, and they produce 2,259,000 tons of coal a year. In the district where I live in Luzerne the mine inspector has nine thousand nine hundred and sixty men in his charge, and his district produces 5,247,000 tons of coal a year.

Now, I want to say that I cannot see how Mr. Brennan can spend much of his time in the mines. He must be observing the mine inspectors of Schuylkill County going fishing and pigeon shooting. It seems to me he is occupied wholly with this. Up in my district the men are at work all the time and working. They don't lose a day, and account for every day they are on the job, and notwithstanding that we have not enough of them, and I ask you to help us out.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 486, entitled:

An act creating a Bureau of Pensions in the office of the Auditor General providing for the appointment of a chief clerk thereof defining the duties and powers of said Bureau of Pensions providing a pension for certain honorably discharged soldiers sailors and marines of the Civil War providing penalties for the violation of certain provisions thereof conferring certain additional duties and powers upon the State Military Board and making an appropriation for the payment of the pensions and expenses herein provided for

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL DROPPED FROM THE CALENDAR.

Mr. RENO. Mr. Speaker, this bill is covered by two bills passed by the House, namely, the Dershem bill and the Gray bill, providing for pensions for soldiers of the Civil War. Both these bills are now pending in the Senate. I therefore move that this bill be dropped from the calendar.

Mr. WM. CONNER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 487, entitled.

An act to amend the second section of an act entitled "A Act to prohibit the manufacture and sale of oleomargarin butterine and other similar products when colored in imitation of yellow butter to provide for license fees to b paid by manufacturers wholesale and retail dealers and by proprietors of hotels restaurants dining-rooms and boarding houses for the manufacture or sale of oleomargarin butterine or other similar products not colored in imitation of yellow butter and to regulate the manufacture an sale of oleomargarine butterine or other similar product not colored in imitation of yellow butter and prevent an punish fraud and deception in such manufacture and sal as an imitation butter and to prescribe penalties and punishment for violations of this act and the means and th method of procedure for its enforcement and regulate certain matters of evidence in such procedure" approved th ninth day of May Anno Domini one thousand nine hundre and one by reducing the amount of license fees

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. KEISTER. Mr. Speaker, the bill now under consideration is another oleo bill. I want to say to the members of the House that this bill does nothing but reduce the license fee. Oleomargarine must be sold for oleomargarine as it is to-day. All other imitations of butter must be sol for just what they are absolutely. It does nothing but reduce the license fee, therefore, allowing it to be sold as food product. And I want to say, Mr. Speaker, that my idea was originally to draft this bill so as to take the license fee off entirely, but we found it would be necessary to amend several laws, and the conditions under which the oleomargarine will have to be sold. I hope that the House will pass this bill, as I believe it is a meritorious measure.

And said bill having been read at length the third time considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

failed on final passage.

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, when this bill came up for consideration yesterday I voted against it because I did not understand fully the meaning of the bill. I have gone to some effort to investigate the bill, and I feel that I understand it now. I think probably a number of the members of this House did not understand the purpose of the bill at the time they voted upon it.

The bill arises out of a defect in our present revenue laws which has been discovered by the Provident Life and Trust Company of Philadelphia. They have a reserve fund amounting to about fifty million dollars that has escaped taxation. It was originally attempted to tax this fund as part of the capital stock of the company, but the Supreme Court held that it was not taxable as part of the capital stock, in view of the fact that it was held in trust for the policy holders. They then attempted to tax it as property held in trust. The Trust Company came in and maintained they did not hold it in trust; that they held it as a reserve fund, and that this could not be taxed as a trust fund. This bill removes the defect which the Provident Life and Trust Company has in that way made use of, by providing that securities, whether owned by the company in their own right or not, unless such assets or the proceeds thereof in case of dissolution, would be divided among the individual stockholders, shall be taxed. I believe that this will enable the State to collect the tax upon this fund which should be taxed, and I think for that reason that the bill should be passed.

Mr. HOWARD. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I want to say in justice to myself and to the Tax Commission that we have not gone out of our way to raise taxes. We have simply tried to equalize, and this bill simply provides for a simpler method of collecting the taxes on bonds and mortgages. That is all there is in it, and I am sure if the House understood it yesterday they would not have voted it down. The only bills the Tax Commission advocate to this House are the coal tax bill and the direct inheritance tax bill, both of which will come before you in a few days, and this bill was simply for the purpose of simplifying the methods of collecting taxes, and I hope that every member will vote for this bill.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. M. CLYDE KELLEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House do now adjourn.

The motion was agreed to and (at 5.10 P. M.) the House adjourned until this evening at 7.30 o'clock.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WEDNESDAY, May 10, 1911.

EVENING SESSION.

The House met at 7.30 P. M.

HONORABLE JEROME T. AILMAN presiding.

MEMORIAL SERVICE ON DEATH OF JOHN CALVIN MEYER, LATE REPRESENTATIVE FROM CENTER COUNTY.

CHAIRMAN AILMAN. The time appointed for the memorial services has arrived, and we will be glad if you will give us your attention, as we will not detain you very long. There are several addresses to be made and they will all be brief.

The appropriateness of this occasion must be apparent to every one present—that even in these very busy closing days of the sessions of the House of Representatives of this Commonwealth, we stop our labors for a few moments to pay tribute to our friend who fell by the way—who died in the harness. Perhaps it will not be amiss if we ourselves are impressed to-day with the shortness and uncertainty of life and by the fact that often "in the midst of life there is death."

My first meeting with our departed brother, John Calvin Meyer, occurred a little more than two years ago. Some hundred or more of the newly elected members of the Legislature were on their way to the State College of Pennsylcania to attend the Pennsylvania Day exercises there, and at the station of Bellefonte we met a fine-looking, pleasant-faced and pleasant-mannered gentleman who was introduced to us as the new member from Centre County, and I think there is no doubt that by the time we reached Bellefonte, on the return trip, everybody knew J. Calvin Meyer. A short time after that we met here in this hall and it was not long until he was known to everybody here. My personal acquaintance and association with him was confined almost entirely to within the walls of this room. He impressed me, as I presume he did everyone, as a man whose motive was principle and whose incentive was purpose. He was one of those men whom you knew almost at sight. There was an openness and a kindliness of his character that impressed itself upon everyone and it was apparent to anyone without any deep penetration. Numbered in years, he was not allowed his "three score and ten." Measured as the world measures success I think his life was unhesitatingly pronounced a life of success. I think he lived that he might be able to realize the impressive prayer of the Prophet: "Let me die the death of the righteous and let my last end be like His."

Mr. C. V. JOHNSON. Mr. Chairman, Fellow-Members, Ladies and Gentlemen: I feel that in honoring the memory of our late fellow-member, the Hon. John Calvin Meyer, that I would not be doing myself justice nor would I do the friendship justice that existed between Mr. Meyer and myself without saying a few words upon this occasion. My acquaintance with him dates back to January two years ago, when I first came to the Legislature. That acquaintanceship soon ripened into a very strong friendship. In fact, it was almost a daily occurrence at the close of our sesions here for Brother Meyer and myself to spend at least an hour together in chatting and talking over matters before we retired.

I knew him, and there evisted between us a very, very strong friendship. The history and the training of Mr. Mever was that of most strong professional and political men. Born on a farm, raised in the country, educated in a country school, taught school, read law, was elected to the district attorneyship of his county, and then entered politics as chairman of the County Committee in the county in which he lived.

Mr. Meyer was a man with rather a strong character. I close in numbers between the Democrats and Republican party, and many bitter contests have taken place in that county. Two years ago he came down here with a close vote. Those qualities which existed in the man made friends for him here and kept them, and when he returned home after having served here with ability, honor and integrity, at the end of his first term he goes home and then secures the unanimous nomination of both the great parties in his county, and he comes back here with a larger majority on the Republican ticket than on the Democratic ticket, and the only reason why he was on the Democratic side of the House was because he was one of their best leaders, and a good man, and we were afraid that he would steal our laurels if we put him on our side of the House.

Mr. Meyer was a man with rather o strong character. I might say that I thought he was at times too strong and too strenuous in his efforts for carrying through any of the many measures in which he was interested, but he always stood up in contests and he always fought a fair and square fight, and after he found that opposition had ceased he still retained the friendship of those who were his opponents, and there was no resentment after the fight. I say this, and I believe that every member of this House will agree with me, that there was no man in the House two years ago nor at this session who had a greater personal following and a more devoted personal following than the Honorable J. Calvin Meyer. He certainly left a great heritage to his family. The honor that was paid him by this House by its presence at his funeral, I believe the first in the history of the State, demonstrates to us that Mr. Meyer so conducted himself here as to win the respect and love and friendship of all the members of this House. I believe Centre County has never been so ably represented in this Legislature as it was by Mr. Meyer. He secured more for his county than had been secured before, and had he lived longer far greater honor would have been in store for him. I can say this—that this country and this State has certainly suffered a great loss in the early taking off of John Calvin Meyer.

Mr. SHAFFER. Mr. Chairman and members of the House, this hour has been set aside for us to meet together to pay tribute to one of our members who recently was removed from among us by death. On the fifteenth day of April, 1911, Bellefonte, Penna., at the quiet midnight hour, 12.30 A. M., Hon. J. Calvin Meyer passed from Labor to Reward. He was conscious to the last, though speechless, recognizing those about him. He returned from here to his home the day previous to his death to spend the balance of the week and the Easter Sabbath with his family. The news of his death was a shock to all of us. I have known the deceased brother and friend many years. To know him was to love him. His seat and desk, No. 79, are now draped in mourning, and a beautiful bouquet of flowers adorns his desk daily. I occupy the seat No. 80 on the left, and miss his counsel and brotherly love. He is here in body no more, and it is only too true that the trend of the times should be a warning to every man. Mr. Meyer will be missed in his city, county, state and nation. He was a man who did not form arbitrary opinions; he was studious and conscientious; possessing executive powers, conversant in municipal affairs, non-partisan in his views, and esteemed in all his public official life. His fine command of language, aptness in choice of words, his earnestness in his presentation of everything he advocated; his pleasing presence, all joined to make him prominent among men.

The bar of Centre County, of which he was a member, passed resolutions voicing the esteem in which he was held. I will not reiterate them her. I wish you could read the eloquent tributes paid to his worth and his memory. They fully realized the loss of one of their most courteous and energetic members of the bar, an honored representative, a progressive citizen, a faithful adherent of his church, a devoted husband and father. In politics he was a Democrat, a leader of men, respected by all parties.

When this House appointed a committee to represent them at the meeting of the Centre County Bar and Citizens and adjourned over the day and his excellency the Governor and a portion of his cabinet joined them in a journey to the centre of the State to attend in a body the funeral of our departed friend, a tribute was tendered that no words of mine can emphasize.

May we, one and all, so live that our end shall be like his.

He is gone but not forgotten, for we will ever remember him as a man and a friend. None can forget the friendly smile, the hearty handshake and the encouraging word. These were a few of the noble qualities and examples of our friend and brother of the House of Representatives 1909 and 1911.

Mr. SHREVE. Mr. Chairman and gentlemen of the House: I cannot permit this sad occasion to pass without paying a brief tribute to the life and character of J. Calvin Meyer. It was not my good fortune to meet Mr. Meyer until the session of 1909, and though our acquaintance had been only a little more than two years in duration yet in that time it had grown into a ripe friendship.

Mr. Meyer took a prominent part in the session of 1909, and his faithful attention to every duty assigned him and his courteous manner and genial way soon won the respect and admiration of his colleagues. He made such a brilliant record by his industry, ability and integrity that no other person was thought of in Centre County as a Representative in the Pennsylvania Legislature.

Returning this session without opposition, he immediately occupied a commanding position in the deliberation of this body. He took a deep interest in the charitable institutions of the State and in considering their needs and requirements he was fair and impartial.

He was a strong advocate and supporter of State College and had contributed much to the success of that institution.

He recently, with the appropriation committee, visited the city which I in part have the privilege to represent and while there so endeared himself in the hearts of the people that they all join with me in this expression of his excellent worth.

I cannot refrain from expressing my deep appreciation of his untiring work upon the committee of which I have the honor to be chairman, the Judiciary General Committee.

He was a lawyer of unquestioned ability, and as such rendered valuable assistance to the committee. He was a profound lawyer who had mastered the great fundamental principles of the law. He was a distinguished statesman, and a Christian gentleman.

When he passed away he had made an enviable record for himself, not only for his constituents in Centre County but for the whole Commonwealth.

We all feel his loss deeply. His death has left a void which none can fill. We miss him for his goodness, his kindness and his noble character.

To his bereaved family we extend our heartfelt and sincerest sympathy. His mortal remains have been laid away in their final resting place, but his life, his character and his splendid work will remain with us as an example and inspiration for all time to come.

Mr. MATT. Mr. Chairman and gentlemen of the House. I am not honored as those who have preceded me this evening. I have only had the honor and pleasure of knowing the Hon. J. Calvin Meyer since January 2, last—but nevertheless I had learned to love him as did every other man who came in contact with him. We loved him for his courteous treatment to all no matter whether you agreed with him or not on questions that came up in committee or the floor of this House, and many were the times I turned to him for information on subjects that came up, and no matter how he might have been engaged, his good spirit to help someone always came forward and I received the information desired, for he possessed the ability to give it and he always gave it with a smile and request to come again. I knew him as an honest legislator—for the people of his county and the entire State. I knew him for his honesty and integrity in whom I had implicit confidence and no member deplored his being called away more than I, though our acquaintance had been but a short time—for every day brought to me more knowledge of his worth to the individual with whom he came in contract with as well as the entire State and to know J. Calvin Meyer was to know a man in public life who could always find time to attend to his church duties—as we were told by his friends from his home town that he always found time to be a Christian—what a grand legacy to leave your friends and loved ones.

What an example for us all, and now Mr. President and gentlemen of the House, if our brother had faults let us forget them and let us cherish and ever remember the good and loving qualifications he possessed and let us strive to imitate his good virtues which were many and to say the least we can all say. To know the Hon. J. Calvin Meyer was to love him. I am thankful of having this honor conferred upon me—that I may speak these few words of eulogy of our brother who has gone to his reward, for I believe he has heard the voice of our Master say to him, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant, it is enough. Come up higher."

Mr. MORRIS. Mr. Chairman and gentlemen of the House:

> "To live in the hearts we leave behind
> Is not to die."

If I were to sit here in silence to-night, without a word of tribute to the memory of one with whom I was intimately acquainted, I should feel conscious of a duty left undone. Fortunately, it was my privilege to have known John Calvin Meyer long before he or I became members of this body, and this acquaintance through close association ripened into a lasting friendship. Just as we bade him a graeful welcome to membership in this chamber, so now we bid him a tearful farewell. We pause to-night at the windowless palace of rest, while we weave a chaplet of flowers, and pay our last tribute of respect to the memory of one whom we all learned to admire, esteem and respect. This, Mr. Speaker, is the hour for sad, sorrowful and pensive meditation, when our grief and anguish are softened into the gentle tear of recollection.

There comes a voice from yonder tomb whose melody is sweeter than song. From its tranquil bosom spring none but fond regrets and cherished memories. To-night as it were we pass in full review the achievements of a life well spent—of a faith well kept—of a work well done. On the tablets of memory we think of him as

> "Tranquil as if his spirit lay > Becalmed in Heaven's approving way."

To those who knew him best, his forenoon was sublime, his afternoon a psalm, his night a prayer—a gentle, genial, sympathetic friend. Calm, deliberate and dignified, his life was amiable, and the elements so happily blended in his personality, that in the light of morn, noon and dewy eve Nature might stand up and say to all the world: This was a man!

Free from affectation, his life was the embodiment of candor, frankness, openness, sincerity and honesty, and these are the granite blocks in the shaft which will perpetuate his memory in his native county. He was slow in choosing a friend, and slower to change him; he was courteous to all and intimate with few. He would scorn no man for his poverty nor worship any one for his wealth. We may all bear testimony to his high sense of fairness, and in the heartfelt estimation of his body, he was regarded as one of its foremost members.

And now that death has come to this chamber for the first time in this session and removed Mr. Meyer from our midst, even though our friend has passed the threshold of earthly existence, his influence still survives. Like the setting sun, he left a trail of light behind by which others may guide their footsteps to a better and nobler life. In his sudden death we lose a faithful colleague, his county a loyal champion, and the State a worthy representative.

On the hillside of yonder cemetery, there let him rest, under the watchcing stars, asleep on the people's heart, entombed in the love of friends who knew him best!

> "There is no death. The stars go down
> To rise upon some fairer shore,
> And bright in heaven's jeweled crown
> They shine for evermore."

Mr. ALTER. Mr. Chairman, at the beginning of the session of 1909 I first met the Hon. John Calvin Meyer. Being associated with him in committee work as well as in the work of the House, I soon came to look upon him with the utmost respect and to appreciate his friendship in the highest degree. His gentle, courteous manner; the diligent and very able attention which he gave to every duty which devolved upon him; his firm adherence to principles in which he believed, together with his broad consideration for those who honestly differed with him, are all well known. To my mind the most striking feature of his character was the remarkable combination of gentleness and firmness for which he was distinguished. By reason of the friendship, which was formed in the session of 1909, I saw a good deal of Mr. Meyer during the present session and when I learned after his death that he had been warned of its probable occurrence I was amazed as I recalled his constant cheerfulness and the absence of anything to indicate a feeling of apprehension upon his part. Yet this was all consistent with his whole character and life. It seems to me that his attitude in the face of death, which he had been warned he must anticipate in the near future, may only be accounted for in one way. He must have possessed that most valuable of all possessions, a simple and abiding faith. To him death was not the end or even the interruption of his real life, but he seemed to approach it as one following a continuous and unbroken path leading on out into the infinite.

> "I watched a sail until it dropped from sight
> Over the rounding sea; a gleam of white,
> A last far-flashed farwell and like a thought > Slipped out of mind, it vanished and was not."
>
> "But to the helmsman standing at the wheel
> Broad seas outstretched before the gliding keel;
> Disaster? Change? He felt no slight sign
> Nor dreamed he of that dim horizon line."
>
> "So may it be perchance as down the tide
> Our dear ones vanish; peacefully they glide
> On level seas, nor mark the unknown bound,
> We call it death, to them 'tis life beyond."

Mr. DERSHEM. Mr. Chairman, fellow members, ladies and gentlemen: Honored by an invitation to speak on this occasion, I confess that words fail me in an endeavor to express the feeling of my heart I knew Calvin Meyer personally for several years and by reputation quite a while longer and this I desire to say, that the longer I knew him the more intimately I became acquainted with him, the more I admired and loved him.

He was a hard, conscientious worker and I am sure the county of Centre has not had a member in this body for many long years who was more faithful to duty and who looked after the interests of his constituency better than did the Hon. J. Calvin Meyer.

I distinctly remember he was very busy the last day he was at his desk in the House but he was not too much engrossed in his work to take time to go into the minutest details of several matters which in all probability were of little concern to him, other than to help a brother. He was ever on the lookout for an opportunity to say a kind word or do a good deed so that somebody's pathway might be made brighter and happier. The last time I saw him was going into a florist, in this city, to get some Easter flowers to take home with him, for his wife.

He was a model husband and father. Amid the pressing and trying duties of his professional and official life he would, from time to time, leave his work and find rest in the companionship of his wife and daughter, both of whom he so much loved. But he is gone, his chair is vacant, his desk is draped in mourning and oh! how we miss him. He is gone from his office and his friends in his home town and county who esteemed, honored and loved him. But much as colleagues, friends and neighbors miss him there is a place where they miss him more. There is a home in Bellefonte more sad than all. In that home there is a woman who shared his joys and sorrows, whose heart is torn and bleeding, waiting for him who cometh not and an only daughter is broken in heart because father is gone. Oh! what a change has come over this home. Let us beseech Him who is the Comforter of the widow and fatherless, that he console this family in their hour of desolution. Some one has written:

> Come ye disconsolate where ere ye languish
> Come to the mercy seat, fervently kneel,
> Here bring your wounded hearts, here tell your anguish
> Earth has no sorrow, that heaven cannot heal.

Mr. Meyer's kindly nature and lovable traits of character and his amicable consideration for all about him will long be in the minds and hearts of those who knew him. He was a gentleman in the highest sense of the word. It is difficult to determine which to admire most, the intellect which could grasp with such unerring accuracy the details as well as the larger questions of legislation or the loving, tolerant nature which disarmed opposition and gained for him the admiring confidence, even of those who differed with him.

But more than this, he was a Christian. I am gratified to state that our deceased brother recognized the great claims of religion and according to his convictions and the dictates of his conscience led an upright conscientious, Christian life.

It is indeed hard for us to understand why a man such as Hon. J. Calvin Meyer with such a fine character, such unusual ability and such bright prospects for a long life should be called away in the very midst of his splendid career, but bye and bye when we shall see with undimmed eyes, when the heavens shall be rolled back as a scroll and the Book of Life shall be opened then we shall behold with unclouded vision and see written there that his work was finished. Then and then only shall we understand. May the example of his splendid life be an inspiration to us to lead us onward and upward to the nobler and higher things of life.

Mr. CHARLES W. ROBISON. Mr. Chairman and gentlemen of the House: My first acquaintance with Mr. Meyer was on New Year's day of this year; there was something about his personality that drew me toward him. Our associations grew closer as members of the Appropriation Committee as we were thrown together almost daily in committee meeting and in the itinery of the committee's travels throughout the State, visiting the penal institutions, the hospitals and insane asylums, as we walked arm in arm I was deeply impressed with his expressions of sympathy for unfortunates and suffering humanity generally, the soft gentle tones of his voice indicated his genuine, heartfelt, manly spirit, he endeared himself to me in our short acquaintance to such an extent that his memory will remain indelibly impressed and ever fresh in my thoughts as one of the most lovable and noble gentlemen I have ever met.

I shall ever cherish the recollection of our last meeting at the Pennsylvania Depot. There was a sad, firm, sweet expression on his handsome face, the hand shake was tender and affectionate and to use the language of the poet, I fancied he held the flower of destiny in the palm of his hand and he that crushed it would not find the sting of its thorn but the perfume of his sweet disposition.

Death rode upon him with its hoofs shod with wool and I fancy that with his last expiring breath a ministering angel was in waiting to waft his soul to heaven and lay it at the feet of the queen of angels as a rich pearl to bejewel her diadem. And now John Calvin Meyer we are offering up a prayer that we may emulate your beautiful life. And when life's race is run and we have rendered a service to mankind when it shall please God to separate our souls and bodies, and in the hope, thought and belief of a glorious resurrection, may we meet again in the sweet bye and bye.

Mr. WILLIAM WARD, Jr. presented the following address, in the absence of Mr. V. Gilpin Robinson, who was summoned to Washington by a telegram:

Mr. V. GILPIN ROBINSON. Mr. Chairman, fellow members of the House, ladies and gentlemen, it has been truthfully said that public office is a public trust There is no trust more sacred than the one accepted when a man takes a seat in this legislative body and assumes his share of responsibility for the enactment of laws affecting the diversified personal and property interests of the millions of people of this great Commonwealth. One cannot be long in a body such as this without being impressed by the individual, honest endeavor to do the right. When the outside world criticizes what it regards as bad or ill-considered legislation, it has little conception of the difficulties which face the honest and well meaning legislator. A member may unwittingly become sponsor for a bad bill which he has been requested to present and father. Having accepted the responsibility for it, it becames a matter of personal pride to see it through and thereby he is apt to lose his perspective and his judgment be at fault. He yields to the temptation to give his support and vote where he does not entirely approve. Sometimes he yields because he wishes to win support for his own pet measures. Sometimes because he fears to provoke retaliatory opposition to them. He is tempted to put his judgment at fault by seeking the popular side. He may lack the moral and physical courage to face the snubbing or the ridicule to which he may be exposed if he takes a stand and fails to make his position good.

All honor to the men in this body and in every legislative assembly who fearlessly attack measures which they believe to be wrong or ill advised and who are not discouraged because not once but many times they may find themselves in hopeless minority.

This time has been set aside to pay a tribute of respect to one among us who was conspicuously failthful to his sacred trust and free from the criticism to which I allude. He never seemed to hesitate to take a stand where he thought he was in the right. A stranger to the new members of the House, it was not long before they discoreved in him a guide whom they could follow and fear no danger. To those of us who were privileged to serve with him in committee it was not long before we discovered the value of his counsel. Upon the floor of this House he was held in such high respect and esteem that each and all of us were grateful when he gave us the benefit of his calm, dispassionate and painstaking judgment upon whatever might be the subject of consideration. Withal he was so gentle, so courteous, so considerate and so tolerant of the opinion of others. Though he led he seemed to follow. Few of us but are disposed to shift personal responsibility. He never seemed to. He seemed to court it. The halting of our work in order that we might join his family and his friends at his funeral services was by no means a formal and meaningless tribute. It was an honest, sincere and beautiful expression of a personal loss to each of us and to the State. He is at rest. He sleeps upon the hillside overlooking the beautiful valley of his home, among honored dead. He has not lived in vain nor has his cutting down in the midst of his activities and usefulness been without its benefits. The lives and deeds of such men are an inspiration to each of us. An inspiration to higher ideals of good citizenship and service to the State and to the nation. God grant that we and each of us may fearlessly do our duty not only here but in every station of life to which it has pleased God to call us and when our last hour shall come and we are gathered to our Father may we be found worthy as he has been found worthy.

Mr. DEARDEN. Mr. Chairman and Fellow-Members: I did not contemplate taking part in these solemn ceremonies, but I am moved by the spirit of the occasion to say just a word or two, not so much by the way of paying tribute to the splendid life of J. Calvin Meyer, but as to the value of the character that he possessed and the value of the life he lived, which is the only philosophical and ample explanation of why he is so mourned in his death. The one thing that most profoundly impressed me as with others of that great throng of mourning and admiring friends I stood at his grave, there came to me something like this— in the form of a question: What does this mean? This surely is a most unusual occasion; it is full of solemnity and impressiveness; what does it mean? I will answer the question. It means, I simply said, because he made good in his life, not only in the mental and intellectual esteem in which he was held by all his acquaintances, but in the heart of hearts also. His was one of the most impressive semi-public funerals I ever attended. It was a tribute to him paid by the State and by the State officials, and to the part he bore in the public affairs of this Commonwealth, to the splendid citizenship that he lived, to the illustrious influence he had in his home, that so very large a number of people were inspired to go there out of the honesty of their hearts because they wanted to be there with others, who like themselves with overflowing hearts, with friendly hearts, wanted to be gathered about that bier. It was a tribute that appealed to every heart. It seems to me that the example which he gave should be an inspiration to every one of us during the balance of our lives. There is no phliosophical explanation of this splendid tribute except that he lived a good life that deserved it. I want to tell you, my fellow-legislators, that there is one thing that counts most of all, and take it all the way to eternity, and that is high character, purity of soul, exalted thought, living up in the higher altitudes; living there, dwelling there, consecrating their lives there to bear upon something that shall come for the benefit of all who may go out of the way to reach it. I am glad, personally, to add just this word, and I trust that we may hold in high esteem all that Calvin Meyer's life stood for one and which ''in death be yet speaking.''

Mr. ABBOTT. Mr. Chairman, I do not rise upon my feet to-night as a friend of long years of J. Calvin Meyer. I do not rise to my feet and come here with the testimony of those who have seen the solid characteristics of his beautiful life in the past, but I come to pay tribute to a man that I met as a stranger at the beginning of this year, when a few of us who had never seen him before gathered together and clasped his hand for the first time we met in this city. There is but one thought that comes to my mind as I think of the good that he did to each of us. There is a hymn which we learned: ''Lead, Kindly Light.'' He was a leader not only among his own party, but he was a leader among men. Kindly was the beam of the eye and the clasp of that hand. We all know it. I can say no more. I but simply recall it as a light. It is a light that will shine for us the remainder of our days to everyone of us who have had the pleasure of meeting him.

We know that he was sincere. There may have been a difference of opinion at times, but when we meet a man who is sincere and honest like J. Calvin Meyer always to those who knew him, we know that it was a profit to have known such a man, and that is why I feel it incumbent upon me to pay a few words of tribute to his memory, as I can, owing to his sterling worth. As the poet has said:

> "God give us men! A time like this demands
> Strong minds, great hearts, true faith and ready hands;
> Men whom the lust of office does not kill;
> Men whom the spoils of office cannot buy;
> Men who possess opinions and a will;
> Men who have honor, men who will not lie;
> Men who can stand before a demagogue
> And dam his treacherous flatteries without winking,
> Tall men, sun crowned, who live above the fog
> In public duty and in private thinking!"

Mr. BENSON. Mr. Chairman and gentlemen of the House: It is with a profound sense of sorrow that I rise to-night to speak a few words in commemoration of the late J. Calvin Meyer, Representative from Centre County. My acquaintance with him dates back but to the time when he took his seat at the opening of this session, but during that short time his sincerity has won my greatest respect, his loyalty has won my confidence, his genial and wholesouled nature has won my lasting love. Others can more fittingly speak of the sterling qualities of his early life. I will only attempt in a few brief words to express my feeling of deep devotion to him the result of but a few months' acquaintance. His ability and sense of duty, his earnestness of purpose and unfaltering fidelity has marked his life with success. He was rich in that which is most sought on this earth, and without which a life is desolate—the respect and love of his fellow-men.

While firm in his convictions and true to every trust, never have I found a trace of unreasonable aggressiveness or harshness in Mr. Meyer's nature. I did not know him as an orator, but as a practical, substantial business man, with a world of good, sound reason. His usefulness to his State and those who chose him as their representative has been his quiet, faithful service and strong sense of duty. What others might fail to accomplish by aggressive and heated debate he would win by his plain quiet reasoning, his candor, his honesty of purpose, and his ever cheerful but unassuming nature. There was much to be admired and loved in the man and little or nothing to call forth dislike or enmity. It is hard for me to realize that he has been summoned from us, that we are to be deprived forever on this earth of his wholesome presence, his kind words, and his cheerful face. Words fail to express the deep feeling of regret and sorrow the thought of his absence brings to me.

He leaves behind him a wealth of friends and true example of kindness, sincerity and devotion. His life spread happiness and good cheer about him; his death makes a void that cannot be filled.

The real qualities of a man can best be measured by considering the effect his death would have. Our dear colleague will long be mourned by all who knew him. We now can best realize his value to mankind, what his presence has meant to us. He possessed those qualities of man that are lasting—sincerity, kindness, constancy and devotion.

O! not in cruelty, not in wrath,
The reaper came that day.
'Twas an angel visited the grim earth,
And took the flowers away.

Rev. DAVID. SPEER. May I ask that we bow our heads in unexpressed thought and silent prayer (after a period of profound silence Rev. Mr. Ferguson delivered the following prayer):

Almighty God, Our Heavenly Father, we pray that our spirits may bow in humble recognition to Thee in every way, and we bow with submission to Thy will concerning us. One has fallen and gone, and we are left to gather lessons from his life; lessons from the beautiful expressions of sympathy and interest in his life. Grant that we may carry the love of God with us, and that we may have an inspiration to so live this life as he lived it, and cherish the love and the faith and the hope that he enjoyed. Bless this service to our good; bless the vacant chair at home and heal the wounded hearts, and grant that we may so live and order our lives that when our time comes to fall that our end may be like his. We ask it all in Christ's name, Amen.

The Speaker (JOHN F. COX) in the Chair.

Mr. GEORGE GRAY BARNARD being introduced by the Speaker, addressed the House.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE TO ARRANGE THE PROGRAM FOR RECEIVING THE BARNARD STATUES.

The SPEAKER. It is the intention within the near future to arrange for the formal acceptance of the statues. The Governor has very kindly consented to make an address receiving the statues. Any arrangements of this kind so far as the details are concerned should arise in this House and I, therefore, take the liberty of appointing a committee of three of the members to arrange the program and fix the dates. I might also add that in addition to Mr. Barnard there will be present his aged father and mother to see their son crowned the modern Michael Angelo of this country. The Chair appoints on this committee the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Dearden; the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Hess, and the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Ulerich, whose duty will be to arrange the date and details.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 641, entitled:

An act to repeal an act entitled "An Act to exempt pianos melodeons and organs leased or hired from levy or sale on execution or distress for rent" approved the thirteenth day of May Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six and also an act supplementary to an act entitled "An Act to exempt pianos melodeons and organs leased or hired from levy or sale on execution or distress for rent" approved the twenty-eighth day of April Anno Domini one thuosand eight hundred and ninety-nine

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, owing to the absence of the author of this bill, I move that the further consideration of it be postponed for the present.

Mr. KEISTER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 643, entitled:

An act to repeal an act entitled "An Act exempting soda water apparatus and appurtenances thereto leased hired or conditionally sold from levy or sale on execution or distress for rent approved the third day of May Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and nine

On the question.

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, owing to the absence of the author of this bill, I move that the further consideration of it be postponed for the present.

Mr. KEISTER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

REASONS FOR POSTPONING BILLS.

Mr. MARVIN. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, the author of these two bills, House Bills Nos. 641 and 643, is sick in the hospital, and I think it an unfair advantage to take of him to postpone these bills without his consent.

Mr. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, it is understood by the author of these bills that amendments were to be made to both bills, and that matter has not been attended to, hence the postponement.

The SPEAKER. These bills have been postponed by the House on a motion. There is nothing before the House.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 649, entitled:

An act relative to the granting of licenses in cities of the first class for the sale of vinous spiritious malt or brewed liquors and fixing the proportion of the number of such licenses to the number of the inhabitants thereof

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That hereafter exclusive of licenses to inns or hotels having at least one hundred guest rooms the number of licenses to sell vinous spirituous malt or brewed liquors at retail in cities of the first class shall not exceed the proportion of one license to each seven hundred and seventy-five inhabitants of such city as ascertained by the Federal or State census last preceding the granting of such licenses

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the author of this bill.

The SPEAKER Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Riebel, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RIEBEL. I will.

Mr. S. B SCOTT. I would like to know what is the purpose of this bill?

Mr. RIEBEL. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of this bill is simply to prevent the judges from granting additional licenses in cities of the first class, which includes the city of Philadelphia.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. The purpose of the bill as it was explained seems a laudable one, but for cautionary purposes I intend to vote "no."

The question, recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

An act to amend section three of an act entitled "An Act relating t insolvency embracing among other matters voluntary assignments fo the benefit of creditors forbidding also certain preferences providing fo the distribution of insolvent's estate and in certain contingencies re lieving him and others liable with him from further liability from hi or their debts" approved June fourth one thousand nine hundred an one

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. DERSHEM. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Bradford, Mr. Lafferty, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LAFFERTY. I will.

Mr. DERSHEM. I would like to know what is the purpose of this bill?

Mr. LAFFERTY. This is an amendment to section three of an act. As the law stands to-day it causes a great deal of confusion and a great deal of injustice to thousands of business men doing business throughout the State of Pennsylvania. Under the present law a man making an assignment can give a judgment note that is not worth the paper upon which it is written. The man making the assignment has three hundred dollars set aside for himself and the man who got the judgment note has no redress.

The question recurring,

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was not agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on second reading?

Mr. CLARENCY. Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Clarency.

Mr. CLARENCY. Mr. Speaker, I don't know whether the House understands this bill or not, but this is the bill in regard to which this House has been deluged by letters in regard to the three per cent. proposition. It is just a shade better by making it two per cent. If the author of this bill will offer an amendment to strike out this proposition and make it just as it is at the present I have no objection to it, but I have an objection to the bill the way it is now. I hope the House will vote it down.

Mr. WILLIAM WARD, Jr. Mr. Speaker, I have some amendments which I desire to offer.

Mr. HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I don't believe that the members of the House understand the amendments that have been made to this bill. The bill has been amended. I think if you will read the amendment you will be entirely satisfied. I hope the House will let it go to third reading and pass it on second reading at this time. If you desire to vote it down it is your privilege to do so.

Mr. HENRY. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman who is the author of this bill has made amendments to it which are satisfactory to those of us who were opposed to the taxation of mutual fire insurance companies that didn't have any capital stock and they didn't have agents. Therefore it appears to me that the bill as amended should pass second reading.

Mr. CLARENCY. Mr. Speaker, this bill is not satisfactory to all the interests. It imposes a two per cent. tax on the home fire insurance companies, to which they object.

Mr. HOWARD. This House has always stood for fair play. I see no reason why this bill should be voted down without reading the amendments to this bill which have been made. It is not fair to take it off the calendar. The bill is all right. I know that if you will read the amendment which has been put in and on which the Insurance Department has passed you will not vote it down; they have passe on all the amendments that we have put in.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, certainly the Hous does not appreciate the importance of this bill or it woul not proceed to vote it down without careful examinatio You can pass this bill now and defeat it on third reading if in the meantime you have examined it and desire to d so. If you will do that you will have plenty of time t examine it. There is no question but that something shoul be done by this House to correct the condition that exist in this State. There are a class of mutual companies forme which are not mutual companies, and they are doing a enormous business in the State of Pennsylvania—every on on the old-line plan. Because of the present law they escap taxation. In the city of Philadelphia they are manage under one set of men; there are eleven companies in on bunch; in another there are eight; in Harrisburg there ar from twelve to fourteen companies all owned by one se of men, and they have crawled in under the language of th old law. It seems to me that if the House understood thi question thoroughly it would not defeat this bill without thorough examination and full explanation. I have no interest in this bill whatever, but I say let the bill go throug second reading.

Mr. WILLIAM WARD, JR. Mr. Speaker, following th plea made by the gentleman from Cameron for fair play, I ask that section 24 be reconsidered.

Mr. HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I have no objection to an one offering any amendments on the third reading of thi bill. And as a matter of good faith I shall be glad to giv unanimous consent to such a proceeding on third reading.

Mr. WILCOX. Mr. Speaker, I am in favor of treatin every member of this House with courtesy. It seems to m that the favor asked for by the chairman of the Ways and Means Committee that you give this bill a chance on secon reading, and that a special hearing may be had when thi bill comes upon third reading, should be regarded especiall when he states to you that if you want to do so he will giv unanimous consent to it.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on second reading?

The ayes and nays were required by Mr. HOWARD and Mr. NORTH.
